Diehard "Ike" Supporters Refuse To Abandon Drive

Mass. Delegation Urged To Support Justice Douglas

[By The Associated Press]

A last ditch stop-Truman movement drove grimly ahead last night in the hope that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower can be drafted for the Democratic presidential nomination despite his refusal to take it.

New attention was thrown on the name of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas as a possible nominee with the same aim of sidetracking the President's ambitions for election.

In Massachusetts, all delegates to next week's nominating convention were urged to support Douglas. Letters were sent them by a committee headed by former United States Rep. Thomas H. Eliot. Eliot said Douglas had not authorized the action.

Douglas' name will be put before the convention, asserted Leon C. Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action. Henderson said in a statement that ADA still hopes Eisenhower can be persuaded to run.

In Illinois, an unofficial survey among members of the 60-vote delegation indicated Mr. Truman had gained strength after the latest Eisenhower disavowal of political ambitions, while some pro-Eisenhower delegates indicated a leaning to Douglas. Pro-Truman Illinois leaders discounted the Douglas talk then.

O'Mahoney Gets Support

One stop-Truman leader, William Ritchie, Nebrasko state Democratic chairman, said he will suggest Sen. O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, for the presidential nomination. O'Mahoney is a candidate for vice presidential nomination and a friend of Mr. Truman.

Although pre-convention caucuses still were scheduled by anti-Truman leaders, the President backers exultantly viewed the Eisenhower statesment as the clincher for Mr. Truman's nomination on the first ballot.

Eisenhower's "no!" was subjected to a close between-the-lines study by those who seek to draft him, looking for loopholes.

He said he couldn't take the nomination. They hoped, however, that he wouldn't refuse to run if chosen by the convention opening Monday.

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath seized the opportunity to call for party unity—for "proclaiming the achievements of our party and its leadership."

Mr. Truman, returning to Washington from Bolivar, Mo., had "no comment" on Eisenhower's statement. But aides said the President felt that the only formidable threat to a first ballot Truman nomination had been removed.

Roosevelt Renews Caucus Calls

Momentarily slowed, the Eisenhower bandwagon got going ahead in this way:

James Roosevelt, California state chairman and son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, declared the Democrats should nominate Eisenhower as a "national candidate."

He renewed the call for a caucus Saturday at Philadelphia of Democratic delegates to settle on a can-

Md. Delegation Maintains Solid Pro-Truman Front

BALTIMORE, July 6 (AP)—Maryland's delegation to the Democratic national convention, unruffled by the Eisenhower boom, is maintaining its solid pro-Truman front.

Reports from responsible political sources today were that the delegates are as staunchly behind Mr. Truman as when the state Democratic conclave pledged them to support the President more than a month ago.

Thus the pattern of Maryland Democrats' political aloofness from Dixie remained unchanged. It became marked when Gov. Lane, although chairman of the Southern Governor's Conference, refrained from any move that might be interpreted as support of the southern revolt against Mr. Truman's leadership.

STABBING VICTIM—Marsha Brill (above), 11, was stabbed fatally yesterday while bicycling with two playmates in a Northwest Baltimore suburb. Police arrested a negro in connection with the case. This picture was taken about four years ago.

Negro Arrested After Baltimore Girl, 11, Is Slain

Stabbed While Riding Bike With Playmates

BALTIMORE, July 6 (AP)—An 11-year-old girl was stabbed to death while bicycling with playmates today, and police took a negro into custody as he emerged from a woods in the area two hours later.

The playmates said it was a tall negro in a blue shirt and dungarees who darted out of the woods and chased Marsha Brill, a grocer's daughter.

Barbara Lee Sapperstein, 11, and her eight-year-old brother Alan, said the man pointed a knife at Marsha. Alan said it was a scout knife. Her sister described it only as "large."

Police believe the slayer stabbed Marsha as she sat on her bike. A bloody imprint of her hand was found on the road beside the vehicle.

Barbara and Alan said Marsha and the negro disappeared into the Northwest Baltimore woods. She came out a few moments later, bleeding from a wound in her chest.

Found Sitting By Roadside

Police took the man they arrested to a district police station and placed him in two lineups with about 20 other negroes rounded up in the area after the slaying.

Dr. Marvin M. Graham, a dentist, told police he was driving along the wooded section and saw the Sapperstein children coming along on their bikes, waving wildly to him. He drove past them, but stopped when he saw another bicycle in the middle of the avenue.

Then he saw Marsha sitting by the roadside. She was covered with blood.

"What's the matter," he asked the little girl.

"A colored man hit me," she cried.

"You mean he hit you with a knife?"

Dies In Hospital

The girl nodded as he carried her to his car. She died just after an ambulance had taken her to a hospital.

Mrs. Arthur W. Kluge and her daughter, Dorthea, residents of Bethlehem, Pa., who are visiting relatives here, met Barbara Sapperstein a few moments later running up a hill.

"Oh, stop," she called to them. "Please stop. Wait for me. A

Two Perish In Explosion At Seattle

Several Persons Reported Missing

SEATTLE, July 6—(AP)—A bomb-like blast that rocked Northwest Seattle's Ballard district just after closing time tonight demolished the Lyle Branchflower Company vitamin plant and killed two men.

One employe was injured and three or more were missing.

Coroner John P. Brill, Jr., said first estimates that some 35 workmen were in the plant when the explosion came at 5:35 p. m. (PDT) apparently were in error.

Allan Turer, a plant official, said 40 or 50 workers had left the structure at the end of the 5 p. m. shift.

Brill identified one of the dead as John Zengar and the other—tentatively—as Roland Stebbin, both employes at the plant. The bodies, found outside the plant gates, were burned beyond recognition.

The blast was heard and felt four to five miles from the Northwest Seattle community. Plate glass windows in Ballard stores were shattered. The Ballard bridge, crossing the Lake Washington ship canal some 50 feet from the plant, was covered with broken glass. Its deck is 60 feet above the ground level.

Six thousand gallons of an explosive solvent were stored in the plant. An hour after the flames were quelled police were holding crowds back in case of a possible second blast.

Fire swept over the wreckage in the wake of the explosion.

Smoke from flaming halibut liver oil piled hundreds of feet into the air.

A large piece of concrete was hurled from one wall of the building, ricocheted off the bridge and flew another 20 yards to cave in the side of a house across the street from the plant.

Steel Production Skids As Miners Fail To Show Up

PITTSBURGH, July 6 (AP)—Nearly a fourth of the nation's soft coal miners were idled today as 40,000 "captive" diggers protested lack of a contract and 46,000 others also stayed home.

Steel production started an immediate skid. The "captives" are owned by the steel companies who use their entire output.

Forty commercial mines in Western Pennsylvania, employing 11,000 diggers, were shut down in apparent sympathy walkouts. Another 35,000 miners failed to show up in West Virginia commercial pits.

The steel companies refused to sign the new mine contract because of its union shop provision which they say violates the Taft-Hartley Act.

The Taft-Hartley Act does not bar the union shop but requires that it be voted on in National Labor Relations Board elections. The United Mine Workers Union is ineligible to participate in NLRB elections because Union Leader John L. Lewis declined to sign non-Communist affidavits.

The captive miners were idle in six states—Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Alabma, Kentucky, Colorado and Utah.

The majority of the nation's 400,000 bituminous miners are employed by commercial pits, whose coal goes to homes and industries other than steel. Ending their annual 10-day vacation, the bulk of them renewed work under a new contract granting a $1-per-day pay boost and doubling to 20 cents their welfare fund royalty on a ton of coal.

Steel companies affected by the shutdown included United States Steel, Republic, Bethlehem, Inland, Weirton, Wheeling, Geneva, Jones and Laughlin, and American Rolling Mill Company.

Losing 55,000 tons of coal daily in Pennsylvania alone, the United States Steel Corporation announced banking of at least eight blast furnaces and 28 open hearths. Its Bessemer output at Youngstown, O., was sliced 50 per cent.

Thirty-five thousand commercial miners failed to show up in West Virginia, but they were described as merely slow in starting after a vacation.

Britain Signs Economic Co-Operation Agreement

LONDON, July 6. (AP)—Great Britain signed an economic co-operation agreement with the United States tonight.

Less than an hour after the House of Commons had approved it, Ernest Bevin, Foreign Secretary, signed for his country. It will receive about $1,200,000,000 during the first year of the Marshall Plan

Lewis Douglas, American ambassador, signed for the United States.

Russian Communists Reject Yugoslav Bid

Albania Reported Taking Measures To Guard Frontier

LONDON, Wednesday, July 7 (AP)—Premier-Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Communists got two hard answers early today to their defiance of the nine-nation Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform).

Russia's Communist Party said it has rejected an invitation to send a delegation to the Yugoslav Communist Congress opening in Belgrade July 21. The announcement was made here just before midnight through the Soviet news agency Tass and the Moscow radio.

An hour later, Tass reported little Albania defied Yugoslav warnings that she must resume economic relations with her bigger neighbor or face the consequences.

The Yugoslav Communist Party placed itself "outside the family of Communist Parties," the Russian communique said, by its refusal to attend a Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform) meeting in Romania last month. At that meeting, other members of the nine-nation Cominform discussed Tito's alleged deviations from the Marxist line.

The Central Committee of the Russian Communist Party, which Stalin has served as general secretary since 1922, thus repeated in almost identical words a charge in the original Cominform blast at Tito.

The Russians implied that the situation remains the same — the Yugoslav Communists have not repented of their "Trotskyist" actions charged by the Cominform and, therefore, still are not welcome back into the Communist fold.

The Tass dispatch from Tirana, capital of Albania, said the Albanians were taking "strong measures" to guard their frontiers with Yugoslavia and Greece against "hostile elements."

The Cominform's original blast against Tito and the Yugoslav Communist Party said the Yugoslavs, by their actions, had placed themselves "outside the family of the brotherly Communist parties." The Cominform called on the "healthy forces" within the Yugoslav party to force party leaders to mend their ways. If this fails, the Cominform

Demos Undecided Whether To Urge Labor Act Repeal

Platform Drafters Facing Headaches

PHILADELPHIA, July 6. (AP)—Democrat platform writers faced this headache as they arrived here today: Whether to pledge repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The labor plank of the 1948 platform, though not so explosive a subject as the civil rights plank, will stir up some arguments in the party's resolutions committee which starts hearings tomorrow.

The CIO, represented by Secretary James Carey, and the AFL, represented by President William Green, will ask the committee—later in the week—to go on record for the wiping out of the labor law.

Democrats who want to pledge repeal say:

That President Truman vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill and strongly condemned it a year ago. That it became law only after the Republican-dominated Congress overrode his veto.

Disadvantages Seen

That the law bears the names of two Republicans and has become known as a Republican measure. A Democrat pledge to repeal it would not only please labor leaders but it would fit in with Mr. Truman's campaign strategy of blasting the record of the 80th Congress.

On the other hand—many other Democrats say there would be political disadvantages in pledging repeal.

The Democrats, who are at their strongest in the big cities and among industrial workers, want to capture as large a proportion of the farm, rural, and small city vote as possible. Maybe a pledge of repeal would displease some non-labor groups.

Also, more Democrats voted for the Taft-Hartley bill than against it. That fact doesn't fit in with a pledge of repeal.

Western Allies Call On Moscow To Lift Blockade Of Berlin

Take Serious View Of Crisis; European Security Talks Open

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France today called on the Russian government itself to lift the blockade of Berlin. They warned the Kremlin that the Western Powers take an extremely serious view of the German crisis.

At the same time the western nations began a series of conferences designed to produce a formula for American military support to the Western European Union.

The double-punch technique employed by Secretary of State Marshall in the two latest moves in the cold war possibly was arranged to impress this upon the soviets: The Western Powers are determined not to back down in Berlin or anywhere else but rather to get about the job of organizing their own strength without further delay.

Marshall Delays Physical Exam

To take a personal role in the new developments, Marshall delayed until tomorrow a scheduled physical examination at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital and came to his State Department office today.

His decision to do this evidently followed a final agreement among the United States, Britain and France that, since the efforts of the three Western Powers to get the Berlin blockade lifted by action in Berlin itself had failed, a direct approach to Moscow had to be made.

The three governments agreed that they would send separate but similar notes to Moscow. This allowed the French, if they wished, to soften the wording of their declaration—and the United States to take as tough a position as it desired.

Marshall summoned Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin to his office at 11 o'clock (EDT) this morning. Panyushkin, just back from a weekend in the country, sent word that he would be unable to get there until 11:30. He was escorted into the office by State Department Counsellor Charles E. Bohlen, who speaks Russian and is one of Marshall's top experts on the USSR.

14-Minute Conference

The Panyushkin conference lasted only 14 minutes. When the Ambassador came out he would tell newsmen only that he had received a note from Marshall and that he did not know what was in it. He said that Marshall had not discussed the Berlin situation with him.

Later, Press Officer Lincoln White announced that Panyushkin "was given a note regarding the situation in Berlin." White said Marshall told him the note would be kept secret "until the Soviet government had a reasonable period of time to study the note and make its reply."

Soviets Tighten Blockade; Russian Plot Reported

BERLIN, July 6 (AP)—The Russians stopped the truck export of food and other essential commodities to Western Berlin from the Russian sector today, western-licensed newspapers reported.

This action apparently steered the Berlin crisis toward a climax. It came as the United States, Britain and France lodged a strong protest with Moscow against the Soviet land blockade of Western Berlin.

And it coincided with a disclosure by the French Foreign Office that it had received from the British Embassy documentary evidence of a Russian plot to drive the Western Allies from Berlin. The Americans took no extra precautions, however

Western Berlins air lifeline to the west was interrupted today by bad weather. But by noon the air over

Truman Returns To Washington

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—President Truman returned to Washington tonight to await what he apparently believes will be his first ballot nomination by the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia.

Presidential aides said Mr. Truman was convinced Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's statement that he could not accept nomination to public office removed the only possible dangerous obstacle to his selection for the 1948 presidential race.

Mr. Truman himself had nothing to say on Eisenhower's action as he returned from Bolivar, Mo., where he spoke yesterday at the dedication of a statue to Simon Bolivar, South American liberator.

The Presidential train arrived in Washington's Union Station at 8:35 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. Truman immediately boarded a waiting automobile for a quick drive to the White House. He was accompanied by his appointment secretary, Mathew J. Connelly.

The Chief Executive declined to talk about Gen. Eisenhower's latest statement that he could not accept nomination for public office. But associates aboard the presidential special train made no effort to conceal their relief over this change in the Democratic political picture.

They said it bore out their contention that the former chief of staff is a Republican and would not take part in the movement to sidetrack the President.

Man Soaks Auto With Gas, Burns Himself To Death

DETROIT, July 6 (AP) — A grocery chain manager soaked his car with gasoline, then calmly struck a match and burned himself to death, a 36-year-old woman employe said police today.

The dead man was Leo Dixon, 42, district manager for a grocery chain.

The woman, Miss Emma Balog, manager of a store in the chain, was treated for burns received in trying to pull Dixon from the blazing auto.

Police said Dixon bought a two-gallon can of gasoline, poured it on himself and on the car's cushions, got in the back seat and struck a match.

U. S. Navy Vessels Abruptly Leave Istanbul, Naples

Get Urgent Orders; Destination Mystery

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 6 (AP) — Acting on urgent orders, American warships sailed out of Istanbul and Naples harbors under forced draft today with their destination a mystery.

Varying reports had them headed for Palestine and Trieste, both of them Mediterranean trouble spots, and Crete.

(In Washington, the Navy said the ships' departures have "absolutely nothing to do with Palestine.")

Truce "Breach" Reported

One informed source here refused any specific information, saying only that the Navy decided it would be wiser if the ships were at sea. He refused comment on reports that the departure was caused by a "serious breach" of the Palestine truce and that evacuations might be required.

Three cruisers of the Sixth Task Fleet, commanded by Vice Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, sailed this morning after the Palau lifted anchor.

Informed sources said the cruisers Dargo, Huntington and Juneau had orders to lie off the island of Crete "awaiting developments."

The ships had been scheduled to leave tomorrow but Adm. Sherman changed his plans following receipt of what was described as several urgent cables from the United States Atlantic Naval Command in London.

The four warships leaving Naples were the aircraft carrier Kersarge and the destroyers Meredith, O'Hare and J. C. Owens.

They sailed in a southerly direction but authorities in Rome refused to speculate on their destination. A Naples report said special shore patrols scurried through that city at midnight to round up sailors. At least 10 sailors were reported left behind.

From Nice, on France's Riviera, the aircraft carrier Coral Sea sailed for Gibraltar and the battleship Missouri for Algiers. The destroyers Dyess and Bordelon accompanied the Coral Sea and the destroyers Leary and Vesole were with the Missouri. The ships will assemble off Gibraltar in five days and sail for Cuba and the United States.

Main Highway Blocked; Clash Breaks Truce

Two U. S. Marines Driving U. N. Trucks Fired On By Arabs

TEL AVIV, Israel, July 6 (AP)—The main Tel Aviv-Haifa highway was blocked tonight by a heavy battle between Jewish and Arab troops. The clash occurred as Count Folke Bernadotte traveled from Tel Aviv to Cairo in an attempt to extend the uneasy Palestine truce.

Few details of the fighting 10 miles south of Haifa were available here. Two United States marine driving United Nations truce team trucks were turned back by Arabs who fired on them for 40 minutes before they waved a white flag to end the shooting.

Private Charles Phalen, 19, Bluefield, W. Va., and Private Lewis Taylor, 19, Jackson, Miss., said they were forced to pull their trucks into a ditch and crawl for cover under rifle and machine-gun fire from Arabs dominating the road between Tireh and Jara. This occurred about noon.

There was no official indication how seriously Jewish authorities here regarded the highway clash. Telephone lines between the two cities were cut.

Cameraman Fired On

William K. McClure, Pathe News camerman who drove from Haifa to Tel Aviv late today on a road bypassing the battle, said his automobile was fired on by Arabs about 20 miles south of Haifa.

Phalen, whose white-painted United Nations truck was hit by an Arab bullet, said he saw more than 100 armed Arabs on both sides of the main road.

"We'd been told by a Jewish policeman the road was clear, but when we got about 75 yards from a bus, two trucks and a car burning on the road, the Arabs opened up," Phalen told newsmen.

"Taylor and I drove our trucks into a ditch and jumped for cover, but heavy firing continued for 40 minutes."

Phalen said the firing died down and he waved a white flag which had been mounted on the truck. Most Arabs who approached wore no kind of uniform, he added.

Phalen said an English speaking Arab leader, about 19 or 20 years old, finally agreed to let the trucks turn around and return to Tel Aviv.

King Farouk In Gaza

"We're not going to let anyone through," Phalen quoted the Arab as saying.

The marine said the Arab leader claimed the firing on the highway began when 20 Jewish soldiers on a bus stopped and detained two local Arabs walking along the road. This could not be confirmed by Jewish army sources in Tel Aviv.

Another United Nations driver, Marine Private William C. Canipe, Shelby, N. C., said his truck was fired on when he approached an Egyptian army road block near Gaza. Canipe said his truck, carrying supplies for a United Nations truce team at Gaza, was allowed to proceed.

Canipe said hundreds of Arabs and Egyptian soldiers crowded Gaza's streets and cheered King Farouk of Egypt. This was the first indication Farouk was in Gaza.

PAWLING, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will make election campaign speeches in North Carolina and Maryland, a spokesman said today.

Actress' Suicide Blamed On Financial Instability

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP) — Unhappiness in love and financial instability were ascribed by friends of Carole Landis tonight as motivating forces in her suicide.

Her sudden death, which Det. Capt. Emmett Jones said was "definitely a suicide," was a shock to Hollywood. Many other actors and actresses have taken their lives because of unhappiness and financial reverses.

But Carole Landis seemed to Hollywood to be an extreme extrovert. Long, a popular actress, she had kept fairly busy in pictures since she was discovered in a San Francisco night club and billed as the movies' first sweater girl.

She had been married four times. Her lawyer said she had effected a "satisfactory settlement" with W. Horace Schmidlapp, New York theatrical producer, husband No. 4, whom she sued for divorce last March 22. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed, but recent actions of the actress indicated, studio sources said, that she was faced with a financial stringency.

She had been negotiating for the sale of her mortgaged home. She had asked for an advance from her studio on a movie she was to start next week. Movie sources disclosed that she had bought lavishly in recent years and that many of her accounts were long overdue.

Members of her family said, however, they were at a loss to explain her act. Her brother, Lawrence B. Ridste, San Bernardino, said he would question Rex Harrison, British actor, about his association with Miss Landis.

The actress' grief-stricken mother, who had remained in seclusion overnight in the Riviera estates home where Carol died, told newsmen today that her daughter had been living beyond her means.

Harrison found Miss Landis' body yesterday in the bathroom of her home. She had taken an overdose of sleeping pills.

Funeral arrangements were being made for Thursday.

Long Island Bride Hits $17,000 Radio Jackpot

NEW YORK, July 6 (INS)—A Long Island, N. Y., bride was showered with $17,000 in prizes on the CBS "Hit the Jackpot" quiz show tonight although she failed in two of the four qualifying questions.

Mrs. Margaret Hohl Shelley's bonanza came when she correctly identified a recorded garbled code as meaning "23 Skidoo."

CBS at first said that Mrs. Shelley announced that she had obtained the winning answer from Columnist Walter Winchell. Winchell had carried the answer atop his column this morning.

Later, Mrs. Shelley said:

"No one gave me the answer. I have been hoping for two weeks that I would be called on because I had figured it out for myself."

The network, in making public the details of tonight's show, said at first that Mrs. Shelley is a resident of Oakland, Calif. A short time later CBS said she lives at Gibson, Long Island, and is a former resident of Oakland.

For answering the jackpot question—which had defied contestants for nine weeks—Mrs. Shelley received:

A new automobile, a trailer-coach, a two-week vacation in Bermuda, complete living room and kitchen, $1,000 diamond ring, $1,000 wrist watch, a sailboat, a motorcycle, a piano, a television and radio set, seven customed tailored men's suits, overcoats and topcoats, 52 men's shirts, an oil painting of herself and a silver fox fur coat.

In the preliminary Mrs. Hohl failed to answer correctly two of the four questions but managed to qualify for the jackpot because a male contestant playing the role of "challenger" did not know that they were wrong.

Two Perish In Explosion At Seattle

Several Persons Reported Missing

SEATTLE, July 6—(AP)—A bomb-like blast that rocked Northwest Seattle's Ballard district just after closing time tonight demolished the Lyle Branchflower Company vitamin plant and killed two men.

One employe was injured and three or more were missing.

Coroner John P. Brill, Jr., said first estimates that some 35 workmen were in the plant when the explosion came at 5:35 p. m. (PDT) apparently were in error.

Allan Turer, a plant official, said 40 or 50 workers had left the structure at the end of the 5 p. m. shift.

Brill identified one of the dead as John Zengar and the other—tentatively—as Roland Stebbin, both employes at the plant. The bodies, found outside the plant gates, were burned beyond recognition.

The blast was heard and felt four to five miles from the Northwest Seattle community. Plate glass windows in Ballard stores were shattered. The Ballard bridge, crossing the Lake Washington ship canal some 50 feet from the plant, was covered with broken glass. Its deck is 60 feet above the ground level.

Six thousand gallons of an explosive solvent were stored in the plant. An hour after the flames were quelled police were holding crowds back in case of a possible second blast.

Fire swept over the wreckage in the wake of the explosion.

Smoke from flaming halibut liver oil piled hundreds of feet into the air.

Steel Production Skids As Miners Fail To Show Up

PITTSBURGH, July 6 (AP)—Nearly a fourth of the nation's soft coal miners were idled today as 40,000 "captive" diggers protested lack of a contract and 46,000 others also stayed home.

Steel production started an immediate skid. The "captives" are owned by the steel companies who use their entire output.

Forty commercial mines in Western Pennsylvania, employing 11,000 diggers, were shut down in apparent sympathy walkouts. Another 35,000 miners failed to show up in West Virginia commercial pits.

The steel companies refused to sign the new mine contract because of its union shop provision which they say violates the Taft-Hartley Act.

The Taft-Hartley Act does not bar the union shop but requires that it be voted on in National Labor Relations Board elections. The United Mine Workers Union is ineligible to participate in NLRB elections because Union Leader John L. Lewis declined to sign non-Communist affidavits.

The captive miners were idle in six states—Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Alabma, Kentucky, Colorado and Utah.

The majority of the nation's 400,000 bituminous miners are employed by commercial pits, whose coal goes to homes and industries other than steel. Ending their annual 10-day vacation, the bulk of them renewed work under a new contract granting a $1-per-day pay boost and doubling to 20 cents their welfare fund royalty on a ton of coal.

Steel companies affected by the shutdown included United States Steel, Republic, Bethlehem, Inland, Weirton, Wheeling, Geneva, Jones and Laughlin, and American Rolling Mill Company.

Losing 55,000 tons of coal daily in Pennsylvania alone, the United States Steel Corporation announced banking of at least eight blast furnaces and 28 open hearths. Its Bessemer output at Youngstown, O., was sliced 50 per cent.

Thirty-five thousand commercial miners failed to show up in West Virginia, but they were described as merely slow in starting after a vacation.

Britain Signs Economic Co-Operation Agreement

LONDON, July 6. (AP)—Great Britain signed an economic co-operation agreement with the United States tonight.

Less than an hour after the House of Commons had approved it, Ernest Bevin, Foreign Secretary, signed for his country. It will receive about $1,200,000,000 during the first year of the Marshall Plan

Lewis Douglas, American ambassador, signed for the United States.

Russian Communists Reject Yugoslav Bid

Albania Reported Taking Measures To Guard Frontier

LONDON, Wednesday, July 7 (AP)—Premier-Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Communists got two hard answers early today to their defiance of the nine-nation Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform).

Russia's Communist Party said it has rejected an invitation to send a delegation to the Yugoslav Communist Congress opening in Belgrade July 21. The announcement was made here just before midnight through the Soviet news agency Tass and the Moscow radio.

An hour later, Tass reported little Albania defied Yugoslav warnings that she must resume economic relations with her bigger neighbor or face the consequences.

The Yugoslav Communist Party placed itself "outside the family of Communist Parties," the Russian communique said, by its refusal to attend a Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform) meeting in Romania last month. At that meeting, other members of the nine-nation Cominform discussed Tito's alleged deviations from the Marxist line.

The Central Committee of the Russian Communist Party, which Stalin has served as general secretary since 1922, thus repeated in almost identical words a charge in the original Cominform blast at Tito.

The Russians implied that the situation remains the same — the Yugoslav Communists have not repented of their "Trotskyist" actions charged by the Cominform and, therefore, still are not welcome back into the Communist fold.

The Tass dispatch from Tirana, capital of Albania, said the Albanians were taking "strong measures" to guard their frontiers with Yugoslavia and Greece against "hostile elements."

The Cominform's original blast against Tito and the Yugoslav Communist Party said the Yugoslavs, by their actions, had placed themselves "outside the family of the brotherly Communist parties." The Cominform called on the "healthy forces" within the Yugoslav party to force party leaders to mend their ways. If this fails, the Cominform

Demos Undecided Whether To Urge Labor Act Repeal

Platform Drafters Facing Headaches

PHILADELPHIA, July 6. (AP)—Democrat platform writers faced this headache as they arrived here today: Whether to pledge repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The labor plank of the 1948 platform, though not so explosive a subject as the civil rights plank, will stir up some arguments in the party's resolutions committee which starts hearings tomorrow.

The CIO, represented by Secretary James Carey, and the AFL, represented by President William Green, will ask the committee—later in the week—to go on record for the wiping out of the labor law.

Democrats who want to pledge repeal say:

That President Truman vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill and strongly condemned it a year ago. That it became law only after the Republican-dominated Congress overrode his veto.

Disadvantages Seen

That the law bears the names of two Republicans and has become known as a Republican measure. A Democrat pledge to repeal it would not only please labor leaders but it would fit in with Mr. Truman's campaign strategy of blasting the record of the 80th Congress.

On the other hand—many other Democrats say there would be political disadvantages in pledging repeal.

The Democrats, who are at their strongest in the big cities and among industrial workers, want to capture as large a proportion of the farm, rural, and small city vote as possible. Maybe a pledge of repeal would displease some non-labor groups.

Also, more Democrats voted for the Taft-Hartley bill than against it. That fact doesn't fit in with a pledge of repeal.

Western Allies Call On Moscow To Lift Blockade Of Berlin

Take Serious View Of Crisis; European Security Talks Open

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France today called on the Russian government itself to lift the blockade of Berlin. They warned the Kremlin that the Western Powers take an extremely serious view of the German crisis.

At the same time the western nations began a series of conferences designed to produce a formula for American military support to the Western European Union.

The double-punch technique employed by Secretary of State Marshall in the two latest moves in the cold war possibly was arranged to impress this upon the soviets: The Western Powers are determined not to back down in Berlin or anywhere else but rather to get about the job of organizing their own strength without further delay.

Marshall Delays Physical Exam

To take a personal role in the new developments, Marshall delayed until tomorrow a scheduled physical examination at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital and came to his State Department office today.

His decision to do this evidently followed a final agreement among the United States, Britain and France that, since the efforts of the three Western Powers to get the Berlin blockade lifted by action in Berlin itself had failed, a direct approach to Moscow had to be made.

The three governments agreed that they would send separate but similar notes to Moscow. This allowed the French, if they wished, to soften the wording of their declaration—and the United States to take as tough a position as it desired.

Marshall summoned Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin to his office at 11 o'clock (EDT) this morning. Panyushkin, just back from a weekend in the country, sent word that he would be unable to get there until 11:30. He was escorted into the office by State Department Counsellor Charles E. Bohlen, who speaks Russian and is one of Marshall's top experts on the USSR.

14-Minute Conference

The Panyushkin conference lasted only 14 minutes. When the Ambassador came out he would tell newsmen only that he had received a note from Marshall and that he did not know what was in it. He said that Marshall had not discussed the Berlin situation with him.

Later, Press Officer Lincoln White announced that Panyushkin "was given a note regarding the situation in Berlin." White said Marshall told him the note would be kept secret "until the Soviet government had a reasonable period of time to study the note and make its reply."

Soviets Tighten Blockade; Russian Plot Reported

BERLIN, July 6 (AP)—The Russians stopped the truck export of food and other essential commodities to Western Berlin from the Russian sector today, western-licensed newspapers reported.

This action apparently steered the Berlin crisis toward a climax. It came as the United States, Britain and France lodged a strong protest with Moscow against the Soviet land blockade of Western Berlin.

And it coincided with a disclosure by the French Foreign Office that it had received from the British Embassy documentary evidence of a Russian plot to drive the Western Allies from Berlin. The Americans took no extra precautions, however

Western Berlins air lifeline to the west was interrupted today by bad weather. But by noon the air over

Truman Returns To Washington

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—President Truman returned to Washington tonight to await what he apparently believes will be his first ballot nomination by the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia.

Presidential aides said Mr. Truman was convinced Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's statement that he could not accept nomination to public office removed the only possible dangerous obstacle to his selection for the 1948 presidential race.

Mr. Truman himself had nothing to say on Eisenhower's action as he returned from Bolivar, Mo., where he spoke yesterday at the dedication of a statue to Simon Bolivar, South American liberator.

The Presidential train arrived in Washington's Union Station at 8:35 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. Truman immediately boarded a waiting automobile for a quick drive to the White House. He was accompanied by his appointment secretary, Mathew J. Connelly.

The Chief Executive declined to talk about Gen. Eisenhower's latest statement that he could not accept nomination for public office. But associates aboard the presidential special train made no effort to conceal their relief over this change in the Democratic political picture.

They said it bore out their contention that the former chief of staff is a Republican and would not take part in the movement to sidetrack the President.

Man Soaks Auto With Gas, Burns Himself To Death

DETROIT, July 6 (AP) — A grocery chain manager soaked his car with gasoline, then calmly struck a match and burned himself to death, a 36-year-old woman employe said police today.

The dead man was Leo Dixon, 42, district manager for a grocery chain.

The woman, Miss Emma Balog, manager of a store in the chain, was treated for burns received in trying to pull Dixon from the blazing auto.

Police said Dixon bought a two-gallon can of gasoline, poured it on himself and on the car's cushions, got in the back seat and struck a match.

U. S. Navy Vessels Abruptly Leave Istanbul, Naples

Get Urgent Orders; Destination Mystery

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 6 (AP) — Acting on urgent orders, American warships sailed out of Istanbul and Naples harbors under forced draft today with their destination a mystery.

Varying reports had them headed for Palestine and Trieste, both of them Mediterranean trouble spots, and Crete.

(In Washington, the Navy said the ships' departures have "absolutely nothing to do with Palestine.")

Truce "Breach" Reported

One informed source here refused any specific information, saying only that the Navy decided it would be wiser if the ships were at sea. He refused comment on reports that the departure was caused by a "serious breach" of the Palestine truce and that evacuations might be required.

Three cruisers of the Sixth Task Fleet, commanded by Vice Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, sailed this morning after the Palau lifted anchor.

Informed sources said the cruisers Dargo, Huntington and Juneau had orders to lie off the island of Crete "awaiting developments."

The ships had been scheduled to leave tomorrow but Adm. Sherman changed his plans following receipt of what was described as several urgent cables from the United States Atlantic Naval Command in London.

The four warships leaving Naples were the aircraft carrier Kersarge and the destroyers Meredith, O'Hare and J. C. Owens.

They sailed in a southerly direction but authorities in Rome refused to speculate on their destination. A Naples report said special shore patrols scurried through that city at midnight to round up sailors. At least 10 sailors were reported left behind.

From Nice, on France's Riviera, the aircraft carrier Coral Sea sailed for Gibraltar and the battleship Missouri for Algiers. The destroyers Dyess and Bordelon accompanied the Coral Sea and the destroyers Leary and Vesole were with the Missouri. The ships will assemble off Gibraltar in five days and sail for Cuba and the United States.

Main Highway Blocked; Clash Breaks Truce

Two U. S. Marines Driving U. N. Trucks Fired On By Arabs

TEL AVIV, Israel, July 6 (AP)—The main Tel Aviv-Haifa highway was blocked tonight by a heavy battle between Jewish and Arab troops. The clash occurred as Count Folke Bernadotte traveled from Tel Aviv to Cairo in an attempt to extend the uneasy Palestine truce.

Few details of the fighting 10 miles south of Haifa were available here. Two United States marine driving United Nations truce team trucks were turned back by Arabs who fired on them for 40 minutes before they waved a white flag to end the shooting.

Private Charles Phalen, 19, Bluefield, W. Va., and Private Lewis Taylor, 19, Jackson, Miss., said they were forced to pull their trucks into a ditch and crawl for cover under rifle and machine-gun fire from Arabs dominating the road between Tireh and Jara. This occurred about noon.

There was no official indication how seriously Jewish authorities here regarded the highway clash. Telephone lines between the two cities were cut.

Cameraman Fired On

William K. McClure, Pathe News camerman who drove from Haifa to Tel Aviv late today on a road bypassing the battle, said his automobile was fired on by Arabs about 20 miles south of Haifa.

Phalen, whose white-painted United Nations truck was hit by an Arab bullet, said he saw more than 100 armed Arabs on both sides of the main road.

"We'd been told by a Jewish policeman the road was clear, but when we got about 75 yards from a bus, two trucks and a car burning on the road, the Arabs opened up," Phalen told newsmen.

"Taylor and I drove our trucks into a ditch and jumped for cover, but heavy firing continued for 40 minutes."

Phalen said the firing died down and he waved a white flag which had been mounted on the truck. Most Arabs who approached wore no kind of uniform, he added.

Phalen said an English speaking Arab leader, about 19 or 20 years old, finally agreed to let the trucks turn around and return to Tel Aviv.

King Farouk In Gaza

"We're not going to let anyone through," Phalen quoted the Arab as saying.

The marine said the Arab leader claimed the firing on the highway began when 20 Jewish soldiers on a bus stopped and detained two local Arabs walking along the road. This could not be confirmed by Jewish army sources in Tel Aviv.

Another United Nations driver, Marine Private William C. Canipe, Shelby, N. C., said his truck was fired on when he approached an Egyptian army road block near Gaza. Canipe said his truck, carrying supplies for a United Nations truce team at Gaza, was allowed to proceed.

Canipe said hundreds of Arabs and Egyptian soldiers crowded Gaza's streets and cheered King Farouk of Egypt. This was the first indication Farouk was in Gaza.

Dewey Plans Campaign Address In Maryland

PAWLING, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will make election campaign speeches in North Carolina and Maryland, a spokesman said today.

The plan to invade the South shows the Republican presidential nominee will make a bid for votes in traditionally Democratic territory which has been critical of President Truman over the civil rights story.

The spokesman said dates and cities for the two addresses had not been fixed.

Actress' Suicide Blamed On Financial Instability

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP) — Unhappiness in love and financial instability were ascribed by friends of Carole Landis tonight as motivating forces in her suicide.

Her sudden death, which Det. Capt. Emmett Jones said was "definitely a suicide," was a shock to Hollywood. Many other actors and actresses have taken their lives because of unhappiness and financial reverses.

But Carole Landis seemed to Hollywood to be an extreme extrovert. Long, a popular actress, she had kept fairly busy in pictures since she was discovered in a San Francisco night club and billed as the movies' first sweater girl.

She had been married four times. Her lawyer said she had effected a "satisfactory settlement" with W. Horace Schmidlapp, New York theatrical producer, husband No. 4, whom she sued for divorce last March 22. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed, but recent actions of the actress indicated, studio sources said, that she was faced with a financial stringency.

She had been negotiating for the sale of her mortgaged home. She had asked for an advance from her studio on a movie she was to start next week. Movie sources disclosed that she had bought lavishly in recent years and that many of her accounts were long overdue.

Members of her family said, however, they were at a loss to explain her act. Her brother, Lawrence B. Ridste, San Bernardino, said he would question Rex Harrison, British actor, about his association with Miss Landis.

The actress' grief-stricken mother, who had remained in seclusion overnight in the Riviera estates home where Carol died, told newsmen today that her daughter had been living beyond her means.

Harrison found Miss Landis' body yesterday in the bathroom of her home. She had taken an overdose of sleeping pills.

Funeral arrangements were being made for Thursday.

Long Island Bride Hits $17,000 Radio Jackpot

NEW YORK, July 6 (INS)—A Long Island, N. Y., bride was showered with $17,000 in prizes on the CBS "Hit the Jackpot" quiz show tonight although she failed in two of the four qualifying questions.

Mrs. Margaret Hohl Shelley's bonanza came when she correctly identified a recorded garbled code as meaning "23 Skidoo."

CBS at first said that Mrs. Shelley announced that she had obtained the winning answer from Columnist Walter Winchell. Winchell had carried the answer atop his column this morning.

Later, Mrs. Shelley said:

"No one gave me the answer. I have been hoping for two weeks that I would be called on because I had figured it out for myself."

The network, in making public the details of tonight's show, said at first that Mrs. Shelley is a resident of Oakland, Calif. A short time later CBS said she lives at Gibson, Long Island, and is a former resident of Oakland.

For answering the jackpot question—which had defied contestants for nine weeks—Mrs. Shelley received:

A new automobile, a trailer-coach, a two-week vacation in Bermuda, complete living room and kitchen, $1,000 diamond ring, $1,000 wrist watch, a sailboat, a motorcycle, a piano, a television and radio set, seven customed tailored men's suits, overcoats and topcoats, 52 men's shirts, an oil painting of herself and a silver fox fur coat.

In the preliminary Mrs. Hohl failed to answer correctly two of the four questions but managed to qualify for the jackpot because a male contestant playing the role of "challenger" did not know that they were wrong.

Md. Delegation Maintains Solid Pro-Truman Front

BALTIMORE, July 6 (AP)—Maryland's delegation to the Democratic national convention, unruffled by the Eisenhower boom, is maintaining its solid pro-Truman front.

Reports from responsible political sources today were that the delegates are as staunchily behind Mr. Truman as when the state Democratic conclave pledged them to support the President more than a month ago.

Thus the pattern of Maryland Democrats' political aloofness from Dixie remained unchanged. It became marked when Gov. Lane, although chairman of the Southern Governor's Conference, refrained from any move that might be interpreted as support of the southern revolt against Mr. Truman's leadership.

'Ike' Says U.S. Has World Kinship

NEW YORK, July 6—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that Americans should "recognize kinship with all the world and conduct government in that concept."

He addressed students at the 49th Columbia University session after flatly disavowing political ambitions last night with a statement that he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

Speaking to an estimated 10,000 persons from the steps of Low Memorial Library, the new president of Columbia said:

"The other governments of the Americas and Western Europe where men remain free are related to us and we have a common interest with them."

Eisenhower told the summer session students, "You came here fundamentally to make this country a better place for you and your children and those who come after you.

"The American Army and all of this country's armed services have existed from the beginning not only to protect life and property but a way of life.

"Such men as Washington, Jackson, Pershing and Grant have done it in uniform. Others, like Jefferson, Marshall and Lincoln, have done it in civilian actviities. We are engaged in the same struggle they fought to accomplish and gave their lives for."

said, the leaders should be replaced.

Since then, Tito's party has noisily defended its position and kept up a running fire of reports of support for Tito from Communist elements within Yugoslavia and from its diplomats abroad.

The Yugoslav party's two latest moves were an appeal to Prime Minister Stalin, over the head of the Cominform, to help it back to a high place in the Communist world and an invitation, again ignoring the Cominform, for delegations of foreign Communist parties to attend the Yugoslav Party Congress.

The Russian party indicated its attitude last Thursday night by announcing that its Central Committee had approved the Cominform report censuring Tito. Tonight's announcement appeared not only to underline this attitude, but to reject the appeal to Stalin.

Holiday Safety Showing Is Poorest Since 1941

[By The Associated Press]

The three-day Fourth of July weekend brought violent death to at least 571 persons.

The overall safety showing was the poorest since 1941 and the third worst in 20 years.

A final survey showed these violent deaths occurred from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday and Monday midnight:

Traffic 306, drownings 192, fireworks four and miscellaneous causes 69

The overall total was exceeded by the record total of 628 in 1941 and 596 in 1939.

The traffic toll was the third highest in 20 years—exceeded only by the 1941 toll of 384 and the 1937 toll of 310.

All 16 Aboard Wrecked U. S. Plane Found Dead

ORIZABA, Mex., July 6 (AP)—Gen. Alejo Gonzalez said tonight all 16 persons aboard a wrecked United States plane on Orizaba peak are dead.

Eight Americans and eight Mexicans were aboard.

The General, attached to the United States-Mexico Foot and Mouth Disease Commission, said eight of the bodies were burned and were near the plane and the eight others were scattered about it.

He said the main rescue expedition reached the scene at 11 a. m. today. Two hours later after legal formalities had been concluded, a start was made at bringing down the bodies.

Roosevelt reasoned that Eisenhower "will not serve as a partisan president but will answer a call to national duty."

What Eisenhower said Monday night was that he "could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contests."

Sen. Johnston, of South Carolina, moved to hurl the issue into the National Executive Committee at Philadelphia Saturday. He said he will offer a resolution instructing McGrath to ask Mr. Truman to withdraw for the nomination race in favor of Eisenhower.

Johnston also observed that James Roosevelt might be a good teammate for Eisenhower "because his name is Roosevelt."

Jacob M. Arvey, Chicago party chairman, said he believes if Eisenhower is drafted he won't refuse to serve his country.

Proposal To License Fur Trappers, Buyers To Be Given State Council

BALTIMORE, July 6 (AP)—The Legislative Council opens a three-day session here tomorrow and will receive among other proposals one for a law to require licensing of fur trappers and buyers.

The State Game and Inland Fish Commission will present its legislative recommendations tomorrow afternoon. The morning council session will be devoted to the report of a committee on more equitable representation in the General Assembly.

For trapping and buying have heretofore been without special licenses.

The commission said it would also ask that the law provide for an annual game kill report. Although Maryland's pelt take reaches a $2,000,000 value annually, trappers now need not report the bag, and the commission has no exact figures.

The agency also will ask for power to put emergency regulations into effect immediately instead of the present legal waiting period of at least 21 days.

Spokesmen for Maryland barbers are to present their proposals to the council Thursday afternoon. Committee meetings are scheduled for Thursday morning and two business sessions on Friday.

Two Reported Killed In N.Y. Bus Accident

BATAVIA, N. Y., July 6 (AP) — A Greyhound bus burned after an accident on Route 5, tonight, and state police said two persons were killed.

Eight injured persons were brought to hospitals here.

A Greyhound dispatcher said the bus left Buffalo at 5:50 p. m., EDT, bound for New York City by Scranton, Pa.

The accident happened at about 7 o'clock near Pembroke, some 18 miles west of Batavia.

Names of the dead and one of the injured were not immediately learned.

'Ike' Says U.S. Has World Kinship

NEW YORK, July 6—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that Americans should "recognize kinship with all the world and conduct government in that concept."

He addressed students at the 49th Columbia University session after flatly disavowing political ambitions last night with a statement that he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

Speaking to an estimated 10,000 persons from the steps of Low Memorial Library, the new president of Columbia said:

"The other governments of the Americas and Western Europe where men remain free are related to us and we have a common interest with them."

Eisenhower told the summer session students, "You came here fundamentally to make this country a better place for you and your children and those who come after you.

"The American Army and all of this country's armed services have existed from the beginning not only to protect life and property but a way of life.

"Such men as Washington, Jackson, Pershing and Grant have done it in uniform. Others, like Jefferson, Marshall and Lincoln, have done it in civilian activities. We are engaged in the same struggle they fought to accomplish and gave their lives for."

said, the leaders should be replaced.

Since then, Tito's party has noisily defended its position and kept up a running fire of reports of support fo. Tito from Communist elements within Yugoslavia and from its diplomats abroad.

The Yugoslav party's two latest moves were an appeal to Prime Minister Stalin, over the head of the Cominform, to help it back to a high place in the Communist world and an invitation, again ignoring the Cominform, for delegations of foreign Communist parties to attend the Yugoslav Party Congress.

The Russian party indicated its attitude last Thursday night by announcing that its Central Committee had approved the Cominform report censuring Tito. Tonight's announcement appeared not only to underline this attitude, but to reject the appeal to Stalin.

colored man is stabbing little Marsha."

Every police cruiser in the city was dispatched to the scene, on Glen Avenue between Cross Country Boulevard and Park Heights Avenue.

Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson said he had more than 250 officers working in the search. They were scouring the neighborhood for the knife.

Holiday Safety Showing Is Poorest Since 1941

[By The Associated Press]

The three-day Fourth of July weekend brought violent death to at least 571 persons.

The overall safety showing was the poorest since 1941 and the third worst in 20 years.

A final survey showed these violent deaths occurred from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday and Monday midnight:

Traffic 306, drownings 192, fireworks four and miscellaneous causes 69

The overall total was exceeded by the record total of 628 in 1941 and 596 in 1939.

The traffic toll was the third highest in 20 years—exceeded only by the 1941 toll of 384 and the 1937 toll of 310.

All 16 Aboard Wrecked U. S. Plane Found Dead

ORIZABA, Mex., July 6 (AP)—Gen. Alejo Gonzalez said tonight all 16 persons aboard a wrecked United States plane on Orizaba peak are dead.

Eight Americans and eight Mexicans were aboard.

The General, attached to the United States-Mexico Foot and Mouth Disease Commission, said eight of the bodies were burned and were near the plane and the eight others were scattered about it.

He said the main rescue expedition reached the scene at 11 a. m. today. Two hours later after legal formalities had been concluded, a start was made at bringing down the bodies.

didate. He got quick "ayes" back from Eisenhower draft leaders.

Roosevelt reasoned that Eisenhower "will not serve as a partisan president but will answer a call to national duty."

What Eisenhower said Monday night was that he "could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contests."

Sen. Johnston, of South Carolina, moved to hurl the issue into the National Executive Committee at Philadelphia Saturday. He said he will offer a resolution instructing McGrath to ask Mr. Truman to withdraw for the nomination race in favor of Eisenhower.

Johnston also observed that James Roosevelt might be a good teammate for Eisenhower "because his name is Roosevelt."

Jacob M. Arvey, Chicago party chairman, said he believes if Eisenhower is drafted he won't refuse to serve his country.

Proposal To License Fur Trappers, Buyers To Be Given State Council

BALTIMORE, July 6 (AP)—The Legislative Council opens a three-day session here tomorrow and will receive among other proposals one for a law to require licensing of fur trappers and buyers.

The State Game and Inland Fish Commission will present its legislative recommendations tomorrow afternoon. The morning council session will be devoted to the report of a committee on more equitable representation in the General Assembly.

For trapping and buying have heretofore been without special licenses.

The commission said it would also ask that the law provide for an annual game kill report. Although Maryland's pelt take reaches a $2,000,000 value annually, trappers now need not report the bag, and the commission has no exact figures.

The agency also will ask for power to put emergency regulations into effect immediately instead of the present legal waiting period of at least 21 days.

Spokesmen for Maryland barbers are to present their proposals to the council Thursday afternoon. Committee meetings are scheduled for Thursday morning and two business sessions on Friday.

nounced he will continue peace talks even if fighting resumes.

The United Nations mediator made this statement on arriving from Tel Aviv, where he was asked by the Israel government to "reconsider" his plan for ending Arab-Jewish warfare.

In Tel Aviv, Bernadotte received from Israel Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok a 1,000-word reply to the mediator's proposal to turn Jerusalem over to Arab rule, make Haifa a free port and regulate immigration.

The reply said the Irsael leaders were deeply wounded by the Jerusalem suggestion and expressed emphatic opposition to any restriction on immigration.

Russia Raps Bernadotte

LAKE SUCCESS, July 6 (AP) — Russia today charged Count Folke Bernadotte with attempting to revoke the United Nations decision to partition Palestine.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko demanded the Security Council discuss in detail the United Nations mediator's peace proposals before recommending that an Arab-Jewish truce be continued after the Friday expiration date.

When the Taft-Hartley bill passed the House, 93 Democrats voted for it, 84 against it. (The Republicans voted for it 215-22).

After President Truman vetoed the bill, 106 House Democrats voted to override the veto, with only 71 upholding the President. (The Republicans split 225-11.)

In the Senate, the Democrats split 21-21 on the Taft-Hartley bill, while the Republicans were voting it 47-3. After the veto, Senate Democrats upheld the President by a bare margin, 22-20, while the Republicans were smacking the President down 48-3.

The farm plank of the platform will come up first tomorrow when the Resolutions Committee, headed by Sen. Francis J. Myers, of Pennsylvania, starts its public hearings.

Two Reported Killed In N.Y. Bus Accident

BATAVIA, N. Y., July 6 (AP) — A Greyhound bus burned after an accident on Route 5, tonight, and state police said two persons were killed.

Eight injured persons were brought to hospitals here.

A Greyhound dispatcher said the bus left Buffalo at 5:50 p. m., EDT, bound for New York City by Scranton, Pa.

The accident happened at about 7 o'clock near Pembroke, some 18 miles west of Batavia.

Names of the dead and one of the injured were not immediately learned.

Lightning Strikes Trains

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—The New Haven Railroad reported late today that locomotives of two commuter trains bound for Connecticut were struck by lightning during a violent electrical storm near the Connecticut line.

Neither the train crews nor the approximately 800 passengers in the two trains were injured, the railroad said.

4,300 War Dead Due

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP) — The bodies of 4,300 American war dead are scheduled to arrive Friday from European battlefields aboard the United States Army transport Oglethorpe Victory.

Threat Of St. Louis Power Strike Lifted

ST. LOUIS, July 6 (AP) — Members of the AFL Operating Engineers, Local 148, today voted acceptance of a pay raise and pension plan. Their action ended the threat of a walkout that would have shut down industrial plants from the St. Louis area north to Burlington, Ia.

The agreement calls for a nine to 15-cent an hour pay raise and a pension plan at the Union Electric Company's expense. The union members voted down a settlement Saturday that called for the same pay raise but did not include the pension plan. The settlement is retroactive to July 1.

Issues Raised In Berlin Grave As Those At Munich

When Winston Churchill told a British audience that the issues which Russia has raised in Berlin are "as grave as we now know were at stake in Munich" he was stating the simple truth.

In the immediate foreground of the crisis at Berlin is the fate of 2,000,000 Germans in the western sectors of the city whom the Russians have threatened with starvation as a means of driving the Western powers out of their treaty positions. That program is, in the phrase of British military governor Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, "ruthless inhumanity." The entire civilized world recognizes it as such, and so would the pitiful mind-and-body slaves of Russia if they had any way of knowing what goes on. But to the icy "realists" in the Kremlin, the policy merely carries out the Marxian dogma that the end justifies the means.

Russia wants to make Berlin the Red capital of a communized eastern Germany, as a step toward communizing all Germany, including the Ruhr. The starvation of 2,000,000 men, women and children as a means to that end is as trifling a matter to the Politburo as the fate of the many millions of Russians who have been shot or exiled to slow death in Siberia in order to make Stalin—Truman's "good old Joe Stalin"—feel more secure.

Here is Russia's boldest and most cynical aggression to date. At stake is the future of Germany and indeed of Europe. That fact explains the prodigious effort of the United States to feed 2,000,000 people by air. It also explains the intense diplomatic activity on the highest governmental levels in the Western capitals. If Russia is allowed to get away with this frightful gesture of power, she can get away with a continent.

In some American quarters there may be a feeling that the United States should not worry too much about the Germans, who were our enemies. One trouble with that notion, which is a kind of Nazi racism in reverse, is that the western Berliners are only Russia's pawns in this game. Another is that the leaders of the German democratic resistance in Berlin are men and women who survived Hitler's concentration camps. They proved their democratic faith by risking death for it under one dictator, and they are quite ready to risk death under another dictator. If we abandon them now, we would be turning over to Stalin's executioners the people who represent the hope of a democratic Germany.

Nominee Dewey is an immaculate dresser, but he will have no difficulty in acquiring a pair of overalls and a straw hat for the usual hay-pitching performance later in the campaign.

More Than 500 Lives Lost During Long Holiday

Soviet Marshal Sokolvsky was arrested for speeding in the American zone of Berlin the other day. He was released with an apology because he was the Soviet Commander in Chief in Germany.

Had the Marshal been killed or injured as a result of his recklessness, he would not have gotten off so easily. Providence has a way of caring nothing for high officials or international politics. Even big shots can flirt once too often with Fate.

Americans would have been wise to remember that, but unfortunately more than five hundred did not. They flirted with Fate during the long Fourth of July holiday and as a result that number lay dead today. Others who failed to use the care and good judgement called for when they took to the highways during the past weekend suffered injuries either in traffic accidents, while swimming, while flying, or unexpectedly, while playing with an innocent gadget.

In celebrating their independence and the winning of freedom, these citizens failed to leave recklessness to people like Marshal Sokolvsky who doesn't care about freedom or anything like it.

The White House roof will not be repaired immediately, but whether because of excessive costs or an "what's the use" attitude on the part of the present tenant is not revealed.

The Next Convention And What's To Be Done

Less than a week is left for Harry Truman and the Democratic Party to undo the mischief he has done it and himself by his "folksy" off-the-cuff campaign tour—at Uncle Sam's expense—across the country. Before it assembles in Philadelphia next Monday there is urgent need for establishing what the diplomats would call a modus vivendi. Some terms must be found, if possible, for the delegates to the convention—dominated, as it will be, by members of the Eightieth Congress—to indorse for renomination the President who at first called it "the worst" Congress on record, then conceded that it might be "next to the worst"; and now shamefacedly commends the European Recovery Program as "evolved in the spirit of co-operation and not of partisan conflict."

Mr. Truman's informal case against it is based on the five major bills which it passed over his veto. One of them is its most popular measure, lightening the tax burden of some 50,000,000 Americans; it is his distinction—or something—to be the only President ever vetoing a bill for tax relief. This and the other measures were passed over his veto by the aid of Democrats. These men, nearly all of them, are running for re-election.

What are they going to do about it—and what is he, now that he is back in Washington and pondering the consequences of his rash utterances? On the stump he has even suggested throwing rotten eggs at the recognized leader of that Congress. What would he throw at Democratic legislators who repeatedly followed that leadership? That's his problem, and theirs.

Summation

The arrest in New York of a ranking member of the Communist Party in the United States discloses that the party has a Department of Education, Agitation and Publications.

We know another word ending in "ation." What about hallucinations?

Now that planes travel faster than sound, there's nothing for scientists to do except invent faster sound.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

The Fainting Tendency

Americans are curious and it takes little to draw a crowd. The attraction created by some one lying in a faint is an example and no one will move away even though many bystanders cry out, "Give the lady air." Most of us know better and some day perhaps we will show a more mature reaction to such occurrences.

Dr. Van Dellen

Fainting mimics death so closely that the conditions are sometimes difficult to tell apart. The face of the victim becomes ashen, the respirations shallow and slow, and the pulse barely obtainable. For a moment or two, every one is in doubt. Fortunately, the period of unconsciousness rarely lasts longer than a few minutes and, when the first signs of recovery occur, the clew is offered and the witnesses give a sigh of relief.

In many instances, there is a premonition that a fainting spell is in the offing. If the individual can sit or lie down, the attack may be forestalled. These warning signs are giddiness, weakness, ringing of the ears, increased salivation, and breaking out into a cold sweat. Unconsciousness is the next step. As a rule, recovery is slower and thirty minutes to an hour passes before the victim feels better. During this time, perspiration is profuse, the heart beats forcefully, and occasionally uncontrollable nausea ensues.

Revival takes place more rapidly if the sufferer is placed in a horizontal position, with the head lower than the feet. Clothing should be loosened, especially around the neck and abdomen. A whiff of ammonia is still the old standby. Adrenalin is helpful but is rarely required because the emergency is over before the physician has time to administer it. Rubbing the face with ice water is also stimulating and should be done whenever possible. A sip of hot coffee or tea is beneficial. The afflicted person ought to be allowed to remain in a reclining position in a comfortable spot; the majority wish to be left alone until they are able to navigate.

Some are more inclined than others to faint. This is an inborn quality as it often "runs in families." It is most common in young and middleaged women. Apparently one adult in 200 swoons at the sight of blood, in this instance, the male is the more likely victim.

Predisposing factors include fatigue, lack of food, worry, and illness. A crowded or poorly ventilated room is conducive to an attack and at any big occasion, nurses and physicians are kept busy taking care of those who collapse. Suggestion plays a role; now and then when one individual "passes out" others follow suit. Occasionally it is a welcome relief from an unpleasant situation, especially when pain is severe.

This condition is brought about by disturbances in the circulatory system. Changes in the blood vessels and blood pressure reduce the efficiency of the heart. When the brain no longer receives its quota of blood, unconsciousness ensues. After falling to the ground, the circulation begins to improve and the feeling of well being returns gradually.

The substance is employed chiefly as an adjunct to anesthetization, especially when marked relaxation is required. It is used also to control pain, relieve muscle spasm, and in convulsion or shock therapy.

Inherited defects usually make their appearance at birth. If your youngsters have escaped so far, the possibility that they will be afflicted is extremely slight.

President Truman Continues Confident Of Reelection; Italian Democracy Contest Inspires 14,000 Letters From Italy; Ex-GI's Write Letter To Eisenhower

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 6.—While every seasoned political leader in the Democratic Party is convinced Harry Truman will suffer one of the worst election defeats in history, here are some sidelights on how the President himself feels about it.

Asked by aides how he felt about the G.O.P. nominee, Tom Dewey, the President replied:

"I'll take him—like that," and he snapped his fingers.

Truman also goes out of his way to assure advisers that he is not worrying about any competition from General Dwight Eisenhower, despite the growing Eisenhower groundswell.

"Ike is a soldier," Truman remarked recently. "He doesn't want to be President and would be the first to admit—in fact, he has admitted—that his military background doesn't qualify him for the many responsibilities of the presidency."

Truman is so confident of taking the convention in his stride that he already is planning a 60-day campaign trip in August, September and October, taking him to every section of the country.

Italian Democracy By Radio

During the Italian elections, the Communists claimed that the deluge of American friendship letters sent to Italy and other U. S. aid was just a flash in the pan. After the elections, they argued, Americans would soon forget Italy.

Today, however, a remarkable shortwave radio contest across the Atlantic ends with the awards of 1,750 prizes to the Italian people for the best letters on "How to win the peace and make real democracy live."

The contest has been broadcast for several weeks by World Wide Broadcasting Foundation, a nonprofit organization, and a total of 14,000 Italian democracy letters have been received. Radio experts consider this an unprecedented return, especially in view of the fact that trans-Atlantic postage is expensive for the ordinary Italian, while he could hear about the contest only via shortwave radio or through brief mention in Italian newspapers.

In contrast to the slipshod manner in which NBC kissed off its shortwave propaganda broadcasts farmed out to it by the State Department, a group of Americans worked hard to make the Italian-democracy contest a success. Generoso Pope, the Italian-American newspaper publisher, undertook the difficult job of translating the Italian essays into English.

Two hundred and fifty wrist watches were contributed as prizes by Ingersoll, Harman and Helbros watches, the Kruger Jewelry Co. of Austin, Texas, and Martin Gruenborn of Seattle. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers, together with Eagle Clothes and the O.P.O. stores, contributed 100 hand-tailored suits as prizes. Endicott-Johnson contributed 100 pairs of shoes; the Wing Shirt Company 100 shirts; the Frank H. Lee company 1,200 hats, and Allis-Chalmers one tractor.

Since these firms do not sell in Italy, they had no motive in giving anything to Italians other than cooperating toward a closer understanding and a firmer democracy.

The judges in the contest are Judge Ferdinand Pecora of the N. Y. Supreme Court; Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore, and Vincent Impellitteri, deputy mayor of New York.

General Ike's Mail

General Eisenhower has been getting thousands of letters. But here is one from two ex-G.I.'s which, if he reads it, should make him think twice before he answers:

"Dear General Eisenhower:

"We are a couple of ex-Stars & Stripes correspondents who once interviewed you—at the Shanghai airport in 1946. You broke away from a group of Generals to talk to us, although we were only enlisted men. We know from that experience it isn't necessary to be big shots to approach you.

"A Shanghai, we asked you some blunt questions and you gave us frank answers. We believed you will be equally straightforward now.

"We are supposed to be trained observers. From what we have seen, we can report unequivocally that the American people want you as their President. We are not echoing the mouthings of politicians but the will of the people, clearly expressed every time your picture flashes on the newsreel screen or a conversation turns to politics.

"We served willingly when we were drafted by our country, and we cannot believe you would do otherwise. The people have the right to call upon you to serve, yet they have no chance to express it unless you permit your name to appear on the ballot. Under our two-party system, there is no practical way for the people to draft you if you will not accept an advance nomination.

"The papers clearly indicate that you could have the Democratic nomination. This appears to be the only way left to place your name before the people in November.

"What we would like to ask sincerely is this: recognizing that you are not seeking the presidency, will you permit your name to go on the ballot, so people of all parties can be given a chance to draft you as their leader?

"Cordially yours,
"Jim Becker, Associated Press
"Jack Anderson, Bell Syndicate"

What Ike Thinks

At the recent G.O.P. convention Harry Butcher, close friend and wartime naval aide of General Eisenhower, was quizzed about the credibility of an article by Kansas City Star's Roy Roberts.

Roberts indicated that Eisenhower would not accept a Democratic draft nomination, but would campaign against the Republican ticket if it were headed by an isolationist like Bob Taft, Senator John Bricker of Ohio or Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts.

"That story is creating a lot of attention and talk," Butcher was told. "You ought to tip off Ike that he's being used for propaganda purposes in this convention."

"Why should I?" retorted Butcher. "That's exactly what the General is thinking."

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Wallace Campaign

The New Times, published in Moscow, tells us about the Henry Wallace campaign. It is good to get an American story from Moscow, particularly about Wallace. For instance, the New Times tells us why Wallace is running for the Presidency:

"Wallace declared that in deciding to run for the Presidency, and in launching the organization of an independent party, he was seeking a way out for broad sections of the American people who were gripped with 'confusion, uncertainty, fear' in the face of the threatening economic crisis and who were alarmed by the reckless foreign policy of the American government."

Perhaps the editors of this weekly could also tell us the nature of the "threatening crisis." Nobody sees any crisis in this country at the present time or in the near future. If anything, things seem to be pretty good. We are running on somewhere about $40,000,000,000 government expenditure and we have not gone broke yet nor rationed food nor are vast numbers unemployed.

Something must have gone wrong with the crisis that Wallace has been talking about since he took the Moscow line, and that was long before he decided to run for the Presidency—or was it?

This is how the Russians explain Wallace's difficulties:

"The efforts of Wallace and his supporters to unite America's progressive forces into a new party are meeting with obstacles in the shape of certain peculiarities of American democracy. In a number of states, for example, the law is so shaped as to secure a monopoly of the two Wall Street parties—Republican and Democratic—and to make the nomination of a progressive candidate virtually impossible. In other states, the registration of Wallace's candidacy will involve intricate formalities and heavy expenses. Again, Wallace's proposal for the creation of a new party is not approved by the leadership of American trade unions, including leaders of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, who feel that the nomination of a progressive candidate may lessen the chances for the re-election of Truman, whom they regard as a 'lesser evil' in comparison with such dyed-in-the-wool reactionaries as the probable Republican candidates—Taft and Dewey."

That is a long quotation but it does one's heart good. By the looks of it nobody wants Wallace except himself and his Moscow friends. Everybody is against the poor boy. The law is rigged against him; the labor unions won't have him. The Republicans and Democrats don't want him. "I don't want him; you can have him; he's too Guru for me"—or am I going Pegler?

Of course, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Clare Luce's candidate for Vice President, is not for Wallace, but she has her difficulties some of which are very curious. For instance, Mrs. Roosevelt some time ago wrote in her daily column:

". . . I have known a number of theoretical Communists who certainly were not going around with guns."

Now that is a very sad statement because the theoretical Communists never carry guns; that is usually done by the saps who follow the intellectuals. Lenin never carried a gun. When the street fighting was going on in 1917, he was actually in hiding in Finland. Stalin was not on deck and those who were shooting have mostly been liquidated.

The truth is that the fellow who carries the gun is less dangerous than the fellow who poisons the mind. Certainly a voice shrieking, "Down with Capitalism!" is not as potent as the professor who corrupts our children by teaching them to disrespect American institutions and traditions. The gun-toter is a wild man whom the Communists usually liquidate as a nuisance once they gain power; the intellectual takes control of the state.

I do not go for Henry Wallace nor for Clare Luce's Vice Presidential nominee because both seem to be confused about this essential problem, which is that Marxism is a reversion to human slavery to the State, which is bad no matter how beautiful the intellectual can paint the sweet by-and-by. The trouble is nobody knows when the sweet by-and-by will be—in 50 years, in a century or two or in remotely distant history. Karl Marx always denounced Utopians, but the best his adherents can give us is a Utopia in the future and slavery now.

Move To Draft Eisenhower And Its Self Influences

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, July 6 — The movement to draft General Eisenhower is based upon a number of desires within the Democratic Party which, however conflicting they may be, all add up to the same thing—an effort to ditch President Truman. They are:

1. The dissatisfaction of the northern Democrats — the New Dealers — that President Truman, notwithstanding his veto of the tax-reduction and the Taft-Hartley bills, nevertheless failed to go sufficiently over to the "left" to please the radical wing of the party.

2. The dissatisfaction of the southern Democrats — the conservatives — with the so-called "civil rights" program. But this issue was only vaguely pursued by the President, and hence could not have been the true reason for the turn to Eisenhower. It really was Mr. Truman's tendency to go "left" which alienated him from the southern conservatives.

These two opposite movements in the Democratic Party cannot be productive of harmony even if General Eisenhower were to accept the nomination and win the election.

There is a way for the problem to be solved. It is for the southerners to do as they have done before in national elections—let the north pass on the real issues. If the "left-wingers" want a test of whether the American people approve New Dealism, this can be obtained by nominating a New Dealer on the Democratic ticket.

Douglas Such a New Dealer

Justice Douglas, now on the Supreme Court, is such a New Dealer. He would make an intelligent and aggressive campaign on that side of the argument. Even if the country elected Dewey and Warren, the case for New Dealism would be made and would generate a corrective influence in shaping the policies of the nation in the next four years.

Nomination and election of Eisenhower would not settle the domestic issues in the ideological sense, though the General would certainly steer a course in international affairs that would make it impossible for the "isolationists" to get the upper hand, as they are still trying to do, inside the Republican Party.

The main idea behind the Eisenhower movement is to place a well-advertised name on the ticket with the hope that it would mean victory in the autumn election. The New Dealers hope they, then, would have a chance to prove their theories on some national questions — certainly they would be no worse off if turned down, now and then, by Eisenhower than they would be if left out in the cold completely under a Republican administration.

So the Eisenhower draft is a desperate move on the part of New Dealers to gain some voice in the next administration. Officeholders, moreover, see it as a means of staying in power. The momentum behind the desire to win is tremendous. Eisenhower represents this desire to the officeholders, no matter what kind of thinking he may do on national questions.

Also, finally, and perhaps most important of all, Eisenhower would pull to victory along with him most of the Democratic nominees for Congress. With a majority in both Houses, the New Dealers figure that they could come up with a considerable amount of social-reform legislation or at least could prevent the repeal or modification of some of the New Deal laws. That's why labor leaders are for Eisenhower — usually they oppose every military man for the presidency.

The southerners would get back their committee chairmanships in Congress if Eisenhower carried a Democratic Congress with him, and, as for "left-wing" philosophy, they would deal with it by a coalition with Republicans in Congress as they have done before.

The "draft Eisenhower" idea at the moment has other advantages to the Democrats pushing it, whether they be from the north or the south. As the move behind Eisenhower gains strength, it hurts the prestige of President Truman and publicizes the idea of a withdrawal. Even though Eisenhower has declined to accept the nomination, the move toward bringing on a wide-open contest in the convention already has achieved a measure of publicity and considerable support.

Truman Abandons Principles

Mr. Truman's weakness is that he has abandoned principles and issues as such. He has spent more time denouncing the Republicans than the selfish forces inside the party, who are worshipping victory as if it should be obtained at any cost and by any device. What a grand opportunity for a fight in the open, calling a spade a spade!

Mr. Truman could win the nomination and enhance his reputation with the country if he courageously fought the selfish influences within his own party. But, as it is, he gives the impression that he, too, is ambitious or self-seeking and just wants another term. Mr. Truman can no longer remain silent. He should break all precedents and go to Philadelphia, address the convention and show cause, so to speak, why he should be given the nomination. The whole country would observe and listen with rapt attention.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, July 6 (INS)—Seems probable that the Democrats lost their chance to draft Gen. Eisenhower over the past week-end when, in addition to some truly public-spirited people, the draft-Ike movement was joined by some of the most predatory political bosses in the land.

Gen. Eisenhower

The General has repeatedly said to very close friends that he is now sickened by the sight of the average professional politician. His nausea unquestionably increased when he saw his name used as a hitching post for the mobile pork barrels of old and generally discredited Democratic bosses.

The more reasonable anti-Trumanites, including Bill O'Dwyer, mayor of New York, long ago gave up hope of persuading Eisenhower to pull their chestnuts from the growing fire. O'Dwyer and others apparently hoped, however, to use the Eisenhower - for - President rumpus simply as a means of unseating the President, not as a means of flattering Ike into an acceptance.

In fact, O'Dwyer already has come out for Justice William O. Douglas, a man who may or may not have been juggled out of his chance for the presidency four years ago.

Acceptable To Roosevelt

Douglas was one of two men named by the late F. D. Roosevelt in a secret letter to the 1941 Democratic convention. The President already had publicly endorsed Henry Wallace for the vice-presidential nomination. But Democratic bosses brought such pressure to bear upon him that he wrote a letter in which he stated that Douglas or Truman also would be able vote-getters.

The letter never was made public, which is perhaps the main reason why the report persists that Douglas' name was mentioned ahead of Truman's. Ed Kelly, who told me that Truman's name was first, added that this was the deciding factor in Truman's nomination.

But others in a position to know something have always insisted that Douglas' name came first. He and Roosevelt were close friends, they point out, while the relationship between Roosevelt and Truman was so remote—all the way up to the time Roosevelt mentioned Truman in his secret note—that Roosevelt asked for a written report on Truman's voting record in the Senate before signing the letter. He just was not familiar with Truman's record.

Fear Strong Dewey-Warren Ticket

Anyway, it seems abundantly obvious that the Democratic bosses are not trying to unload Truman

Now that the draft-Ike movement is in full swing, it is obvious that the Democratic bosses are not trying to unload Truman on the President's record but on the ground that the strong Dewey-Warren ticket imperils the jobs and entrenched prestige of the bosses themselves. The only thing they hate about Truman is that he might lose and thus de-feather their own nests. If Truman looked like a winner, they'd be for him today regardless of his record.

It is my personal belief that in view of the tide and the administrative records of both Dewey and Warren, even an Eisenhower-and-somebody ticket would be an underdog in the betting. Ike himself might beat Dewey himself, but we always run tandems in November. Ike-and-somebody would tend to deflate Ike.

Jim Farley says that Truman is certain to be renominated. Jim, being one, usually knows how professional politicians will react to emergencies. But one wonders just how far the anti-Truman people will climb out on the limb.

Where does the party go to search for a candidate, after it de-horses its No. 1 man, the President, and fails to lure popular hero of the country? What's left to attract the average voter?

Issues Raised In Berlin Grave As Those At Munich

When Winston Churchill told a British audience that the issues which Russia has raised in Berlin are "as grave as we now know were at stake in Munich" he was stating the simple truth.

In the immediate foreground of the crisis at Berlin is the fate of 2,000,000 Germans in the western sectors of the city whom the Russians have threatened with starvation as a means of driving the Western powers out of their treaty positions. That program is, in the phrase of British military governor Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, "ruthless inhumanity." The entire civilized world recognizes it as such, and so would the pitiful mind-and-body slaves of Russia if they had any way of knowing what goes on. But to the icy "realists" in the Kremlin, the policy merely carries out the Marxian dogma that the end justifies the means.

Russia wants to make Berlin the Red capital of a communized eastern Germany, as a step toward communizing all Germany, including the Ruhr. The starvation of 2,000,000 men, women and children as a means to that end is as trifling a matter to the Politburo as the fate of the many millions of Russians who have been shot or exiled to slow death in Siberia in order to make Stalin—Truman's "good old Joe Stalin"—feel more secure.

Here is Russia's boldest and most cynical aggression to date. At stake is the future of Germany and indeed of Europe. That fact explains the prodigious effort of the United States to feed 2,000,000 people by air. It also explains the intense diplomatic activity on the highest governmental levels in the Western capitals. If Russia is allowed to get away with this frightful gesture of power, she can get away with a continent.

In some American quarters there may be a feeling that the United States should not worry too much about the Germans, who were our enemies. One trouble with that notion, which is a kind of Nazi racism in reverse, is that the western Berliners are only Russia's pawns in this game. Another is that the leaders of the German democratic resistance in Berlin are men and women who survived Hitler's concentration camps. They proved their democratic faith by risking death for it under one dictator, and they are quite ready to risk death under another dictator. If we abandon them now, we would be turning over to Stalin's executioners the people who represent the hope of a democratic Germany.

Nominee Dewey is an immaculate dresser, but he will have no difficulty in acquiring a pair of overalls and a straw hat for the usual hay-pitching performance later in the campaign.

More Than 500 Lives Lost During Long Holiday

Soviet Marshal Sokolvsky was arrested for speeding in the American zone of Berlin the other day. He was released with an apology because he was the Soviet Commander in Chief in Germany.

Had the Marshal been killed or injured as a result of his recklessness, he would not have gotten off so easily. Providence has a way of caring nothing for high officials or international politics. Even big shots can flirt once too often with Fate.

Americans would have been wise to remember that, but unfortunately more than five hundred did not. They flirted with Fate during the long Fourth of July holiday and as a result that number lay dead today. Others who failed to use the care and good judgement called for when they took to the highways during the past weekend suffered injuries either in traffic accidents, while swimming, while flying, or unexpectedly, while playing with an innocent gadget.

In celebrating their independence and the winning of freedom, these citizens failed to leave recklessness to people like Marshal Sokolvsky who doesn't care about freedom or anything like it.

The White House roof will not be repaired immediately, but whether because of excessive costs or an "what's the use" attitude on the part of the present tenant is not revealed.

The Next Convention And What's To Be Done

Less than a week is left for Harry Truman and the Democratic Party to undo the mischief he has done it and himself by his "folksy" off-the-cuff campaign tour—at Uncle Sam's expense—across the country. Before it assembles in Philadelphia next Monday there is urgent need for establishing what the diplomats would call a modus vivendi. Some terms must be found, if possible, for the delegates to the convention—dominated, as it will be, by members of the Eightieth Congress—to indorse for renomination the President who at first called it "the worst" Congress on record, then conceded that it might be "next to the worst"; and now shamefacedly commends the European Recovery Program as "evolved in the spirit of co-operation and not of partisan conflict."

Mr. Truman's informal case against it is based on the five major bills which it passed over his veto. One of them is its most popular measure, lightening the tax burden of some 50,000,000 Americans; it is his distinction—or something—to be the only President ever vetoing a bill for tax relief. This and the other measures were passed over his veto by the aid of Democrats. These men, nearly all of them, are running for re-election.

What are they going to do about it—and what is he, now that he is back in Washington and pondering the consequences of his rash utterances? On the stump he has even suggested throwing rotten eggs at the recognized leader of that Congress. What would he throw at Democratic legislators who repeatedly followed that leadership? That's his problem, and theirs.

Summation

The arrest in New York of a ranking member of the Communist Party in the United States discloses that the party has a Department of Education, Agitation and Publications.

We know another word ending in "ation." What about hallucinations?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

The Fainting Tendency

Americans are curious and it takes little to draw a crowd. The attraction created by some one lying in a faint is an example and no one will move away even though many bystanders cry out, "Give the lady air." Most of us know better and some day perhaps we will show a more mature reaction to such occurrences.

Dr. Van Dellen

Fainting mimics death so closely that the conditions are sometimes difficult to tell apart. The face of the victim becomes ashen, the respirations shallow and slow, and the pulse barely obtainable. For a moment or two, every one is in doubt. Fortunately, the period of unconsciousness rarely lasts longer than a few minutes and, when the first signs of recovery occur, the clew is offered and the witnesses give a sigh of relief.

In many instances, there is a premonition that a fainting spell is in the offing. If the individual can sit or lie down, the attack may be forestalled. These warning signs are giddiness, weakness, ringing of the ears, increased salivation, and breaking out into a cold sweat. Unconsciousness is the next step. As a rule, recovery is slower and thirty minutes to an hour passes before the victim feels better. During this time, perspiration is profuse, the heart beats forcefully, and occasionally uncontrollable nausea ensues.

Revival takes place more rapidly if the sufferer is placed in a horizontal position, with the head lower than the feet. Clothing should be loosened, especially around the neck and abdomen. A whiff of ammonia is still the old standby. Adrenalin is helpful but is rarely required because the emergency is over before the physician has time to administer it. Rubbing the face with ice water is also stimulating and should be done whenever possible. A sip of hot coffee or tea is beneficial. The afflicted person ought to be allowed to remain in a reclining position in a comfortable spot; the majority wish to be left alone until they are able to navigate.

Some are more inclined than others to faint. This is an inborn quality as it often "runs in families." It is most common in young and middleaged women. Apparently one adult in 200 swoons at the sight of blood, in this instance, the male is the more likely victim.

Predisposing factors include fatigue, lack of food, worry, and illness. A crowded or poorly ventilated room is conducive to an attack and at any big occasion, nurses and physicians are kept busy taking care of those who collapse. Suggestion plays a role; now and then when one individual "passes out" others follow suit. Occasionally it is a welcome relief from an unpleasant situation, especially when pain is severe.

This condition is brought about by disturbances in the circulatory system. Changes in the blood vessels and blood pressure reduce the efficiency of the heart. When the brain no longer receives its quota of blood, unconsciousness ensues. After falling to the ground, the circulation begins to improve and the feeling of well being returns gradually.

President Truman Continues Confident Of Reelection; Italian Democracy Contest Inspires 14,000 Letters From Italy; Ex-GI's Write Letter To Eisenhower

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 6.—While every seasoned political leader in the Democratic Party is convinced Harry Truman will suffer one of the worst election defeats in history, here are some sidelights on how the President himself feels about it.

Asked by aides how he felt about the G.O.P. nominee, Tom Dewey, the President replied:

"I'll take him—like that," and he snapped his fingers.

Truman also goes out of his way to assure advisers that he is not worrying about any competition from General Dwight Eisenhower, despite the growing Eisenhower groundswell.

"Ike is a soldier," Truman remarked recently. "He doesn't want to be President and would be the first to admit—in fact, he has admitted—that his military background doesn't qualify him for the many responsibilities of the presidency."

Truman is so confident of taking the convention in his stride that he already is planning a 60-day campaign trip in August, September and October, taking him to every section of the country.

Italian Democracy By Radio

During the Italian elections, the Communists claimed that the deluge of American friendship letters sent to Italy and other U. S. aid was just a flash in the pan. After the elections, they argued, Americans would soon forget Italy.

Today, however, a remarkable shortwave radio contest across the Atlantic ends with the awards of 1,750 prizes to the Italian people for the best letters on "How to win the peace and make real democracy live."

The contest has been broadcast for several weeks by World Wide Broadcasting Foundation, a nonprofit organization, and a total of 14,000 Italian democracy letters have been received. Radio experts consider this an unprecedented return, especially in view of the fact that trans-Atlantic postage is expensive for the ordinary Italian, while he could hear about the contest only via shortwave radio or through brief mention in Italian newspapers.

In contrast to the slipshod manner in which NBC kissed off its shortwave propaganda broadcasts farmed out to it by the State Department, a group of Americans worked hard to make the Italian-democracy contest a success. Generoso Pope, the Italian-American newspaper publisher, undertook the difficult job of translating the Italian essays into English.

Two hundred and fifty wrist watches were contributed as prizes by Ingersoll, Harman and Helbros watches, the Kruger Jewelry Co. of Austin, Texas, and Martin Gruenborn of Seattle. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers, together with Eagle Clothes and the O.P.O. stores, contributed 100 hand-tailored suits as prizes. Endicott-Johnson contributed 100 pairs of shoes; the Wing Shirt Company 100 shirts; the Frank H. Lee company 1,200 hats, and Allis-Chalmers one tractor.

Since these firms do not sell in Italy, they had no motive in giving anything to Italians other than cooperating toward a closer understanding and a firmer democracy.

The judges in the contest are Judge Ferdinand Pecora of the N. Y. Supreme Court; Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore, and Vincent Impellitteri, deputy mayor of New York.

General Ike's Mail

General Eisenhower has been getting thousands of letters. But here is one from two ex-G.I.'s which, if he reads it, should make him think twice before he answers:

"Dear General Eisenhower:

"We are a couple of ex-Stars & Stripes correspondents who once interviewed you—at the Shanghai airport in 1946. You broke away from a group of Generals to talk to us, although we were only enlisted men. We know from that experience it isn't necessary to be big shots to approach you.

"A Shanghai, we asked you some blunt questions and you gave us frank answers. We believed you will be equally straightforward now.

"We are supposed to be trained observers. From what we have seen, we can report unequivocally that the American people want you as their President. We are not echoing the mouthings of politicians but the will of the people, clearly expressed every time your picture flashes on the newsreel screen or a conversation turns to politics.

"We served willingly when we were drafted by our country, and we cannot believe you would do otherwise. The people have the right to call upon you to serve, yet they have no chance to express it unless you permit your name to appear on the ballot. Under our two-party system, there is no practical way for the people to draft you if you will not accept an advance nomination.

"The papers clearly indicate that you could have the Democratic nomination. This appears to be the only way left to place your name before the people in November.

"What we would like to ask sincerely is this: recognizing that you are not seeking the presidency, will you permit your name to go on the ballot, so people of all parties can be given a chance to draft you as their leader?

"Cordially yours,
"Jim Becker, Associated Press
"Jack Anderson, Bell Syndicate"

What Ike Thinks

At the recent G.O.P. convention Harry Butcher, close friend and wartime naval aide of General Eisenhower, was quizzed about the credibility of an article by Kansas City Star's Roy Roberts.

Roberts indicated that Eisenhower would not accept a Democratic draft nomination, but would campaign against the Republican ticket if it were headed by an isolationist like Bob Taft, Senator John Bricker of Ohio or Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts.

"That story is creating a lot of attention and talk," Butcher was told. "You ought to tip off Ike that he's being used for propaganda purposes in this convention."

"Why should I?" retorted Butcher. "That's exactly what the General is thinking."

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Wallace Campaign

The New Times, published in Moscow, tells us about the Henry Wallace campaign. It is good to get an American story from Moscow, particularly about Wallace. For instance, the New Times tells us why Wallace is running for the Presidency:

"Wallace declared that in deciding to run for the Presidency, and in launching the organization of an independent party, he was seeking a way out for broad sections of the American people who were gripped with 'confusion, uncertainty, fear' in the face of the threatening economic crisis and who were alarmed by the reckless foreign policy of the American government."

Perhaps the editors of this weekly could also tell us the nature of the "threatening crisis." Nobody sees any crisis in this country at the present time or in the near future. If anything, things seem to be pretty good. We are running on somewhere about $40,000,000,000 government expenditure and we have not gone broke yet nor rationed food nor are vast numbers unemployed.

Something must have gone wrong with the crisis that Wallace has been talking about since he took the Moscow line, and that was long before he decided to run for the Presidency—or was it?

This is how the Russians explain Wallace's difficulties:

"The efforts of Wallace and his supporters to unite America's progressive forces into a new party are meeting with obstacles in the shape of certain peculiarities of American democracy. In a number of states, for example, the law is so shaped as to secure a monopoly of the two Wall Street parties—Republican and Democratic—and to make the nomination of a progressive candidate virtually impossible. In other states, the registration of Wallace's candidacy will involve intricate formalities and heavy expenses. Again, Wallace's proposal for the creation of a new party is not approved by the leadership of American trade unions, including leaders of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, who feel that the nomination of a progressive candidate may lessen the chances for the re-election of Truman, whom they regard as a 'lesser evil' in comparison with such dyed-in-the-wool reactionaries as the probable Republican candidates—Taft and Dewey."

That is a long quotation but it does one's heart good. By the looks of it nobody wants Wallace except himself and his Moscow friends. Everybody is against the poor boy. The law is rigged against him; the labor unions won't have him. The Republicans and Democrats don't want him. "I don't want him; you can have him; he's too Guru for me"—or am I going Pegler?

Of course, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Clare Luce's candidate for Vice President, is not for Wallace, but she has her difficulties some of which are very curious. For instance, Mrs. Roosevelt some time ago wrote in her daily column:

". . . I have known a number of theoretical Communists who certainly were not going around with guns."

Now that is a very sad statement because the theoretical Communists never carry guns; that is usually done by the saps who follow the intellectuals. Lenin never carried a gun. When the street fighting was going on in 1917, he was actually in hiding in Finland. Stalin was not on deck and those who were shooting have mostly been liquidated.

The truth is that the fellow who carries the gun is less dangerous than the fellow who poisons the mind. Certainly a voice shrieking, "Down with Capitalism!" is not as potent as the professor who corrupts our children by teaching them to disrespect American institutions and traditions. The gun-toter is a wild man whom the Communists usually liquidate as a nuisance once they gain power; the intellectual takes control of the state.

I do not go for Henry Wallace nor for Clare Luce's Vice Presidential nominee because both seem to be confused about this essential problem, which is that Marxism is a reversion to human slavery to the State, which is bad no matter how beautiful the intellectual can paint the sweet by-and-by. The trouble is nobody knows when the sweet by-and-by will be—in 50 years, in a century or two or in remotely distant history. Karl Marx always denounced Utopians, but the best his adherents can give us is a Utopia in the future and slavery now.

Move To Draft Eisenhower And Its Self Influences

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, July 6 — The movement to draft General Eisenhower is based upon a number of desires within the Democratic Party which, however conflicting they may be, all add up to the same thing—an effort to ditch President Truman. They are:

1. The dissatisfaction of the northern Democrats — the New Dealers — that President Truman, notwithstanding his veto of the tax-reduction and the Taft-Hartley bills, nevertheless failed to go sufficiently over to the "left" to please the radical wing of the party.

2. The dissatisfaction of the southern Democrats — the conservatives — with the so-called "civil rights" program. But this issue was only vaguely pursued by the President, and hence could not have been the true reason for the turn to Eisenhower. It really was Mr. Truman's tendency to go "left" which alienated him from the southern conservatives.

These two opposite movements in the Democratic Party cannot be productive of harmony even if General Eisenhower were to accept the nomination and win the election.

There is a way for the problem to be solved. It is for the southerners to do as they have done before in national elections—let the north pass on the real issues. If the "left-wingers" want a test of whether the American people approve New Dealism, this can be obtained by nominating a New Dealer on the Democratic ticket.

Douglas Such a New Dealer

Justice Douglas, now on the Supreme Court, is such a New Dealer. He would make an intelligent and aggressive campaign on that side of the argument. Even if the country elected Dewey and Warren, the case for New Dealism would be made and would generate a corrective influence in shaping the policies of the nation in the next four years.

Nomination and election of Eisenhower would not settle the domestic issues in the ideological sense, though the General would certainly steer a course in international affairs that would make it impossible for the "isolationists" to get the upper hand, as they are still trying to do, inside the Republican Party.

The main idea behind the Eisenhower movement is to place a well-advertised name on the ticket with the hope that it would mean victory in the autumn election. The New Dealers hope they, then, would have a chance to prove their theories on some national questions — certainly they would be no worse off if turned down, now and then, by Eisenhower than they would be if left out in the cold completely under a Republican administration.

So the Eisenhower draft is a desperate move on the part of New Dealers to gain some voice in the next administration. Officeholders, moreover, see it as a means of staying in power. The momentum behind the desire to win is tremendous. Eisenhower represents this desire to the officeholders, no matter what kind of thinking he may do on national questions.

Also, finally, and perhaps most important of all, Eisenhower would pull to victory along with him most of the Democratic nominees for Congress. With a majority in both Houses, the New Dealers figure that they could come up with a considerable amount of social-reform legislation or at least could prevent the repeal or modification of some of the New Deal laws. That's why labor leaders are for Eisenhower — usually they oppose every military man for the presidency.

The southerners would get back their committee chairmanships in Congress if Eisenhower carried a Democratic Congress with him, and, as for "left-wing" philosophy, they would deal with it by a coalition with Republicans in Congress as they have done before.

The "draft Eisenhower" idea at the moment has other advantages to the Democrats pushing it, whether they be from the north or the south. As the move behind Eisenhower gains strength, it hurts the prestige of President Truman and publicizes the idea of a withdrawal. Even though Eisenhower has declined to accept the nomination, the move toward bringing on a wide-open contest in the convention already has achieved a measure of publicity and considerable support.

Truman Abandons Principles

Mr. Truman's weakness is that he has abandoned principles and issues as such. He has spent more time denouncing the Republicans than the selfish forces inside the party, who are worshipping victory as if it should be obtained at any cost and by any device. What a grand opportunity for a fight in the open, calling a spade a spade!

Mr. Truman could win the nomination and enhance his reputation with the country if he courageously fought the selfish influences within his own party. But, as it is, he gives the impression that he, too, is ambitious or self-seeking and just wants another term. Mr. Truman can no longer remain silent. He should break all precedents and go to Philadelphia, address the convention and show cause, so to speak, why he should be given the nomination. The whole country would observe and listen with rapt attention.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, July 6 (INS)—Seems probable that the Democrats lost their chance to draft Gen. Eisenhower over the past week-end when, in addition to some truly public-spirited people, the draft - Ike movement was joined by some of the most predatory political bosses in the land.

Gen. Eisenhower

The General has repeatedly said to very close friends that he is now sickened by the sight of the average professional politician. His nausea unquestionably increased when he saw his name used as a hitching post for the mobile pork barrels of old and generally discredited Democratic bosses.

The more reasonable anti-Trumanites, including Bill O'Dwyer, mayor of New York, long ago gave up hope of persuading Eisenhower to pull their chestnuts from the growing fire. O'Dwyer and others apparently hoped, however, to use the Eisenhower - for - President rumpus simply as a means of unseating the President, not as a means of flattering Ike into an acceptance.

In fact, O'Dwyer already has come out for Justice William O. Douglas, a man who may or may not have been juggled out of his chance for the presidency four years ago.

Acceptable To Roosevelt

Douglas was one of two men named by the late F. D. Roosevelt in a secret letter to the 1941 Democratic convention. The President already had publicly endorsed Henry Wallace for the vice-presidential nomination. But Democratic bosses brought such pressure to bear upon him that he wrote a letter in which he stated that Douglas or Truman also would be able vote-getters.

The letter never was made public, which is perhaps the main reason why the report persists that Douglas' name was mentioned ahead of Truman's. Ed Kelly, who told me that Truman's name was first, added that this was the deciding factor in Truman's nomination.

But others in a position to know something have always insisted that Douglas' name came first. He and Roosevelt were close friends, they point out, while the relationship between Roosevelt and Truman was so remote—all the way up to the time Roosevelt mentioned Truman in his secret note—that Roosevelt asked for a written report on Truman's voting record in the Senate before signing the letter. He just was not familiar with Truman's record.

Fear Strong Dewey-Warren Ticket

Anyway, it seems abundantly obvious that the Democratic bosses are not trying to unload Truman on the President's record but on the ground that the strong Dewey-Warren ticket imperils the jobs and entrenched prestige of the bosses themselves. The only thing they hate about Truman is that he might lose and thus de-feather their own nests. If Truman looked like a winner, they'd be for him today regardless of his record.

It is my personal belief that in view of the tide and the administrative records of both Dewey and Warren, even an Eisenhower-and-somebody ticket would be an underdog in the betting. Ike himself might beat Dewey himself, but we always run tandems in November. Ike-and-somebody would tend to deflate Ike.

Jim Farley says that Truman is certain to be renominated. Jim, being one, usually knows how professional politicians will react to emergencies. But one wonders just how far the anti-Truman people will climb out on the limb.

Where does the party go to search for a candidate, after it de-horses its No. 1 man, the President, and fails to lure popular hero of the country? What's left to attract the average voter?

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Time to lock up, kiddies. Dawn's rosy-tipped fingers are tickling the Empire State Building, and the chairs are all upended on the tables. What's that? You want one for the road? Okay, it's on the house. And while you're knocking it off, Uncle Willie will spin a Broadway bedtime story about a babe, a bum and a busboy.

Billy Rose

In one of my early song-and-suds parlors, a kid named Charlie used to work for me as a busboy. He wore thick glasses, and the help around the joint called him Four-eyes. As I got the story, Charlie had ruined his eyes reading a lot of books about knights and ladies fair, and his head was crammed full of romance, chivalry and such stuff.

If there had been a grail around my nightclub, children, chances are Charlie would have gone looking for it. As it was, he settled for a frail. She was named Toots LaRoche, and she tripped the light fantastic — and occasionally herself — in the chorus of my show.

Like many chorus girls in those days, Toots had a boy friend who was a member of the larceny-and-old-lice set. His name was Pinky Paaltz and he was one of the town's most persuasive needle-beer salesmen. Of course, with this toughie in the picture, the busboy had to be content to worship Toots from afar, or at least from the kitchen.

• — • — •

Four-eyes' greatest thrill came when he was given the honor of chaperoning a glass of spiked lemonade to his lady's dressing room between unveilings. At such times, he would carefully remove his bifocals, tuck them in their metal case and grope his way backstage. Though he knew that chorus girls seldom make passes at busboys who wear glasses, in true knightly fashion he kept hoping.

One evening when Charlie was cleaning up the table at which Toots and her unbarbasoled boy friend were sitting, he knocked the remains of a tuna fish salad into Pinky's lap. The gangster was about to go to work on him with an object which looked like a stuffed sock when Toots stopped him.

"Leggo a him, ya big ape," she yelled. "Ya wanna get me canned?"

Later when Toots went backstage to undress for her act, the traytoter followed. "I want to thank you for what you did," he said.

"Huh? . . . Oh, it's you! Next time why don'tcha keep them glasses on?"

"I will, ma'am," promised Charlie. "Still, I want to thank you. . ."

"Skip it," interrupted Toots. "I got a kick outta seein' the tuna fish on that bum's shirt."

A strange, intense light came into Charlie's squinters. "If you don't like him," he said, "why don't you leave him?"

Toots upped her store-bought lashes. "Lissun, kiddo. Nobody leaves Pinky Paaltz—unless he does it feet first.'

• — • — •

I guess, my tinies, a word to the chivalrous is sufficient. All that night the busboy never took his myopic eyes off Toots. When the club closed, he followed her and Pinky to the hotel in which she lived and waited outside.

When the needle-beer salesman finally emerged, Charlie stepped up to him and said, "I want to talk to you, Mr. Paaltz."

The gangster grabbed for his gun, then saw who the speaker was and laughed. "If it ain't the tuna-fish king," he sneered. "Watcha doin' out so late?"

"Waiting for you," said Charlie. "I want you to stop seeing Miss LaRoche."

Pinky couldn't believe his cauliflower ears. "Is zis a gag or somethin'?" he asked.

"You'll find out," said Four-eyes, reaching into his inside pocket.

Well, my little ones, I guess you really couldn't blame Pinky for what happened. After all, how was he to know that the busboy was reaching for his glasses because his eyes were watering? And how was he to know that the shot from his revolver would be heard at the 16th Precinct Station around the corner?

I read about it next afternoon and went to the hospital to see my busboy. By one of those miracles which only happen on Broadway, the bullet had bounced off the metal case in which he kept his glasses. Four-eyes was plenty shaken up, but the doctor told me he'd be out in a week. As for Pinky, the cops had nabbed him with the hot gun in his hand.

At the club that night I broke the news to Toots. "Your gentleman friend won't be bothering you any more," I told her. "The law picked him up for shooting a guy."

"That's swell," said the curvacious cupcake. "Who was the target?"

"Charlie, the busboy," I said, "and the argument was over you. He's in Polyclinic Hospital."

"I guess I ought to send him somethin'," said Toots. "Maybe a book. I would be very appreciated if you'd buy him one and take it out of my salary."

Which I did. But when Toots opened her pay envelope that Saturday, she almost hollered the joint down.

"Whatcha mean, twenty bucks fer a book?" she said. "What did it have, a mink cover?"

"Considering what the shining knight did for you," I said, "I thought the least you could do was send him the collected works of Sir Walter Scott . . . ."

And now, kiddies, put your heads under the cold water and freshen up. You still have twenty minutes to get to the office.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Billy Rose

Time to lock up, kiddies. Dawn's rosy-tipped fingers are tickling the Empire State Building, and the chairs are all up-ended on the tables. What's that? You want one for the road? Okay, it's on the house. And while you're knocking it off, Uncle Willie will spin a Broadway bedtime story about a babe, a bum and a busboy.

In one of my early song-and-suds parlors, a kid named Charlie used to work for me as a busboy. He wore thick glasses, and the help around the joint called him Four-eyes. As I got the story, Charlie had ruined his eyes reading a lot of books about knights and ladies fair, and his head was crammed full of romance, chivalry and such stuff.

If there had been a grail around my nightclub, children, chances are Charlie would have gone looking for it. As it was, he settled for a frail. She was named Toots La-Roche, and she tripped the light fantastic — and occasionally herself — in the chorus of my show.

Like many chorus girls in those days, Toots had a boy friend who was a member of the larceny-and-old-lice set. His name was Pinky Paaltz and he was one of the town's most persuasive needle-beer salesmen. Of course, with this toughie in the picture, the busboy had to be content to worship Toots from afar, or at least from the kitchen.

• — • — •

Four-eyes' greatest thrill came when he was given the honor of chaperoning a glass of spiked lemonade to his lady's dressing room between unveilings. At such times, he would carefully remove his bi-focals, tuck them in their metal case and grope his way backstage. Though he knew that chorus girls seldom make passes at busboys who wear glasses, in true knightly fashion he kept hoping.

One evening when Charlie was cleaning up the table at which Toots and her unbarbasoled boy friend were sitting, he knocked the remains of a tuna fish salad into Pinky's lap. The gangster was about to go to work on him with an object which looked like a stuffed sock when Toots stopped him.

"Leggo a him, ya big ape," she yelled. "Ya wanna get me canned?"

Later when Toots went backstage to undress for her act, the tray-toter followed. "I want to thank you for what you did," he said.

"Huh? . . . Oh, it's you! Next time why don'tcha keep them glasses on?"

"I will, ma'am," promised Charlie. "Still, I want to thank you. . ."

"Skip it," interrupted Toots. "I got a kick outta seein' the tuna fish on that bum's shirt."

A strange, intense light came into Charlie's squinters. "If you don't like him," he said, "why don't you leave him?"

Toots upped her store-bought lashes. "Lissun, kiddo. Nobody leaves Pinky Paaltz—unless he does it feet first."

• — • — •

I guess, my tinies, a word to the chivalrous is sufficient. All that night the busboy never took his myopic eyes off Toots. When the club closed, he followed her and Pinky to the hotel in which she lived and waited outside.

When the needle-beer salesman finally emerged, Charlie stepped up to him and said, "I want to talk to you, Mr. Paaltz."

The gangster grabbed for his gun, then saw who the speaker was and laughed. "If it ain't the tuna-fish king," he sneered. "Watcha doin' out so late?"

"Waiting for you," said Charlie. "I want you to stop seeing Miss La-Roche."

Pinky couldn't believe his cauliflower ears. "Is zis a gag or somethin'?" he asked.

"You'll find out," said Four-eyes, reaching into his inside pocket.

Well, my little ones, I guess you really couldn't blame Pinky for what happened. After all, how was he to know that the busboy was reaching for his glasses because his eyes were watering? And how was he to know that the shot from his revolver would be heard at the 16th Precinct Station around the corner?

I read about it next afternoon and went to the hospital to see my busboy. By one of those miracles which only happen on Broadway, the bullet had bounced off the metal case in which he kept his glasses. Four-eyes was plenty shaken up, but the doctor told me he'd be out in a week. As for Pinky, the cops had nabbed him with the hot gun in his hand.

At the club that night I broke the news to Toots. "Your gentleman friend won't be bothering you any more," I told her. "The law picked him up for shooting a guy."

"That's swell," said the curvacious cupcake. "Who was the target?"

"Charlie, the busboy," I said, "and the argument was over you. He's in Polyclinic Hospital."

"I guess I ought to send him somethin'," said Toots. "Maybe a book. I would be very appreciated if you'd buy him one and take it out of my salary."

Which I did. But when Toots opened her pay envelope that Saturday, she almost hollered the joint down.

"Whatcha mean, twenty bucks fer a book?" she said. "What did it have, a mink cover?"

"Considering what the shining knight did for you," I said, "I thought the least you could do was send him the collected works of Sir Walter Scott . . . ."

And now, kiddies, put your heads under the cold water and freshen up. You still have twenty minutes to get to the office.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Maryjane Edwards

To Become Bride Of J. H. Linn

Many pre-nuptial parties are being given in compliment to Miss Maryjane Edwards, fiancee of James Howard Linn, preceding her marriage Saturday. The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webster K. Edwards, 817 Hill Top Drive, will be wed to the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Linn, 1892 Bedford Street, at 3 o'clock in Centre Street Methodist Church by Rev. Norman O. Scribner.

Her bridal party will include Miss Sara Jane Malone, Clarksburg, maid of honor; Mrs. Walter Edwards, Miss Jeanne Lippold and Miss Joanne Wilson, bridesmaids. Richard Fey will serve as Mr. Linn's best man and Richard Hobrock, William Linn, Walter Edwards and William Foley will be the ushers.

Mrs. Edwards entertained with a buffet luncheon in honor of her daughter yesterday at their home. The table was centered with an arrangement of yellow snapdragons and candelabra of yellow tapers were at either end. Bouquets of iris, delphenium and baby's-breath were used throughout the house.

Guests were Mrs. John Sitar, Romney; Miss Joanne Wilson, Piedmont; Mrs. Walter Edwards, Mrs. James Weber, Mrs. John Weber, Mrs. Donald Wikeman, Mrs. Robert McColley, Miss Anna Marie Cook, Miss Jeanne Lippold, Miss Alice Parks and Mrs. Bruce Douglas.

Tonight Mrs. Donald L. Whiteman will be hostess at a bridal shower for Miss Edwards at her home in Park Heights. Miss Jeanne Lippold will entertain with a miscellaneous shower tomorrow night at her home, 106 Greene Street. Mrs. Linn will entertain in honor of her son's fiancee, with a rehearsal dinner Thursday night, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will be hosts at a wedding reception for their daughter and her bridal party at the Ali Ghan Country Club immediately following the ceremony.

Club Has Outing

Members of the Hap-O-Happy Club were entertained with an all day party last week by Mrs. Vada Drumm Barncord at her summer cottage on the South Branch. Cards and games featured the afternoon, with prizes won by Mrs. J. A. Weimer and Mrs. Pearl Bachman. There was boating and swimming during the evening, followed by a mock wedding.

Mrs. Ruth Hopcraft portrayed the bride, Mrs. Ada Keady the bridegroom, Mrs. Lelia Fisher, bridesmaid; Mrs. Rose Loible, best man; Mrs. Anna Neus, ringbearer. Mrs. Bachman and Mrs. Anna Twigg were the mothers-in-laws, Mrs. Florence Weires, minister; Mrs. Lena Owens gave the bride in marriage and Mrs. Hallie Tracey played the wedding music.

The group will hold a covered dish supper August 2 at Constitution Park.

Katherine Clemson Is Fiancee Of Arthur G. Turner

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Clemson, Westminster, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katherine Clemson, to Arthur Gordon Turner, son of Mrs. Florence Brainerd Turner, Washington, D. C., and the late Arthur Gordon Turner, well known editor and banker of New York and Baltimore. The wedding will take place in the fall.

After graduating from Westminster High School Miss Clemson studied at St. Mary's Seminary Junior College. Entering Western Maryland College in 1942 she was graduated in the accelerated class of 1944 and the same month enrolled in the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing in the Cadet Nurse Corps. Upon her graduation she served on the staff and is now a member of the faculty of the Hopkins School of Nursing.

Miss Clemson, who made her debut at the Bachelors' Cotillon in 1942, is a member of the William Winchester Chapter, DAR, Carroll County, and the Alumnae Club of Baltimore, Phi Alpha Mu. She is a descendant of the Cramer, Stemmel and Winebrenner families of Frederick County. Her ancestors in Southern Maryland include the Gray, Dorsey, Laveille, Broome, Dawkins and Mackall families.

Mr. Turner was graduated from West Nottingham Academy, Colora, and attended Hampden-Sydney College, Va., before entering the service, where he saw duty in the ETO. A captain in the Army Air Corps Reserve, Mr. Turner is now attending Georgetown University School of Foreign Service and is a member of a Washington real estate firm.

Lodge 60, K. of P. Plans Picnic July 11

Lodge No. 60, Knights of Pythias, will entertain with its annual picnic, July 11, in Constitution Park. A program has been planned beginning with swimming at 1:30. It will include a soft ball game between the Knights and Dokkies, sack races for boys and girls under 10, 50-yard dash for boys and girls under 10, and a horseshoe pitching contest. Prizes will be awarded for each event.

Invitations have been extended to Pythian Sisters, Nomads, D.O.K.K., and Pythians of Frostburg, Midland and Queen City Lodge, their families and friends. In case of rain it will be held in the Wild Life building.

George Kifer is general chairman, assisted by O. M. Brotemarkle, R. C. Wade, D. W. Smith, W. Lester Murphy, Kenneth Mahaney and J. Walter McKee.

P-T Regional Workshop Will Be Held Annually

Similar County Groups Planned

The Parent-Teacher Congress Regional Workshop, sponsored by the Maryland Congress of Parents-Teachers, and the first ever to be held in the United States, was so enthusiastically received by the representatives of the seven states participating that it was decided to hold one each year, Mrs. Robert G. Doty, state president, reported last night.

Planned and outlined by Mrs. Doty, the workshop was held at the University of Maryland from June 28 to July 2, and dealt with "Basic Concerns of the P-TA." On a state level the representatives consisted of the state presidents.

Similar workshops on a county level to instruct local presidents were also planned.

In order to try out every kind of method of presentation the panel, symposium, round table discussion and speeches were used and it was agreed that all were excellent and the same method will be continued each year, with everyone participating. Mrs. Albert L. Gardner, Fords, N. J., former national vice president and past president of the New Jersey Congress, was workshop leader. Others participating were Mrs. A. J. Nicely, Erie, Pa., national vice president; Dr. Ward Miller, Wilmington, Del., superintendent of schools; and Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean, College of Education, University of Maryland.

Plans for future workshops, whether to have them in Maryland each year or have the different states as host, and limiting each state to seven representatives will be formulated at the national board meeting.

Mrs. Leona Wilson, president of the Mt. Savage P-TA, and Mrs. Doty attended from here. Maryland was represented by 36 members including ones from Baltimore city and 13 counties from all corners of the state; two attended from New Jersey, Fennsylvania, West Virginia, and Virginia; three from Delaware and five from the District of Columbia.

4-H Camp Has Extra Leader Activities

The 1948 4-H Girls camp was very successful due to the training of younger leaders preceding camp and each leader participating in different projects, Miss Maude A. Bean said last night. Camp Algawa at Pleasant Valley closed Saturday after having 25 leaders taking the camp activities training and 113 girls attending camp.

The program consisted of discussion groups, swimming, demonstrations on sewing, making hats, first aid, proper way of making camp fire and other camp activities.

Miss Bean and Miss Gloria Bohn were in charge of the camp and were assisted by Miss Joan Giddings, student at the University of Maryland, who is doing extension work during the summer. They gave the demonstrations on hat making and helped generally for college credits.

Mrs. A. D. Lechliter, Mrs. Edward Lewis and Mrs. Russell Smith, all members of county homemakers clubs, were in charge of the food preparation.

Homemakers To Have Ironing Demonstrations

Allegany Homemakers have been invited to an ironing demonstration to be given tomorrow on the second floor of Central YMCA. Mrs. Mary Badger, Mrs. Mary Williams and Mrs. Grace McElfish will give the demonstrations.

The demonstrations will be given from 10:30 until noon; a box lunch will be held from 12 until 1 o'clock and individual instructions will be given until 1:30. Preparations are being made for approximately 100 homemakers to attend, Miss Maude A. Bean, county demonstration agent, said last night.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Mrs. Carolyn Kelley to Foster Leo Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kline, Paw Paw, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Fowler, Paw Paw, parents of the bride. The ceremony was performed June 25 in Winchester, Va., by Rev. E. S. Ellenur, pastor of First Methodist Church. Miss Patricia Fowler and Earl Perrill were the attendants.

The couple will reside at the home of the bridegroom, who is employed by the Appalachian Orchards Inc.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Maryjane Edwards

To Become Bride Of J. H. Linn

Many pre-nuptial parties are being given in compliment to Miss Maryjane Edwards, fiancee of James Howard Linn, preceding her marriage Saturday. The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webster K. Edwards, 817 Hill Top Drive, will be wed to the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Linn, 1892 Bedford Street, at 3 o'clock in Centre Street Methodist Church by Rev. Norman O. Scribner.

Her bridal party will include Miss Sara Jane Malone, Clarksburg, maid of honor; Mrs. Walter Edwards, Miss Jeanne Lippold and Miss Joanne Wilson, bridesmaids. Richard Fey will serve as Mr. Linn's best man and Richard Hobrock, William Linn, Walter Edwards and William Foley will be the ushers.

Mrs. Edwards entertained with a buffet luncheon in honor of her daughter yesterday at their home. The table was centered with an arrangement of yellow snapdragons and candelabra of yellow tapers were at either end. Bouquets of iris, delphenium and baby's-breath were used throughout the house.

Guests were Mrs. John Sitar, Romney; Miss Joanne Wilson, Piedmont; Mrs. Walter Edwards, Mrs. James Weber, Mrs. John Weber, Mrs. Donald Wikeman, Mrs. Robert McColley, Miss Anna Marie Cook, Miss Jeanne Lippold, Miss Alice Parks and Mrs. Bruce Douglas.

Tonight Mrs. Donald L. Whiteman will be hostess at a bridal shower for Miss Edwards at her home in Park Heights. Miss Jeanne Lippold will entertain with a miscellaneous shower tomorrow night at her home, 106 Greene Street. Mrs. Linn will entertain in honor of her son's fiancee, with a rehearsal dinner Thursday night, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will be hosts at a wedding reception for their daughter and her bridal party at the Ali Ghan Country Club immediately following the ceremony.

Club Has Outing

Members of the Hap-O-Happy Club were entertained with an all day party last week by Mrs. Vada Drumm Barncord at her summer cottage on the South Branch. Cards and games featured the afternoon, with prizes won by Mrs. J. A. Weimer and Mrs. Pearl Bachman. There was boating and swimming during the evening, followed by a mock wedding.

Mrs. Ruth Hopcraft portrayed the bride, Mrs. Ada Keady the bridegroom, Mrs. Lelia Fisher, bridesmaid; Mrs. Rose Loible, best man; Mrs. Anna Neus, ringbearer. Mrs. Bachman and Mrs. Anna Twigg were the mothers-in-laws, Mrs. Florence Weires, minister; Mrs. Lena Owens gave the bride in marriage and Mrs. Hallie Tracey played the wedding music.

The group will hold a covered dish supper August 2 at Constitution Park.

Katherine Clemson Is Fiancee Of Arthur G. Turner

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Clemson, Westminster, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katherine Clemson, to Arthur Gordon Turner, son of Mrs. Florence Brainerd Turner, Washington, D. C., and the late Arthur Gordon Turner, well known editor and banker of New York and Baltimore. The wedding will take place in the fall.

After graduating from Westminister High School Miss Clemson studied at St. Mary's Seminary Junior College. Entering Western Maryland College in 1942 she was graduated in the accelerated class of 1944 and the same month enrolled in the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing in the Cadet Nurse Corps. Upon her graduation she served on the staff and is now a member of the faculty of the Hopkins School of Nursing.

Miss Clemson, who made her debut at the Bachelors' Cotillon in 1942, is a member of the William Winchester Chapter, DAR, Carroll County, and the Alumnae Club of Baltimore, Phi Alpha Mu. She is a descendant of the Cramer, Stemmel and Winebrenner families of Frederick County. Her ancestors in Southern Maryland include the Gray, Dorsey, Laveille, Broome, Dawkins and Mackall families.

Mr. Turner was graduated from West Nottingham Academy, Colora, and attended Hampden-Sydney College, Va., before entering the service, where he saw duty in the ETO. A captain in the Army Air Corps Reserve, Mr. Turner is now attending Georgetown University School of Foreign Service and is a member of a Washington real estate firm.

Lodge 60, K. of P. Plans Picnic July 11

Lodge No. 60, Knights of Pythias, will entertain with its annual picnic, July 11, in Constitution Park. A program has been planned beginning with swimming at 1:30. It will include a soft ball game between the Knights and Dokkies, sack races for boys and girls under 10, 50-yard dash for boys and girls under 10, and a horseshoe pitching contest. Prizes will be awarded for each event.

Invitations have been extended to Pythian Sisters, Nomads, D.O.K.K., and Pythians of Frostburg, Midland and Queen City Lodge, their families and friends. In case of rain it will be held in the Wild Life building.

George Kifer is general chairman, assisted by O. M. Brotemarkle, R. C. Wade, D. W. Smith, W. Lester Murphy, Kenneth Mahaney and J. Walter McKee.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Occasionally put hot soapy water into your coffee percolator or other coffee maker, and perk or "cook" the soap suds thoroughly through the machine, then rinse well and dry.

WED IN TEMPLE-- Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lowenberg are shown as they left B'er Chayim Temple, Saturday following their marriage. The bride is the former Miss Rita Millenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Millenson, 851 Windsor Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Lowenberg, Summit, N. J.

P-T Regional Workshop Will Be Held Annually

Similar County Groups Planned

The Parent-Teacher Congress Regional Workshop, sponsored by the Maryland Congress of Parents-Teachers, and the first ever to be held in the United States, was so enthusiastically received by the representatives of the seven states participating that it was decided to hold one each year, Mrs. Robert G. Doty, state president, reported last night.

Planned and outlined by Mrs. Doty, the workshop was held at the University of Maryland from June 28 to July 2, and dealt with "Basic Concerns of the P-TA." On a state level the representatives consisted of the state presidents.

Similar workshops on a county level to instruct local presidents were also planned.

In order to try out every kind of method of presentation the panel, symposium, round table discussion and speeches were used and it was agreed that all were excellent and the same method will be continued each year, with everyone participating. Mrs. Albert L. Gardner, Fords, N. J., former national vice president and past president of the New Jersey Congress, was workshop leader. Others participating were Mrs. A. J. Nicely, Erie, Pa., national vice president; Dr. Ward Miller, Wilmington, Del., superintendent of schools; and Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean, College of Education, University of Maryland.

Plans for future workshops, whether to have them in Maryland each year or have the different states as host, and limiting each state to seven representatives will be formulated at the national board meeting.

Mrs. Leona Wilson, president of the Mt. Savage P-TA, and Mrs. Doty attended from here. Maryland was represented by 36 members including ones from Baltimore city and 13 counties from all corners of the state; two attended from New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Virginia; three from Delaware and five from the District of Columbia.

Personals

Mrs. Anna McMullen Russell, 507 Washington Street, was reported "in good condition" last night at Allegany Hospital where she underwent an operation yesterday.

Miss Maude Holzen, Miss Mary Blacksheer, Miss Louise Getz and Miss Rosalie Downing are vacationing in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pearce, Ellerslie, have been called to West Palm Beach, Fla., by the death of the latter's nephew, Robert Hackett.

Rev. Louis P. Chastain and Rev. Edward B. Lewis left yesterday for a 10-day vacation at the American Christian Ashram, Camp Bynden Wood, Wennersville, Pa.

Leonard Divilbliss, Cresap Park, is ill at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sindy are vacationing at Lost River State Park, Mathias, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stakem and children, Pittsburgh, and W. P. Skirball, Sandusky, O., were weekend guests of Mrs. Mary C. McMamee, 321 Magruder Street.

Carroll Jones 206 Beall Street, is visiting relatives in Bedford.

Miss Marian Sommerkamp and Miss Glenna Kinser have returned to Cornell Medical Center, N. Y., after visiting here.

Corn is typically American, and hundreds of modern uses for the crop range from corn-on-the-cob to the popular breakfast cereal, corn flakes.

4-H Camp Has Extra Leader Activities

The 1948 4-H Girls camp was very successful due to the training of younger leaders preceding camp and each leader participating in different projects, Miss Maude A. Bean said last night. Camp Algawa at Pleasant Valley closed Saturday after having 25 leaders taking the camp activities training and 113 girls attending camp.

The program consisted of discussion groups, swimming, demonstrations on sewing, making hats, first aid, proper way of making camp fire and other camp activities.

Miss Bean and Miss Gloria Bohn were in charge of the camp and were assisted by Miss Joan Giddings, student at the University of Maryland, who is doing extension work during the summer. They gave the demonstrations on hat making and helped generally for college credits.

Mrs. A. D. Lechliter, Mrs. Edward Lewis and Mrs. Russell Smith, all members of county homemakers clubs, were in charge of the food preparation.

Homemakers To Have Ironing Demonstrations

Allegany Homemakers have been invited to an ironing demonstration to be given tomorrow on the second floor of Central YMCA. Mrs. Mary Badger, Mrs. Mary Williams and Mrs. Grace McElfish will give the demonstrations.

The demonstrations will be given from 10:30 until noon; a box lunch will be held from 12 until 1 o'clock and individual instructions will be given until 1:30. Preparations are being made for approximately 100 homemakers to attend, Miss Maude A. Bean, county demonstration agent, said last night.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Mrs. Carolyn Kelley to Foster Leo Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kline, Paw Paw, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Fowler, Paw Paw, parents of the bride. The ceremony was performed June 25 in Winchester, Va., by Rev. E. S. Ellenur, pastor of First Methodist Church. Miss Patricia Fowler and Earl Perrill were the attendants.

The couple will reside at the home of the bridegroom, who is employed by the Appalachian Orchards Inc.

Just Between Us

Patch Up Quarrels; To Keep Them Going Is Unnecessary

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Nancy Mottram

(Q) "Dear Nancy: My troubles all started because of a fight I had with a girl who used to be a very good friend of mine. Since that time, our friends have taken sides, half of them on mine, and half on hers. We always used to go places together, but now when our groups meet, no one speaks. I think it's all my fault, and I wish I could clear it up. Could you suggest anything before it's too late?"

(A) You aren't the only one to blame. Your erstwhile friend is just as responsible. If you're sincerely anxious to straighten things out for the sake of everyone involved, you'll do something about it. Why don't you go to see her and tell her that it's pretty silly to make a lot of people uncomfortable, all because of a difference of opinion? If you and she can patch up your quarrel by rating the years of friendship you've had above the occasional squabbles, the rest of the crowd will soon follow suit.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: In August, my family is packing up and moving to another state, quite far from where we now live. I'm dreading it, because I'll be leaving all the friends I've known since childhood, and it's especially hard to go and leave someone special I've been dating. We've talked about it, and neither of us can decide what to do. Should we continue going steady, even though we'll see each other only once in a great while? Or would it be better to call an end to everything right now?"

(A) There's no need to spoil your memories of home and him by suddenly burning all your bridges behind you. Your last days there shouldn't be marred by unhappiness. You don't have to feel that you're leaving the best years of your life in your home town. Once you meet your new neighbors, strike up friendships with your classmates in school next fall, you'll begin to lose your homesickness. Don't arrive there with a chip on your shoulder. Be ready and willing to join a crowd of new friends, and you'll get into the swing of things much faster than if you waste those first weeks with a "make-the-best-of-it" attitude. Fill your last days at home with fun and get-together with the old clan. And where he's concerned, promise to write and remember—and though it's better that your going steady arrangement be dissolved, those occasional return visits will be looked forward to and planned on by the lad, your friends, and yourself.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I went steady with a fellow for some time, but we broke up just before he joined the Army. I wrote several letters, but never heard from him. I stopped writing then, but I recently found out his new address, and wonder if I should try again. What do you think?"

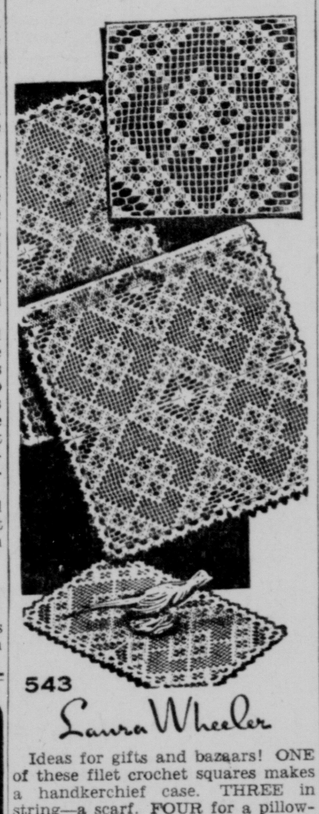

(A) He never even acknowledged your mail, and that should have been a strong hint. As far as he's concerned, you two don't matter to each other any more, and he wants it to stay that way. Instead, use your extra hours for projects that will take your mind off your disappointment and, in time, his indifference won't matter any more.

Miss Mottram cannot answer all letters personally, but the most important ones will be answered in her column.

(A) You aren't the only one to blame. Your erstwhile friend is just as responsible. If you're sincerely anxious to straighten things out for the sake of everyone involved, you'll do something about it. Why don't you go to see her and tell her that it's pretty silly to make a lot of people uncomfortable, all because of a difference of opinion? If you and she can patch up your quarrel by rating the years of friendship you've had above the occasional squabbles, the rest of the crowd will soon follow suit.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: In August, my family is packing up and moving to another state, quite far from where we now live. I'm dreading it, because I'll be leaving all the friends I've known since childhood, and it's especially hard to go and leave someone special I've been dating. We've talked about it, and neither of us can decide what to do. Should we continue going steady, even though we'll see each other only once in a great while? Or would it be better to call an end to everything right now?"

(A) There's no need to spoil your memories of home and him by suddenly burning all your bridges behind you. Your last days there shouldn't be marred by unhappiness. You don't have to feel that you're leaving the best years of your life in your home town. Once you meet your new neighbors, strike up friendships with your classmates in school next fall, you'll begin to lose your homesickness. Don't arrive there with a chip on your shoulder. Be ready and willing to join a crowd of new friends, and you'll get into the swing of things much faster than if you waste those first weeks with a "make-the-best-of-it" attitude. Fill your last days at home with fun and get-together with the old clan. And where he's concerned, promise to write and remember—and though it's better that your going steady arrangement be dissolved, those occasional return visits will be looked forward to and planned on by the lad, your friends, and yourself.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I went steady with a fellow for some time, but we broke up just before he joined the Army. I wrote several letters, but never heard from him. I stopped writing then, but I recently found out his new address, and wonder if I should try again. What do you think?"

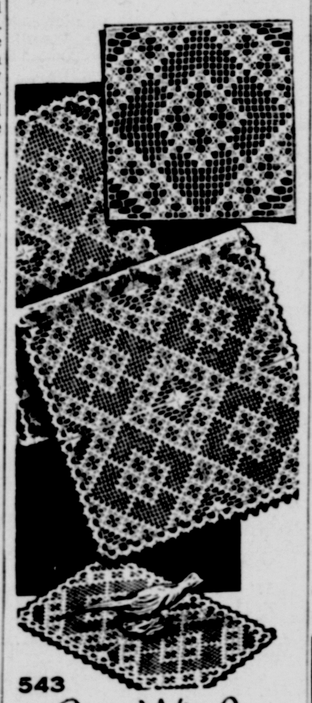

(A) He never even acknowledged your mail, and that should have been a strong hint. As far as he's concerned, you two don't matter to each other any more, and he wants it to stay that way. Instead, use your extra hours for projects that will take your mind off your disappointment and, in time, his indifference won't matter any more.

Miss Mottram cannot answer all letters personally, but the most important ones will be answered in her column.

Court Of Appeals Upholds Jury In Insurance Claim

The Maryland Court of Appeals has handed down an opinion, upholding the decision of a jury in Allegany Circuit Court awarding 80 per cent disability to John Del Signora in a case against the Union Mining Company of this county.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment of the jury in the local court after Del Signora had been awarded compensation in January, 1942, and which compensation had run out.

On September 24, 1943, the appellant requested the State Industrial Accident Commission to grant him a hearing to determine whether the injury sustained, because of the accident, is of a permanent nature.

This was done and the commission found on December 29, 1943, that "Compensation for temporary total disability shall cease as of November 15, 1943, and that the claimant did not sustain any permanent injury as a result of his accident."

Nothing more was done in the case until October 12, 1945, when counsel for the appellant for a "review of award in the case on the grounds of a change in conditions and for other reasons." A review of the case was held before the commission in March 1946 and the order of 1943 was affirmed.

An appeal was taken from this decision and a hearing held in Circuit Court before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson with a jury deciding in favor of Del Signora and granting him 80 per cent disability.

Del Signora was injured while at work for the Union Mining Company and after the initial award of compensation asked that the case be reopened due to his injuries becoming aggravated as a result of the accident. He was hurt about the arms and back.

Edward J. Ryan, William L. Wilson, Jr., and I. Duke Avnet were counsel for Del Signora, while John T. Fey and Charles Z. Heskett represented the mining company.

Ryan said the award amounts to approximately $5,000 in compensation.

Police Court Quiet After Slow Weekend

Police authorities termed the long Fourth of July holiday a peaceful one in every respect and Police Court yesterday morning substantiated that term, when few cases appeared.

Cases heard by Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., follow:

Three men forfeited $10 bonds on drunk and disorderly conduct charges. They are Thomas Cramblitt, Laing Avenue; John Newhouse, Davidson Street, and Clinton Knick, 318 Laing Avenue.

Another man, Cecil Davis, Clement Street, who had been sentenced to jail on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge, was released by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., to have a broken bone in his foot treated.

Another case, the result of a neighborhood quarrel, was held open for a check of developments. May Robinette, 629 Henderson Avenue, was charged by her neighbors, Evelyn and Robert Vanderhout, with shouting rude names at children at the Vanderhout home.

Charles F. Owens, 133 Virginia Avenue, forfeited $10 bond on a careless driving charge while Floyd W. Shaffer, Buffalo Mills, Pa., forfeited $5 when he failed to appear on a similar count.

Earl K. Potts, Route 6, posted $26.45 bond Sunday for appearance for a hearing on a reckless driving charge this morning at 9:30 in Police Court.

Garbage Odor Draws Criticism

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn yesterday received a suggestion from a local woman for alleviating the odor of garbage placed on sidewalks early in the evening of collection nights.

It read: "To the Chief of Police: Please warn the people of Cumberland not to put their garbage out on the street at 5 or 6 o'clock in the evening this hot weather. Do you think they would pay any attention if you put a notice in the newspaper. I think 10 or 10:30 would be soon enough in the hot weather as the men in the garbage truck don't usually get around till way past midnight."

Rizer Appointed Building Engineer

City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer was appointed city building engineer yesterday by the Mayor and Council, with the salary for both posts set at $400 monthly. The appointment is effective July 1.

The action followed approval of an ordinance amending the building code to permit the Mayor and Council to appoint the city engineer as building engineer.

City officials also approved the bid of $1,289.27 of the Geare-Everstine Agency for public liability, property damage liability and fire and theft insurance on motor vehicles owned by the city, as well as comprehensive insurance on all city-owned passenger automobiles.

James M. Conway, tax collector, reported that June tax payments amounted to $110,371.02; paving liens, $695.67; sewer liens, $235.65; and water rents, $36,683.17, for a total of $147,985.51.

Weighmaster Harry B. Hilleary reported 200 items weighed last month and a collection of $88.76 on fees.

A recommendation, submitted by Mayor Thomas S. Post, was accepted that $200 be donated the Fulton Myers Post No. 153, American Legion, for purchasing band instruments. The donation will be charged to the Park Fund.

An application for permission to install replacement tanks and additional storage facilities at South Center and Harrison Streets was made by the Independent Motor Fuel Supply Company. The application was referred to the city engineer and the fire chief.

A bid of $500 was accepted for the Katherine Buskey lot on Greenway Avenue made by Hazel Spicher, 601 Greenway Avenue.

C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendend of the Evitts Creek Water Company, reported 88,460,000 gallons of water consumed last week as compared to the 84,080,000 gallons for the same period last year.

The water level in Lake Gordon is six inches below the crest of the spillway. In Lake Koon the water level is one inch above the crest.

Marriage License Clerks Kept Busy

A total of 63 marriage licenses were issued at the office of the clerk of court here over the Independence Day weekend. The total for the month of June was 463. Clerks commented yesterday upon the large number of licenses being issued to young people, and a sudden spurt in the daily totals.

Licenses issued to residents of this area yesterday included the following:

George Washington Davis, 23 Boone Street, and Lola Eleanor Brown, 1314 Lafayette Avenue.

Bernard Smith, Zihlman, and Audury Bendel, Frostburg.

Robert Hines Foor, Everett, Pa., and Geraldine Marie Ross, Saxton, Pa.

Harold Lee Keister, Cresaptown, and Roberta Glenn McCusker, Cresaptown.

John Richard Engle, 158 East Loo Street, Frostburg, and Marguerite Helen Priddy, 414 Maryland Avenue.

Carl Joseph Varner and Helen Louise Leslie, both of RFD 5, city.

Robert Eugene Charlton, Stoyestown, Pa., and Wanda Rose Miller, Berlin, Pa.

Robert John Doyle and Elizabeth Ann Smith, both of Lonaconing.

Walter Carl Brotemarkle, RFD No. 6, city, and Eleanor Sloan Beeman, Lonaconing.

Robert Franklin Crowfis, 119 Henry Street, and Canzadia Nicholson, Akron, Ohio.

Clarence Elwood Baldwin, Keyser, W. Va., and Mary Lou Zais, Westernport.

William Charles Lafferty, 972 Maryland Avenue, and Dorothy Jean Rodenhauser, 109 Blaul Avenue.

Court To Hear Appeals In Beer License Cases

Two appeal cases involving applications for county beer licenses are scheduled to be heard by Chief Judge William A. Huster in Circuit Court today.

One case involves the rejection of the application of Charles G. Poisal for a license for his bowling alleys at Allegany Grove. The other is the rejected application of the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company.

Hearings in both cases were held several weeks ago by the Allegany County Liquor Control Board. Poisal was refused a license by the board after a number of residents declared property values in the section would be lowered and undesirable people would be attracted there, if a license were granted.

Poisal denied that such would be the case and pointed out that he has always operated within the law and that he has an investment of approximately $19,000 in the establishment.

John M. Robb is attorney for the remonstrants, while Noel Speir Cook and Estel C. Kelley represent Poisal.

The Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company was denied a beer license for its Fire Hall after a group of residents protested and brought out that less than 500 persons resided within one mile of the place as required under the county liquor law.

The case hinges upon the court interpretation of that section of the law pertaining to the number of residents living within the one-mile radius. It was stipulated by counsel for both sides that 429 persons live within the area defined.

Earle E. Manges and D. Lindley Sloan represent the remonstrants and Edward J. Ryan is counsel for the fire company.

Motorists Forfeit Bonds In Court

An unusually light Trial Magistrates Court was held yesterday morning, with only six cases tried following the heavy holiday weekend travel.

Harry T. Kerns, Green Spring W. Va., forfeited $11.45 on a charge of failing to keep to the right of center on Route 51 three miles east of the city and $16.45 for displaying tags on his car which had been issued to another vehicle.

James E. McDonald, Cresaptown, had a charge of reckless driving preferred against him by Trooper Spioch dismissed.

Thomas W. Morehead, 334 Greene Street, forfeited $3.45 on a charge of passing when the way ahead was not clear on Route 51 at Spring Gap July 2.

A Hagerstown man, Carlton Erie Dehart, forfeited $6.45 bond for exceeding 30 miles an hour through LaVale on Route 40 yesterday.

Brace C. Warner, Oldtown, also forfeited $6.45 for operating his car on Route 51 with no license tags.

Devon Ray Menges, 48 Broadway, Forfeited $3.45 for passing when the way ahead was not clear.

Hunting Licenses Placed On Sale

The sale of hunting licenses opened yesterday morning at the Court House with Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, former major league pitcher, taking out the first statewide license.

Attaches at the Court House said that copies of the state game laws have not been received but are expected soon. The hunting season opens in this county in September with squirrels the first game animals legally open to killing.

Women Of Moose To Hold Rehearsal Tonight

Mrs. Betty Page, senior regent of Cumberland Chapter 914, Women of the Moose, will hold a rehearsal at 7 tonight at the Moose home. Those interested in being an escort are asked to please be present.

The regular chapter meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night, at which time initiation of candidates will take place. Mrs. Page will preside.

DEATHS

WALTER HUGHES RITES

A funeral service for Walter Hughes, 53, Bowman's Addition, who died Saturday at his home, was conducted yesterday afternoon at the home.

Rev. William J. Elliott, pastor of First Methodist Church, officiated and burial was in Presbyterian Cemetery, Hancock.

Active pallbearers, members of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, were Truman C. Fuller, Albert Kerns, Philmore Fleming, John R. Neff, Richard Matthews and J. T. Defibaugh, Jr.

Honorary pallbearers, members of Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company, were Herbert Sarver, Lamar Minnick, David Robertson, Wade Teeter, Herman and John E. Geise.

Military rites at the grave were in charge of Webster B. Harrison Post No. 26, American Legion, Hancock. The color guard included William Hendershot, Russell Shank, Wilbur Geise, Vernon Gazer and James Sensel. Lloyd Brakeall, commander; John Mimick, chaplain, and Ronald Zeigler, buglar, assisted in the rites.

JOHN B. LIGHTFOOT, JR.

Word was received by Mrs. Gordon Lee Bowie, 506 Washington Street, of the sudden death of her uncle, John B. Lightfoot, Jr., in Richmond, Va., yesterday.

A well known Richmond attorney, Mr. Lightfoot was a brother of the late Mrs. Edwin B. Claybrook, this city, and was a frequent visitor here.

The funeral service and burial will take place in Richmond today.

MRS. JOHN IDONI

Mrs. Taresa Idoni, 75, wife of John Idoni, died at her home in Caulonia, Italy, on June 30, according to word received yesterday by her son, Patsy Idoni, this city. Mrs. Idoni was born in Caulonia February 13, 1873.

Surviving besides her husband are six sons, three in Italy and three in this country, Patsy, Cumberland; Domenick, Keyser, W. Va., and Nick, Grafton, W. Va., and five daughters, all in Italy.

MRS. CHARLES W. FISHER

Mrs. Minnie G. Fisher, 49, wife of Charles W. Fisher, 501 Maryland Avenue, died Monday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Boone, Philadelphia, Pa.

She was a native of Shepherdstown, W. Va., a daughter of the late William and Mary Koontz Rowe. She was a member of the Royal Neighbors of America.

Surviving, besides her husband, a B. and O. worker, are three sons, Maynard and Earl Fisher, this city, and William, Philadelphia; one daughter, Miss Norma Fisher, this city; two brothers, Roy and Earl Rowe, both of Shepherdstown, and another sister, Mrs. Pearl Botens, Plymouth Falls, Ore.

A funeral service will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Rev. Edward Clark. Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery.

WILLIAM SHIRCLIFF RITES

A requiem high mass was celebrated Monday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church for William Henry Shircliff, 72, Flintstone, who died last week in Allegany Hospital. Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenney, pastor, was celebrant and interment was in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Pallbearers were Emmett Fahey, Patrick Creegan, James J. Condon, John J. Cavanaugh, Edward Conley and William McCleary.

ALBERT MINKE RITES

A requiem mass for Albert Minke, 53, Elkins, W. Va., chief train dispatcher for the Western Maryland Railway at Elkins, who died in that city Saturday, will be celebrated this morning at 9 o'clock in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

West Virginia Driver Dies Following Crash

A West Virginia motorist, Calvin Lloyd Dawson, died Monday in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, as a result of an automobile accident on Route 50 at Town Hill near Romney, W. Va.

Dawson was admitted to the hospital after his car sideswiped another car driven by Haven Sions, Burlington, W .Va., police reported. The victim was thrown from his car, according to the hospital report, and suffered head and leg wounds.

Sions was uninjured, but his daughter and a friend's child in the car with him were treated for minor injuries and released.

Choir Picnic Friday

BERYL, W. Va.—The Adult Choir of Beryl Presbyterian Church will hold a picnic dinner Friday evening at the State Park at New Creek. Members of the choir will meet at the church at 6 p. m.

Permission Asked For Rodeo Show

The Mayor and Council yesterday referred to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn a request for permission to engage the Milt Hinkle rodeo show of San Antonio, Tex., for performances at Community Park the nights of July 28 through 31, with a matinee the last day.

H. R. Whip, business manager of the Cumberland Dukes basketball club, who made the request, apologized for the trouble caused recently by the Harrison Greater Shows, a carnival sponsored by the club, and thanked the Police Department for closing "undesirable concessions."

In a routine monthly report from Commissioner William V. Keegan the work of the Police and Fire Departments was reported.

The Police Department made 432 arrests and collected $868 in fines in June. The Fire Department made 25 calls and reported that property loss was small. The dismissal of Policeman Charles P. Stewart for "conduct unbecoming an officer" was reported.

Edgar Reynolds, commissioner of streets and public property, reported that 23 sewer connections had been made, one changed, two extended, one renewed, 16 opened and 13 repaired during the month of June.

Reynolds listed sections of 11 streets as having been repaved with brick and concrete. They included North Centre, Baltimore, North Liberty, South Liberty, North Mechanic, Smith, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Fifth, Washington, and Oldtown Road.

William J. Edwards, commissioner of light and water, reported 19 applications for taps during June and 19 applications for meters. Fees of $1,065.00 were collected.

Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk, reported on receipts for June. They included general license, $484.00; pin ball licenses $425.00; produce permits, $12.50; Sunday moving picture fees collected, $1,267.20; admission tax of five cents on all persons attending bingo games, $611.45. The grand total of receipts collected was $2,800.15.

California Arrests Former Local Man

A former resident, Edwin Hopwood, who has been sought for the past three years on a charge of being an Army deserter, has been arrested in Fresno, Cal., on charges of mail fraud and forgery, local authorities have been advised.

California police report that Hopwood had been living under his correct name in that state. The 26-year-old native of Cumberland left for the armed forces with Company G in 1941, but shortly afterward transferred into the Air Force, local National Guard officers revealed yesterday.

While here, Hopwood attended Greene Street Junior High School and Allegany High School.

Frostburg Legion Names Officers For Coming Year

Frank T. Powers Is Re-Elected

FROSTBURG — Frank T. Powers was re-elected to his second term as commander of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, at the annual election last night.

Officials Ponder

Expenses, alowances and inheritance tax accounted for $1,666.02 leaving a balance of $8,241.38 which was divided equally among five brothers and a sister, each receiving $1,373.57.

Relatives of the deceased Morgan were not inclined to discuss the fact that the man had hoarded money in his home, but confirmed the report, saying "it was all turned in and the estate settled." Register of Wills office records confirmed the settlement of the estate and source of the funds.

It was also recalled that only a couple of weeks ago, a woman on public relief, Mrs. Jennie Peyt 1, Lexington Avenue, was found dead and a search of her home revealed $514 in cash hidden in various places and a large accumulation of clothing, food stuffs, medicines and dry goods.

From time to time, public officials come across cases of this type, and express amazement at the peculiar habit old people acquire of saving money and keeping it about their person or their premises. Police officials cite the danger of the practice and urge all who may be following such a custom to take their valuables to a bank and put them in a safe deposit box or deposit their surplus funds in banks or in government savings bonds.

Lawn Social Planned

The Men's Brotherhood of Potomac Park Evangelical United Brethren Church will sponsor an old-fashioned lawn social on the church grounds Saturday beginning at 6 p. m. Proceeds will be used for the church building fund. The public is invited.

Court Of Appeals Upholds Jury In Insurance Claim

The Maryland Court of Appeals has handed down an opinion, upholding the decision of a jury in Allegany Circuit Court awarding 80 per cent disability to John Del Signora in a case against the Union Mining Company of this county.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment of the jury in the local court after Del Signora had been awarded compensation in January, 1942, and which compensation had run out.

On September 24, 1943, the appellant requested the State Industrial Accident Commission to grant him a hearing to determine whether the injury sustained, because of the accident, is of a permanent nature.

This was done and the commission found on December 29, 1943, that "Compensation for temporary total disability shall cease as of November 15, 1943, and that the claimant did not sustain any permanent injury as a result of his accident."

Nothing more was done in the case until October 12, 1945, when counsel for the appellant for a "review of award in the case on the grounds of a change in conditions and for other reasons." A review of the case was held before the commission in March 1946 and the order of 1943 was affirmed.

An appeal was taken from this decision and a hearing held in Circuit Court before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson with a jury deciding in favor of Del Signora and granting him 80 per cent disability.

Del Signora was injured while at work for the Union Mining Company and after the initial award of compensation asked that the case be reopened due to his injuries becoming aggravated as a result of the accident. He was hurt about the arms and back.

Edward J. Ryan, William L. Wilson, Jr., and I. Duke Avnet were counsel for Del Signora, while John T. Fey and Charles Z. Heskett represented the mining company.

Ryan said the award amounts to approximately $5,000 in compensation.

Police Court Quiet After Slow Weekend

Police authorities termed the long Fourth of July holiday a peaceful one in every respect and Police Court yesterday morning substantiated that term, when few cases appeared.

Cases heard by Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., follow:

Three men forfeited $10 bonds on drunk and disorderly conduct charges. They are Thomas Cramblitt, Laing Avenue; John Newhouse, Davidson Street, and Clinton Knick, 318 Laing Avenue.

Another man, Cecil Davis, Clement Street, who had been sentenced to jail on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge, was released by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., to have a broken bone in his foot treated.

Another case, the result of a neighborhood quarrel, was held open for a check of developments. May Robinette, 629 Henderson Avenue, was charged by her neighbors, Evelyn and Robert Vanderhout, with shouting rude names at children at the Vanderhout home.

Charles F. Owens, 133 Virginia Avenue, forfeited $10 bond on a careless driving charge while Floyd W. Shaffer, Buffalo Mills, Pa., forfeited $5 when he failed to appear on a similar count.

Earl K. Potts, Route 6, posted $26.45 bond Sunday for appearance for a hearing on a reckless driving charge this morning at 9:30 in Police Court.

Garbage Odor Draws Criticism

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn yesterday received a suggestion from a local woman for alleviating the odor of garbage placed on sidewalks early in the evening of collection nights.

It read: "To the Chief of Police: Please warn the people of Cumberland not to put their garbage out on the street at 5 or 6 o'clock in the evening this hot weather. Do you think they would pay any attention if you put a notice in the newspaper. I think 10 or 10:30 would be soon enough in the hot weather as the men in the garbage truck don't usually get around till way past midnight."

Rizer Appointed Building Engineer

City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer was appointed city building engineer yesterday by the Mayor and Counril, with the salary for both posts set at $400 monthly. The appointment is effective July 1.

The action followed approval of an ordinance amending the building code to permit the Mayor and Council to appoint the city engineer as building engineer.

City officials also approved the bid of $1,289.27 of the Geare-Eversting Agency for public liability, property damage liability and fire and theft insurance on motor vehicles owned by the city, as well as comprehensive insurance on all city-owned passenger automobiles.

James M. Conway, tax collector, reported that June tax payments amounted to $110,371.02; paving liens, $695.67; sewer liens, $235.65; and water rents, $36,683.17, for a total of $147,985.51.

Weighmaster Harry B. Hilleary reported 200 items weighed last month and a collection of $88.76 on fees.

A recommendation, submitted by Mayor Thomas S. Post, was accepted that $200 be donated the Fulton Myers Post No. 153, American Legion, for purchasing band instruments. The donation will be charged to the Park Fund.

An application for permission to install replacement tanks and additional storage facilities at South Center and Harrison Streets was made by the Independent Motor Fuel Supply Company. The application was referred to the city engineer and the fire chief.

A bid of $500 was accepted for the Katherine Buskey lot on Greenway Avenue made by Hazel Spicher, 601 Greenway Avenue.

C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendend of the Evitts Creek Water Company, reported 88,460,000 gallons of water consumed last week as compared to the 84,080,000 gallons for the same period last year.

The water level in Lake Gordon is six inches below the crest of the spillway. In Lake Koon the water level is one inch above the crest.

Marriage License Clerks Kept Busy

A total of 63 marriage licenses were issued at the office of the clerk of court here over the Independence Day weekend. The total for the month of June was 463. Clerks commented yesterday upon the large number of licenses being issued to young people, and a sudden spurt in the daily totals.

Licenses issued to residents of this area yesterday included the following:

George Washington Davis, 23 Boone Street, and Lola Eleanor Brown, 1314 Lafayette Avenue.

Bernard Smith, Zihlman, and Audury Bendel, Frostburg.

Robert Hines Foor, Everett, Pa., and Geraldine Marie Ross, Saxton, Pa.

Harold Lee Keister, Cresaptown, and Roberta Glenn McCusker, Cresaptown.

John Richard Engle, 158 East Loo Street, Frostburg, and Marguerite Helen Priddy, 414 Maryland Avenue.

Carl Joseph Varner and Helen Louise Leslie, both of RFD 5, city.

Robert Eugene Charlton, Stoyestown, Pa., and Wanda Rose Miller, Berlin, Pa.

Robert John Doyle and Elizabeth Ann Smith, both of Lonaconing.

Walter Carl Brotemarkle, RFD No. 6, city, and Eleanor Sloan Beeman, Lonaconing.

Clarence Elwood Baldwin, Keyser, W. Va., and Mary Lou Zais, Westernport.

William Charles Lafferty, 972 Maryland Avenue, and Dorothy Jean Rodenhauser, 109 Blaul Avenue.

Court To Hear Appeals In Beer License Cases

Two appeal cases involving applications for county beer licenses are scheduled to be heard by Chief Judge William A. Huster in Circuit Court today.

One case involves the rejection of the application of Charles G. Poisal for a license for his bowling alleys at Allegany Grove. The other is the rejected application of the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company.

Hearings in both cases were held several weeks ago by the Allegany County Liquor Control Board. Foisal was refused a license by the board after a number of residents declared property values in the section would be lowered and undesirable people would be attracted there, if a license were granted.

Poisal denied that such would be the case and pointed out that he has always operated within the law and that he has an investment of approximately $19,000 in the establishment.

John M. Robb is attorney for the remonstrants, while Noel Speir Cook and Estel C. Kelley represent Poisal.

The Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company was denied a beer license for its Fire Hall after a group of residents protested and brought out that less than 500 persons resided within one mile of the place as required under the county liquor law.

The case hinges upon the court interpretation of that section of the law pertaining to the number of residents living within the one-mile radius. It was stipulated by counsel for both sides that 429 persons live within the area defined.

Earle E. Manges and D. Lindley Sloan represent the remonstrants and Edward J. Ryan is counsel for the fire company.

Motorists Forfeit Bonds In Court

An unusually light Trial Magistrates Court was held yesterday morning, with only six cases tried following the heavy holiday weekend travel.

Harry T. Kerns, Green Spring W. Va., forfeited $11.45 on a charge of failing to keep to the right of center on Route 51 three miles east of the city and $16.45 for displaying tags on his car which had been issued to another vehicle.

James E. McDonald, Cresaptown, had a charge of reckless driving preferred against him by Trooper Spioch dismissed.

Thomas W. Morehead, 334 Greene Street, forfeited $3.45 on a charge of passing when the way ahead was not clear on Route 51 at Spring Gap July 2.

A Hagerstown man, Carlton Erie Dehart, forfeited $6.45 bond for exceeding 30 miles an hour through LaVale on Route 40 yesterday.

Brace C. Warner, Oldtown, also forfeited $6.45 for operating his car on Route 51 with no license tags.

Devon Ray Menges, 48 Broadway, Forfeited $3.45 for passing when the way ahead was not clear.

Hunting Licenses Placed On Sale

The sale of hunting licenses opened yesterday morning at the Court House with Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, former major league pitcher, taking out the first statewide license.

Attaches at the Court House said that copies of the state game laws have not been received but are expected soon. The hunting season opens in this county in September with squirrels the first game animals legally open to killing.

Women Of Moose To Hold Rehearsal Tonight

Mrs. Betty Page, senior regent of Cumberland Chapter 914, Women of the Moose, will hold a rehearsal at 7 tonight at the Moose home. Those interested in being an escort are asked to please be present.

The regular chapter meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night, at which time initiation of candidates will take place. Mrs. Page will preside.

DEATHS

WALTER HUGHES RITES

A funeral service for Walter Hughes, 53, Bowman's Addition, who died Saturday at his home, was conducted yesterday afternoon at the home.

Rev. William J. Elliott, pastor of First Methodist Church, officiated and burial was in Presbyterian Cemetery, Hancock.

Active pallbearers, members of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, were Truman E. Fuller, Albert Kerns, Philmore Fleming, John R. Neff, Richard Matthews and J. T. Defibaugh, Jr.

Honorary pallbearers, members of Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company, were Herbert Sarver, Lamar Minnick, David Robertson, Wade Teeter, Herman and John E. Geise.

Military rites at the grave were in charge of Webster B. Harrison Post No. 26, American Legion, Hancock. The color guard included William Hendershot, Russell Shank, Wilbur Geise, Vernon Gazer and James Sensel. Lloyd Brakeall, commander; John Mimick, chaplain, and Ronald Zeigler, buglar, assisted in the rites.

JOHN B. LIGHTFOOT, JR.

Word was received by Mrs. Gordon Lee Bowie, 506 Washington Street, of the sudden death of her uncle, John B. Lightfoot, Jr., in Richmond, Va., yesterday.

A well known Richmond attorney, Mr. Lightfoot was a brother of the late Mrs. Edwin B. Claybrook, this city, and was a frequent visitor here.

The funeral service and burial will take place in Richmond today.

MRS. JOHN IDONI

Mrs. Taresa Idoni, 75, wife of John Idoni, died at her home in Caulonia, Italy, on June 30, according to word received yesterday by her son, Patsy Idoni, this city. Mrs. Idoni was born in Caulonia February 13, 1873.

Surviving besides her husband are six sons, three in Italy and three in this country, Patsy, Cumberland; Domenick, Keyser, W. Va., and Nick, Grafton, W. Va., and five daughters, all in Italy.

MRS. CHARLES W. FISHER

Mrs. Minnie G. Fisher, 49, wife of Charles W. Fisher, 501 Maryland Avenue, died Monday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Boone, Philadelphia, Pa.

She was a native of Shepherdstown, W. Va., a daughter of the late William and Mary Koontz Rowe. She was a member of the Royal Neighbors of America.

Surviving, besides her husband, a B. and O. worker, are three sons, Maynard and Earl Fisher, this city, and William, Philadelphia; one daughter, Miss Norma Fisher, this city; two brothers, Roy and Earl Rowe, both of Shepherdstown, and another sister, Mrs. Pearl Botens, Plymouth Falls, Ore.

A funeral service will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Rev. Edward Clark. Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery.

WILLIAM SHIRCLIFF RITES

A requiem high mass was celebrated Monday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church for William Henry Shircliff, 72, Flintstone, who died last week in Allegany Hospital. Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenney, pastor, was celebrant and interment was in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Pallbearers were Emmett Fahey, Patrick Creegan, James J. Condon, John J. Cavanaugh, Edward Conley and William McCleary.

ALBERT MINKE RITES

A requiem mass for Albert Minke, 53, Elkins, W. Va., chief train dispatcher for the Western Maryland Railway at Elkins, who died in that city Saturday, will be celebrated this morning at 9 o'clock in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

West Virginia Driver Dies Following Crash

A West Virginia motorist, Calvin Lloyd Dawson, died Monday in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, as a result of an automobile accident on Route 50 at Town Hill near Romney, W. Va.

Dawson was admitted to the hospital after his car sideswiped another car driven by Haven Sions, Burlington, W .Va., police reported. The victim was thrown from his car, according to the hospital report, and suffered head and leg wounds.

Sions was uninjured, but his daughter and a friend's child in the car with him were treated for minor injuries and released.

Choir Picnic Friday

BERYL, W. Va.—The Adult Choir of Beryl Presbyterian Church will hold a picnic dinner Friday evening at the State Park at New Creek. Members of the choir will meet at the church at 6 p. m.

Permission Asked For Rodeo Show

The Mayor and Council yesterday referred to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn a request for permission to engage the Milt Hinkle rodeo show of San Antonio, Tex., for performances at Community Park the nights of July 28 through 31, with a matinee the last day.

H. R. Whip, business manager of the Cumberland Dukes basketball club, who made the request, apologized for the trouble caused recently by the Harrison Greater Shows, a carnival sponsored by the club, and thanked the Police Department for closing "undesirable concessions."

In a routine monthly report from Commissioner William V. Keegan the work of the Police and Fire Departments was reported.

The Police Department made 432 arrests and collected $868 in fines in June. The Fire Department made 25 calls and reported that property loss was small. The dismissal of Policeman Charles P. Stewart for "conduct unbecoming an officer" was reported.

Edgar Reynolds, commissioner of streets and public property, reported that 23 sewer connections had been made, one changed, two extended, one renewed, 16 opened and 13 repaired during the month of June.

Reynolds listed sections of 11 streets as having been repaved with brick and concrete. They included North Centre, Baltimore, North Liberty, South Liberty, North Mechanic, Smith, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Fifth, Washington, and Oldtown Road.

William J. Edwards, commissioner of light and water, reported 19 applications for taps during June and 19 applications for meters. Fees of $1,065.00 were collected.

Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk, reported on receipts for June. They included general license, $484.00; pin ball licenses $425.00; produce permits, $12.50; Sunday moving picture fees collected, $1,267.20; admission tax of five cents on all persons attending bingo games, $611.45. The grand total of receipts collected was $2,800.15.

California Arrests Former Local Man

A former resident, Edwin Hopwood, who has been sought for the past three years on a charge of being an Army deserter, has been arrested in Fresno, Cal., on charges of mail fraud and forgery, local authorities have been advised.

California police report that Hopwood had been living under his correct name in that state. The 26-year-old native of Cumberland left for the armed forces with Company G in 1941, but shortly afterward transferred into the Air Force, local National Guard officers revealed yesterday.

While here, Hopwood attended Greene Street Junior High School and Allegany High School.

Officials Ponder

Expenses, alowances and inheritance tax accounted for $1,666.02 leaving a balance of $8,241.38 which was divided equally among five brothers and a sister, each receiving $1,373.57.

Relatives of the deceased Morgan were not inclined to discuss the fact that the man had hoarded money in his home, but confirmed the report, saying "it was all turned in and the estate settled." Register of Wills office records confirmed the settlement of the estate and source of the funds.

It was also recalled that only a couple of weeks ago, a woman on public relief, Mrs. Jennie Peyton, Lexington Avenue, was found dead and a search of her home revealed $514 in cash hidden in various places and a large accumulation of clothing, food stuffs, medicines and dry goods.

From time to time, public officials come across cases of this type, and express amazement at the peculiar habit old people acquire of saving money and keeping it about their person or their premises. Police officials cite the danger of the practice and urge all who may be following such a custom to take their valuables to a bank and put them in a safe deposit box or deposit their surplus funds in banks or in government savings bonds.

Bi-State League All-Stars Clash In Westernport Today

Dodger School To Close Today, 70 Get Tryouts

Boys Come 150 Miles, School Goes To "Pen"

Approximately seventy boys have worked out under the watchful eyes of Scout Rex Bowen and his aides during the past two days at the Brooklyn Dodgers' baseball school which draws to a close today at Community Park.

Eighty per cent of the tossers came from out-of-town communities as far as 150 miles from Cumberland, Bowen stated.

Today's session will get under way at 9 a. m., and will continue without interruption until about 2 p. m.

Bowen is being assisted by James Vennari, former minor league catcher, and Art Garbark and Eddie Diehl, managers of the local American Legion senior and junior nines.

Earl Bruce Shows Speed

The Brooklyn scout who conducted recent baseball schools at Frederick, Md., and Parkersburg, W. Va., related that among the tests given the youngsters was the 60 yards dash. Those who can do it in seven seconds are considered fast baseball men. He points out that Earl "Lefty" Bruce, Allegany High junior, sprinted the distance in that time yesterday, beating Tommy Powers by a step. Bruce is considered one of the fastest high school runners in Maryland.

Bowen was favorably impressed with several boys brought here from Nemacolin, Pa., by Lafe "Red" Byard, one-time star of the Fairmont Black Diamonds of the Middle Atlantic League. Scout Bowen, incidentally, is a brother-in-law of Harvey "Tommy" Thompson, who pitched for the Clarksburg Generals in the Middle Atlantic League when Cumberland was in the circuit in the late 1920s.

A regular game is staged each day at the school and each pitcher is required to work at least two innings.

The Dodgers' next school will be held at Mt. Holly, near Trenton, N. J., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Plan School At Prison

Bowen revealed at the Dodgers will also hold a tryout school for youngsters at the West Virginia State Penitentiary, Moundsville, August 3, 4, 5 and 6. Moundsville is reported to have the best park in the Wheeling area the Dodgers were invited to hold their school inside the prison grounds.

Oakland Stopped By Klondyke, 5-3

Amvets Drop Second After Winning, 4-3

OAKLAND, Md., July 6—The nine-game winning streak of Oakland's Amvets was snapped here yesterday when Klondyke won the second game of an Upper Potomac Baseball League doubleheader from the locals by the score of 5-3. Oakland won the first game by the score of 4-3.

Bob Glaze gained the verdict over Herb Johnson in a neat pitching duel in the opening tilt. Glaze yielded five hits and fanned ten. Johnson gave up eight safeties and struck out seven. Ted James of Oakland and Winters of Klondyke rapped out a double and single each.

S. Buskirk and Miller twirled Klondyke to victory in the nightcap. Corrigan of Klondyke and Lyons of Oakland each smacked a homer and single.

Oakland's league record is 13 wins and 6 defeats. Klondyke has won ten and lost six. The scores:

FIRST GAME

KLONDYKE	100	000	200	3	5	4
OAKLAND	200	101	00x	4	8	4

11 Teams Represented, Williams Tops Vote

Harris And Durocher To Pick Other Players

CHICAGO, July 6—(AP)—A record vote of more than four million baseball fans today named players from six National and five American league clubs to the starting lineups for the All-Star game at St. Louis July 13.

The players, excluding pitchers—which Managers Leo Durocher of the National League and Bucky Harris of the American League will pick themselves—were selected in a three-week poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune and 452 other newspapers and radio stations.

The contest ended Monday at midnight.

The lineups as dictated by the fans:

American	Pos.	National
McQuinn, N. Y.	1b	Mize, N. Y.
Gordon, Cleveland	2b	Stanky, Boston
Kell, Detroit	3b	Pafko, Chicago
Boudreau, Clev'l'nd	ss	Reese, Brooklyn
Williams, Boston	lf	Musial, St. Louis
J. DiMaggio, N. Y.	cf	Ashburn, Phila.
Mullin, Detroit	rf	Slaughter, St. Louis
Rosar, Phila.	c	Cooper, N. Y.

Only Pittsburgh and Cincinnati failed to place a starter in the National League, while Chicago, St. Louis and Washington were shut out in the American League.

Williams Leads In Votes

Biggest individual vote-getter was Boston's Ted Williams, who garnered mention on 1,556,784 of the 4,107,893 lineups submitted by fans in the wide-spread balloting.

Yankee Clipper Di Maggio, the 1947 leader with approximately the same number of votes Williams collected, placed third this year behind Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, who topped National League returns with 1,532,502.

Under the pact between the Tribune and Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler and with Presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Ford Frick of the National League, the managers must use the lineups designated by the fans for the first three innings.

Managers To Pick Others

Remainder of the 25-player squads to be picked by each manager is expected to follow closely the fan voting at the various positions beyond pitchers.

Harris inherited the job of master-minding the Americans by virtue of his New York Yankees' 1947 pennant triumph. Durocher was out of baseball last season by Chandler's decree, but drew the National League managership because the Dodgers copped in that league last year.

Voting centers were located in 47 states and the District of Columbia, but thousands of votes poured in from Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Cuba, Mexico, Guatemala, Panama, Venezuela, Costa Rica, British West Indies, Ecuador, Honduras, Brazil and Columbia.

It took the last day's balloting to determine the starting American League catcher, Philadelphia's Rosar, who had a margin of less than 35,000 over Boston's Birdie Tebbetts.

Frostburg To Play Keyser Thursday

Bi-State Contest Set For Keyser At 5:15

Frostburg's V.F.W. tossers, trailing Westvaco's league leaders by 1½ games, will play off a postponed game with the Keyser A.C., at Keyser on Thursday at 5:15 p. m., it was announced last night by the Frostburg management.

Frostburg has won 12 and lost 4 while Westvaco's record is 15-4.

The Frostburg-Keyser game was postponed on June 13.

Frostburg players will leave by truck from the V.F.W. home tomorrow at 3:30 p. m.

In Bi-State League holiday games played Monday, Westvaco defeated the Queen City Brewers, 8-6, snapping the latter's four-game victory streak, Keyser scored its second win in as many days by topping the Hyndman Firemen, 7-6, Frostburg VFW took Barton into camp 9-2, the Cumberland Amvets downed Lonaconing 7-2 and Midland trimmed Mt. Savage 10-5.

U. S. Olympic Team Is Short Of Funds

$100,000 Is Needed, Team Sails July 14

CHICAGO, July 6 (INS) — The United States Olympic Committee won't be able to take a full complement of athletes to the summer games at London unless it raises nearly $100,000 in one whale of a hurry.

Avery Brundage, president of the U.S.O.C., admitted that today. He said he had asked for help from thousands of individuals so that the United States' Olympic goal of $500,000 may be realized by sailing time July 14.

As of now, the U.S.O.C. has collected only a little more than $330,000. An additional $60,000 has been pledged by sponsors of the forthcoming track and field trials at Evanston, Ill., and the Detroit Olympic group has pledged $20,000.

That leaves about $90,000 to be found sometime within the next week or so.

If the money isn't forthcoming, teams will be left behind according to a pre-ordained list of dwindling importance. However, Brundage said, any team that raises at least half of its budget may take at least half of its personnel to London, regardless of its place on the list.

"Least important" sport, according to the list, is field hockey. Then come canoeing, yachting, cycling, water polo, pistol shooting, weight lifting, soccer, fencing and gymnastics.

Trout Of Detroit Blanks Cleveland

Dizzy Also Hits Homer In Team's 9-0 Triumph

CLEVELAND, July 6—(AP)—Dizzy Trout shut out the league-leading Cleveland Indians, 9-0, and hit a home run into the upper deck of the left field stand tonight to help his own cause as the Detroit Tigers sewed up the game with three-run clusters in the fourth and fifth innings. Score:

DETROIT	000	330	021—9 14 0
CLEVELAND	000	000	000—0 6 2

Trout and Swift. Muncrief, Gromek (5), Black (8) and Hegan, Tipton.

Homeruns: Wertz (Det.) 4th (2 on); Trout, (Det.) 5th.

Losing pitcher: Muncrief.

A'S SUBDUE NATS

WASHINGTON, July 6—(AP)—Lou Brissie survived a 2-run Washington rally in the eighth inning tonight to move the Philadelphia Athletics within 10 percentage points of first place with a 5-3 victory over the Senators.

The game was called at the end of eight innings to permit Washington to catch a train. Score:

PHILADELPHIA	220	000	01—5 13 0
WASHINGTON	001	000	02—3 11 0

(Game called to allow teams to catch train.)

Homerun: Joost (Phila.) 1st.

Losing pitcher: Masterson.

DOBSON TAMES YANKS

BOSTON, July 6—(AP)—A five hit 2-1 decision gave right hander Joe Dobson his 10th pitching win of the season and his Boston Red Sox a three game sweep over the New York Yankees tonight before a chilled 31,735 crowd. Dobson totaled seven strikeouts, three of them in the ninth inning. Score:

NEW YORK	000	000	010—1 5 3
BOSTON	110	000	00x—2 6 1

Hiller, Gumpert (8) and Berra; Dobson and Tebbetts.

Losing pitcher—Hiller.

BROWNS TOP CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 6—(AP)—Paul Lehner's eighth inning single scored Al Zarilla with the winning run as St. Louis defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7-6, before 13,151 persons here tonight. Score:

ST. LOUIS	202	100	110—7 13 2

Amvets Face Crusaders, Reed's Meets North End

Undefeated teams in the City Softball League's second half race will face worthy opponents today when the Cumberland Amvets (4-0) tackle Joe's Crusaders (2-2) at Campobello and Reed's Electricians (4-0) do battle with the North End Social and Athletic Club (3-1) at Stitcher Field.

In other games on tap for today Lacy's Delicatets, first half champions, will play Ballard's at Taylor Field and Astor Cab will be host to Mower's Bakery on the Rolling Mill diamond.

Giants Buy Dreisewerd From St. Louis Browns

ST. LOUIS, July 6 (INS)—The St. Louis Browns said today they have sold Clem Dreisewerd, 32-year-old lefthander, to the New York Giants for the $10,000 waiver price.

Dreisewerd served with the American League champion Boston Red Sox in 1946 and last year was with Louisville of the American Association.

Appearing exclusively as a relief hurler this season, he lost both of the decisions recorded against his name.

Betting, Attendance Decrease In Illinois

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP) — The Illinois Racing Board today reported the recent 30-day meeting of the Lincoln Fields Jockey Club at Washington Park slumped in mutuel handle and attendance from the previous year, but that average betting per person increased.

Total mutual handle for the meeting was $24,162,076, a decrease of about four per cent from last year's $25,173,647. Total attendance for 1948 was 374,507, a decrease of almost nine per cent.

Average bet per person, however, was $64.52 per day this year, an increase of $3.13 over 1947 when the Lincoln Fields meeting was held at Hawthorne Park.

Rockets Buy Players

CHICAGO, July 6—(AP)—Purchase of Fullbacks Eddie Prokop and Dewey Proctor from the New York Yankees was announced today by the Chicago Rockets.

The Rockets recently sent Fullback Bill Daley to the Yankees in a trade for Nate Johnson, who won All-America Conference honors at tackle last season.

League Will Meet

A meeting of the County Softball League will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Corriganville American Legion Home. Among the matters to be taken up is the recent protest filed by Wellersburg in its game with Narrows Park.

Golf Match Postponed

Postponement of the golf match between the Somerset (Pa.) and Cumberland Country Club men's teams from today until August 4 was announced yesterday. The match will be played here.

Bedford will play the CCC team here July 14.

Corner Merchants	9	21	.300

Corriganville cracked the five-game winning streak of the Corner Merchants yesterday by taking both ends of a County Softball League doubleheader at Corriganville by scores of 3-1 and 16-2.

The twin victory enabled Corriganville to boost its record above the .500 mark.

Charley Fetters performed the "iron man" stunt by pitching and winning both games for Corriganville.

In the opener Bill Clauson and Lloyd Kline belted triples for the winners while Goebel obtained the Merchants' lone bingle.

In the nightcap Fleegle and Jack Clauson hit homers and Kline, Fetters and Mosser rapped two hits each for Corrigansville. Dean smashed a homer and Dickel garnered a two-bagger for the losers.

Allegany Grove staged a five-run uprising in the ninth inning to defeat the Hyndman Firemen at Hyndman, Pa., 6-2. The Firemen had tied up the game at 1-1 in the last of the 7th. Burkett's home run highlighted the winning rally. M. Wertz with a triple and double and Burkett with a homer and two-bagger paced the Grove hitters. Burkett limited Hyndman to four safeties.

Scoring four runs in the 7th to break a 7-7 tie, Ellerslie took the Phone Workers into camp at Taylor Field by the score of 11-8. Patton of C. & P. collected three hits while Clites and Mason had two blows each for Ellerslie.

Narrows Park took undisputed possession of second place five full games in the rear of the idle Wellersburg team by downing Bedford Road, 7-6. "Lefty" Wolz was returned the winer over Mayo. Jack Mayo and Jack Mertens of Bedford Road and Hartsock and R. Troutman of the Park each hit safely twice.

Wellersburg jumped away to a five-run lead in the first inning only to have rain wash out its game with the Potomac Valley Cubs at Wellersburg.

Today the Phone Workers are scheduled to play in Corriganville. Scores:

Kline's And Marines Cop City Loop Games

Rallying for four runs in the 8th inning, Kline's Market turned back the Naval Reserve for the first time this season by defeating the latter to the tune of 8-5 in a City Junior Softball League game yesterday at Stitcher Field. It was the 12th win against two setbacks for Kline's.

Jack Devault was the "big gun" with a homer and single for the winners. Hanekamp homered and singled for the losers. The victory was the ninth for Eady against one loss.

The Marine Reserve swatsmiths unloosed a 17-hit attack to swamp Merrill Brothers at East Side by the score of 13-2. Jimmy Close with two doubles and a single, Francis Kitzmiller with two triples and a single and Jimmie Lease with a double and two singles headed the Marine attack. Murray limited the Grocers to three hits. Scores:

Paterson, Homesick, Returns To Scotland

GLASGOW, Scotland, July 6 (AP) —Homesick Jackie Paterson, former world flyweight champion, came home by plane today—just 12 days after he left for a comeback attempt in the U. S.

"I couldn't train, so I just had to come home," he said. He added that he missed his wife and two children on the brief trip that took him all the way to Los Angeles and cost him $2,800.

Rain Halts Games

FROSTBURG, July 6—Rain halted two games in the Frostburg Softball League today.

The pace-setting Century A. C. was leading Twigg's 5-0 in the 4th when hostilities were halted.

The Aristocrats held an 11-3 lead over Peck's when the rains came in the 4th stanza.

Circus Clown Takes Feature Race At 'Graw

Scores Over Turbine, Natchez Finishes 3rd

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., July 6—(AP)—W. J. Walden's Circus Clown, winner of his last two races, made it three in a row today, taking the $10,000 added Philadelphia Handicap before a crowd of 5,942. The son of Tiger drove into the finish line two lengths in front of W. Myron Newmeyer's Turbine with Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Natchez, the favorite, third in a field of ten.

The handicap was run after a heavy storm that turned the track sloppy and knocked out the power lines feeding the odds board.

Circus Clown was ridden by Jockey Ovie Scurlock and turned in time of 1:12 4-5, creditable under the conditions. Backers of the 3-year-old, youngest member of the field, collected $14.80 for the usual $2 investment.

Natchez, closing at even money in the betting, went to the front at the break but Meetmenow rushed up to head the Jeffords' hope at the far turn. Circus Clown was in third position at this time.

Heading for the stretch, Circus Clown shot up almost on even terms with Natchez as Meetmenow faltered and Turbine began to move. In the stretch, Jockey Lee Hansman tried to keep Natchez going but Circus Clown had the punch and took command.

Turbine then rallied and came on but failed to seriously menace Circus Clown. However, the move was enough to shunt Natchez, making his first start of the year, into third position.

The victory was the fifth of the season for Circus Clown in seven tries. He picked up $8,820 in earnings to bring his 1948 total to $27,070.

The handle today was $390,436.

Long Disallows Romney Protest

Deffenbaugh Chosen Barrelville Manager

President John J. Long of the Interstate Baseball League last night disallowed the protest filed by the Romney Rockets in their losing game with Moorefield on June 6.

The umpires ruled a Romney batter out for stepping across the plate and hitting the ball when the Moorefield pitcher was issuing an intentional pass. The hit produced two runs and would have won the game for Romney.

Long upheld the decision of the arbiters, declaring they had acted according to the rules in declaring the batter out for stepping out of the box.

Bob Whip, secretary of the league, announced last night that Barrelville has released Manager George Drew and replaced him with John Deffenbaugh. Drew was named pilot of the team two weeks ago.

The veteran Ocie Raines broke the 10-game winning streak of Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, on Monday when he pitched Moorefield to a 6-5 victory over Manager Art Garbark's team at Moorefield. It was the local Legion's first defeat of the season in the circuit and Pat Creegan was the loser. The Legion (10-1) now leads Moorefield (8-1) by a single game.

In other holiday games the Moose upset the Eagles, 9-6 in a tilt featured by Gary Moler's homer with the bases full; Hyndman V.F.W. trimmed Barrelville 5-1 and Romney downed the Centerville Reds, 10-5.

Henry "Snow" Flakes Is Back On Ice Truck

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—Henry "Snow" Flakes, a few weeks ago one of boxing's most promising young heavyweights, is back on an ice truck today in Buffalo's East Side.

Flakes, 21-year old conqueror of Pat Comiskey and Lee Oma, is on the ineligible list due to a cataract in his left eye. But he hopes to be back in harness in a year or so.

He is awaiting the word to go to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for an operation, and doctors tell him he will be fit to fight about a year later.

Henry isn't suffering too much however. He owns his own truck and is in business for himself.

City Of Philadelphia Sues Fight Promoter

PHILADELPHIA, July 6 (AP)—The City of Philadelphia today sued Herman Taylor, fight promoter, for $102,164.11 in amusement taxes it alleges is still due from him for a period from 1942 through the first two months of 1948.

In its complaint, the city admits Taylor has perforated receipts from the tax office to indicate that the tax was paid. It claims, however, that $147,870.26 in taxes were due during the period but the city actually received only $45,706.15.

Tutwiler Cops Title

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., July 6 (AP)—Ed Tutwiler of Mount Hope regained the state men's amateur golf championship he last held in 1940 by defeating defending champion Fred G. Bannerot, Jr., of Charleston 4 and 3 on a hot, wind-swept course today.

SADDLE STARS—Willie Nertney, a veteran of the Second World War, will accept mounts during the ten-day race meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association which gets underway at Fairgo, Tuesday, July 20. Prior to the war, Nertney was first string rider for Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt. He staged a fine comeback last year. Married, Nertney resides with his family at Wilmington, Del.

Cincinnati Beats Pirates In Ninth

PITTSBURGH, July 6—(AP)—Ted Kluszewski's ninth inning two-run double with the bases loaded and two out tonight led the Cincinnati Reds to a 6 to 4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

It was the second time in two days that the Red first baseman has pulled victory from defeat in the final inning.

In the second game yesterday, his ninth inning home run tied the contest 4-4 and the Reds went on to win. Score:

CINCINNATI	000	030	003—6	8	0

Attention, girls!

The All-American Girls' Baseball League is sponsoring tryouts in McKeesport, Pa., tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The tryouts are for all girls who aspire to play baseball professionally and will be held at Renziehausen Park.

Any girl who shows promise will be sent to the Middle West and will be assigned to one of the ten league teams playing in Chicago, Rockford, Peoria and Springfield, Ill., Fort Wayne and South Bend, Ind., Muskegon and Grand Rapids, Mich., Racine and Kenosha, Wis.

Salaries range from $55 to $125 per week. Players range in age from 15 to 35.

Max Carey, former Pittsburgh Pirates' star, is president of the league.

The tryouts will be conducted by Scout Shirley Jameson, who played centerfield for the Kenosha team for four years and has been scouting for the league for the past two years. During the winter months Miss Jameson teaches physical education at Kenosha senior high school.

Keller Is Transferred

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 6—(AP) —The Charlotte Hornets of the Tri-State League today announced the transfer of Outfielder Hal Keller to Hagerstown, Md., of the Interstate League.

Both are Class B circuits. Hal is a brother of Charlie Keller of the Yankees. At Hagerstown he joins former Hornets Cal Ermer and Jack Netcher.

Teams are requested to write at once to E. J. House, manager of Bretz Cardinals Baseball Club, Box 76, Bretz, W. Va. Games are sought with teams around Cumberland or the George's Creek section.

East Nine Out To Avenge 8-5 Loss Of 1947

50 Players Are Named; Game To Start At 5:15

It's West versus East today as tossers of the ten teams in the Bi-State Baseball League meet in the annual All-Star game today at 5:15 o'clock at Memorial Park, Westernport.

The Eastern team comprising players of the Frostburg VFW, Lonaconing Republican Club, Queen City Brewers, Mt. Savage and the Cumberland Amvets, piloted by Charley Walters of Mt. Savage, will be striving to gain revenge for the 8-5 defeat suffered at the hands of the West in the 1947 contest at Hyndman.

Larry McKenzie of Lonaconing will head the Western aggregation whose personnel comprises players from Westvaco, Hyndman Firemen, Midland, Barton and Keyser.

Four Umpires Chosen

Ed Thompson, Cecil Warnick, Eddie Martin and Stanley Davis will officiate.

League officials are hopeful that the game will be a big improvement over the 1947 nightmare in which teams committed 13 errors in the presence of two major league scouts —Johnny Maher of the Browns and Nick Shimkoff of the New York Giants. Six hundred and twenty-five persons saw the 1947 tilt. A three-run rally in the ninth broke a 5-5 tie and decided the contest. Thirty-eight players participated.

Fifty Players Named

Fifty players have been named for today's game.

Pitchers named by the East include Lease Zembower, Bob Cook, Claude Steele, W. E. "Junior" Woodson, Francis "Mac" Stowell and Lefty Bob Crump. Henry Salyan, Bobby Blair, Jim Noonan and "Lefty" Bill are the pitchers on the West team.

The personnel of the teams is as follows:

WEST

"Bud" Mosser, Pete Deremer, Charles Tysinger, Harold Robertson and George Patterson of Westvaco; Henry Salyan, Andy Loner, Jack Dante, Pat Tuscano and Bobby Miller of the Hyndman Firemen; George Marble, Bobby Blair, Harry Sallada, Frank Hawkins and Jim Murray of Midland; Joe Inskeep, Tommy Warnick, Tommy Donnelly, Jim Noonan and Claude Ravenscroft of Barton; Bill Ward, Forrest High, "Bub" Bill, Bill Barnhouse and Vernon Rotruck of Keyser.

EAST

Joe Langan, Harold Scott, Bob Cook, Bobby Shaffer and Frank Urbas of Frostburg; Norman Gerdeman, Kenneth Clark, William Scarpelli, Danny Drew and Lease Zembower of the Cumberland Amvets; Francis Stowell, Bob Crump, Buck Winfield, Elmer Lashley and Alton Nave of Mt. Savage; Harry Minnicks, W. E. Woodson, Ronnie Cage, Mickey Clark and Bill Stevenson, Queen City Brewers; Charlie Cooke, "Mace" Cameron, Charlie Genevie, Jim Shockey and Claude Steele of the Lonaconing Republican Club.

Elks Top Eagles By Score Of 2-1

Jim Wilkinson Wins Duel With Knieriem

Jim Wilkinson yielded only four hits, fanned three and issued only one pass yesterday as the B.P.O. Elks smashed the 11-game winning streak of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in a Rocking Chair Softball League game at Fort Hill Field. The score was 2-1.

Don Knieriem, who opposed Wilkinson in the mound duel, gave up seven hits and struck out five.

The Elks played errorless ball for the third straight game.

In addition to pitching a nice article of ball, Wilkinson larruped a homer in the 4th, added a single in the 6th and scored both of the Elks' runs. R. Aman led the losers at bat with two singles in three tries.

Other league games were postponed on account of rain.

The Moose-Potomac Edison game has been rescheduled for Friday at 6:15 at Stitcher Field. Score:

ELKS	000	101	0—2	7	0
EAGLES	001	000	0—1	4	2

J. Wilkinson and Nonneman. Knieriem and Hawse.

Bi-State League All-Stars Clash In Westernport Today

Boys Come 150 Miles, School Goes To "Pen"

Approximately seventy boys have worked out under the watchful eyes of Scout Rex Bowen and his aides during the past two days at the Brooklyn Dodgers' baseball school which draws to a close today at Community Park.

Eighty per cent of the tossers came from out-of-town communities as far as 150 miles from Cumberland, Bowen stated.

Today's session will get under way at 9 a. m., and will continue without interruption until about 2 p. m.

Bowen is being assisted by James Vennari, former minor league catcher, and Art Garbark and Eddie Diehl, managers of the local American Legion senior and junior nines.

Earl Bruce Shows Speed

The Brooklyn scout who conducted recent baseball schools at Frederick, Md., and Parkersburg, W. Va., related that among the tests given the youngsters was the 60 yards dash. Those who can do it in seven seconds are considered fast baseball men. He points out that Earl "Lefty" Bruce, Allegany High junior, sprinted the distance in that time yesterday, beating Tommy Powers by a step. Bruce is considered one of the fastest high school runners in Maryland.

Bowen was favorably impressed with several boys brought here from Nemacolin, Pa., by Lafe "Red" Byard, one-time star of the Fairmont Black Diamonds of the Middle Atlantic League. Scout Bowen, incidentally, is a brother-in-law of Harvey "Tommy" Thompson, who pitched for the Clarksburg Generals in the Middle Atlantic League when Cumberland was in the circuit in the late 1920s.

A regular game is staged each day at the school and each pitcher is required to work at least two innings.

The Dodgers' next school will be held at Mt. Holly, near Trenton, N. J., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Plan School At Prison

Bowen revealed at the Dodgers will also hold a tryout school for youngsters at the West Virginia State Penitentiary, Moundsville, August 3, 4, 5 and 6. Moundsville is reported to have the best park in the Wheeling area the Dodgers were invited to hold their school inside the prison grounds.

Oakland Stopped By Klondyke, 5-3

Amvets Drop Second After Winning, 4-3

OAKLAND, Md., July 6—The nine-game winning streak of Oakland's Amvets was snapped here yesterday when Klondyke won the second game of an Upper Potomac Baseball League doubleheader from the locals by the score of 5-3. Oakland won the first game by the score of 4-3.

Bob Glaze gained the verdict over Herb Johnson in a neat pitching duel in the opening tilt. Glaze yielded five hits and fanned ten. Johnson gave up eight safeties and struck out seven. Ted James of Oakland and Winters of Klondyke rapped out a double and single each.

S. Buskirk and Miller twirled Klondyke to victory in the nightcap. Corrigan of Klondyke and Lyons of Oakland each smacked a homer and single.

Oakland's league record is 13 wins and 6 defeats. Klondyke has won ten and lost six. The scores:

Four Million Fans Name 16 Starters For Majors' All-Star Tilt On July 13

11 Teams Represented, Williams Tops Vote

Harris And Durocher To Pick Other Players

CHICAGO, July 6—(AP)—A record vote of more than four million baseball fans today named players from six National and five American league clubs to the starting lineups for the All-Star game at St. Louis July 13.

The players, excluding pitchers—which Managers Leo Durocher of the National League and Bucky Harris of the American League will pick themselves—were selected in a three-week poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune and 452 other newspapers and radio stations.

The contest ended Monday at midnight.

The lineups as dictated by the fans:

American	Pos.	National
McQuinn, N. Y.	1b	Mize, N. Y.
Gordon, Cleveland	2b	Stanky, Boston
Kell, Detroit	3b	Pafko, Chicago
Boudreau, Clev'l'nd	ss	Reese, Brooklyn
Williams, Boston	lf	Musial, St. Louis
J. DiMaggio, N. Y.	cf	Ashburn, Phila.
Mullin, Detroit	rf	Slaughter, St. Louis
Rosar, Phila.	c	Cooper, N. Y.

Only Pittsburgh and Cincinnati failed to place a starter in the National League, while Chicago, St. Louis and Washington were shut out in the American League.

Williams Leads In Votes

Biggest individual vote-getter was Boston's Ted Williams, who garnered mention on 1,556,784 of the 4,107,893 lineups submitted by fans in the wide-spread balloting.

Yankee Clipper Di Maggio, the 1947 leader with approximately the same number of votes Williams collected, placed third this year behind Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, who topped National League returns with 1,532,502.

Under the pact between the Tribune and Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler and with Presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Ford Frick of the National League, the managers must use the lineups designated by the fans for the first three innings.

Managers To Pick Others

Remainder of the 25-player squads to be picked by each manager is expected to follow closely the fan voting at the various positions beyond pitchers.

Harris inherited the job of master-minding the Americans by virtue of his New York Yankees' 1947 pennant triumph. Durocher was out of baseball last season by Chandler's decree, but drew the National League managership because the Dodgers copped in that league last year.

Voting centers were located in 47 states and the District of Columbia, but thousands of votes poured in from Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Cuba, Mexico, Guatemala, Panama, Venezuela, Costa Rica, British West Indies, Ecuador, Honduras, Brazil and Columbia.

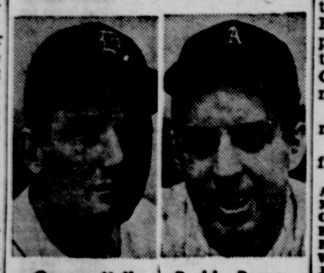

It took the last day's balloting to determine the starting American League catcher, Philadelphia's Rosar, who had a margin of less than 35,000 over Boston's Birdie Tebbetts.

Amvets Face Crusaders, Reed's Meets North End

Undefeated teams in the City Softball League's second half race will face worthy opponents today when the Cumberland Amvets (4-0) tackle Joe's Crusaders (2-2) at Campobello and Reed's Electricians (4-0) do battle with the North End Social and Athletic Club (3-1) at Stitcher Field.

In other games on tap for today Lacy's Delicatets, first half champions, will play Ballard's at Taylor Field and Astor Cab will be host to Mower's Bakery on the Rolling Mill diamond.

U. S. Olympic Team Is Short Of Funds

$100,000 Is Needed, Team Sails July 14

CHICAGO, July 6 (INS) — The United States Olympic Committee won't be able to take a full complement of athletes to the summer games at London unless it raises nearly $100,000 in one whale of a hurry.

Avery Brundage, president of the U.S.O.C., admitted that today. He said he had asked for help from thousands of individuals so that the United States' Olympic goal of $500,000 may be realized by sailing time July 14.

As of now, the U.S.O.C. has collected only a little more than $330,000. An additional $60,000 has been pledged by sponsors of the forthcoming track and field trials at Evanston, Ill., and the Detroit Olympic group has pledged $20,000.

That leaves about $90,000 to be found sometime within the next week or so.

If the money isn't forthcoming, teams will be left behind according to a pre-ordained list of dwindling importance. However, Brundage said, any team that raises at least half of its budget may take at least half of its personnel to London, regardless of its place on the list.

"Least important" sport, according to the list, is field hockey. Then come canoeing, yachting, cycling, water polo, pistol shooting, weight lifting, soccer, fencing and gymnastics.

Rockets Buy Players

CHICAGO, July 6—(AP)—Purchase of Fullbacks Eddie Prokop and Dewey Proctor from the New York Yankees was announced today by the Chicago Rockets.

The Rockets recently sent Fullback Bill Daley to the Yankees in a trade for Nate Johnson, who won All-America Conference honors at tackle last season.

League Will Meet

A meeting of the County Softball League will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Corriganville American Legion Home. Among the matters to be taken up is the recent protest filed by Wellersburg in its game with Narrows Park.

Frostburg To Play Keyser Thursday

Bi-State Contest Set For Keyser At 5:15

Frostburg's V.F.W. tossers, trailing Westvaco's league leaders by 1½ games, will play off a postponed game with the Keyser A.C., at Keyser on Thursday at 5:15 p. m., it was announced last night by the Frostburg management.

Frostburg has won 12 and lost 4 while Westvaco's record is 15-4.

The Frostburg-Keyser game was postponed on June 13.

Frostburg players will leave by truck from the V.F.W. home tomorrow at 3:30 p. m.

In Bi-State League holiday games played Monday, Westvaco defeated the Queen City Brewers, 8-6, snapping the latter's four-game victory streak, Keyser scored its second win in as many days by topping the Hyndman Firemen, 7-6, Frostburg VFW took Barton into camp 9-2, the Cumberland Amvets downed Lonaconing 7-2 and Midland trimmed Mt. Savage 10-5.

Giants Buy Dreisewerd From St. Louis Browns

ST. LOUIS, July 6 (INS)—The St. Louis Browns said today they have sold Clem Dreisewerd, 32-year-old lefthander, to the New York Giants for the $10,000 waiver price.

Dreisewerd served with the American League champion Boston Red Sox in 1946 and last year was with Louisville of the American Association.

Appearing exclusively as a relief hurler this season, he lost both of the decisions recorded against his name.

Betting, Attendance Decrease In Illinois

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP) — The Illinois Racing Board today reported the recent 30-day meeting of the Lincoln Fields Jockey Club at Washington Park slumped in mutuel handle and attendance from the previous year, but that average betting per person increased.

Total mutual handle for the meeting was $24,162,076, a decrease of about four per cent from last year's $25,173,647. Total attendance for 1948 was 374,507, a decrease of almost nine per cent.

Average bet per person, however, was $64.52 per day this year, an increase of $3.13 over 1947 when the Lincoln Fields meeting was held at Hawthorne Park.

Golf Match Postponed

Postponement of the golf match between the Somerset (Pa.) and Cumberland Country Club men's teams from today until August 4 was announced yesterday. The match will be played here.

Bedford will play the CCC team here July 14.

Corner Merchants	9	21	.300

Corriganville cracked the five-game winning streak of the Corner Merchants yesterday by taking both ends of a County Softball League doubleheader at Corriganville by scores of 3-1 and 16-2.

The twin victory enabled Corriganville to boost its record above the .500 mark.

Charley Fetters performed the "iron man" stunt by pitching and winning both games for Corriganville.

In the opener Bill Clauson and Lloyd Kline belted triples for the winners while Goebel obtained the Merchants' lone bingle.

In the nightcap Fleegle and Jack Clauson hit homers and Kline, Fetters and Mosser rapped two hits each for Corrigansville. Dean smashed a homer and Dickel garnered a two-bagger for the losers.

Allegany Grove staged a five-run uprising in the ninth inning to defeat the Hyndman Firemen at Hyndman, Pa., 6-2. The Firemen had tied up the game at 1-1 in the last of the 7th. Burkett's home run highlighted the winning rally. M. Wertz with a triple and double and Burkett with a homer and two-bagger paced the Grove hitters. Burkett limited Hyndman to four safeties.

Scoring four runs in the 7th to break a 7-7 tie, Ellerslie took the Phone Workers into camp at Taylor Field by the score of 11-8. Patton of C. & P. collected three hits while Clites and Mason had two blows each for Ellerslie.

Narrows Park took undisputed possession of second place five full games in the rear of the idle Wellersburg team by downing Bedford Road, 7-6. "Lefty" Wolz was returned the winer over Mayo. Jack Mayo and Jack Mertens of Bedford Road and Hartsock and R. Troutman of the Park each hit safely twice.

Wellersburg jumped away to a five-run lead in the first inning only to have rain wash out its game with the Potomac Valley Cubs at Wellersburg.

Kline's And Marines Cop City Loop Games

Rallying for four runs in the 8th inning, Kline's Market turned back the Naval Reserve for the first time this season by defeating the latter to the tune of 8-5 in a City Junior Softball League game yesterday at Stitcher Field. It was the 12th win against two setbacks for Kline's.

Jack Devault was the "big gun" with a homer and single for the winners. Hanekamp homered and singled for the losers. The victory was the ninth for Eady against one loss.

The Marine Reserve swatsmiths unloosed a 17-hit attack to swamp Merrill Brothers at East Side by the score of 13-2. Jimmy Close with two doubles and a single, Francis Kitzmiller with two triples and a single and Jimmie Lease with a double and two singles headed the Marine attack. Murray limited the Grocers to three hits. Scores:

Paterson, Homesick, Returns To Scotland

GLASGOW, Scotland, July 6 (AP) —Homesick Jackie Paterson, former world flyweight champion, came home by plane today—just 12 days after he left for a comeback attempt in the U. S.

"I couldn't train, so I just had to come home," he said. He added that he missed his wife and two children on the brief trip that took him all the way to Los Angeles and cost him $2,800.

Rain Halts Games

FROSTBURG, July 6—Rain halted two games in the Frostburg Softball League today.

The pace-setting Century A. C. was leading Twigg's 5-0 in the 4th when hostilities were halted.

The Aristocrats held an 11-3 lead over Peck's when the rains came in the 4th stanza.

Circus Clown Takes Feature Race At 'Graw

Scores Over Turbine, Natchez Finishes 3rd

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., July 6 —(AP)—W. J. Walden's Circus Clown, winner of his last two races, made it three in a row today, taking the $10,000 added Philadelphia Handicap before a crowd of 5,942. The son of Tiger drove into the finish line two lengths in front of W. Myron Newmeyer's Turbine with Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Natchez, the favorite, third in a field of ten.

The handicap was run after a heavy storm that turned the track sloppy and knocked out the power lines feeding the odds board.

Circus Clown was ridden by Jockey Ovie Scurlock and turned in time of 1:12 4-5, creditable under the conditions. Backers of the 3-year-old, youngest member of the field, collected $14.80 for the usual $2 investment.

Natchez, closing at even money in the betting, went to the front at the break but Meetmenow rushed up to head the Jeffords' hope at the far turn. Circus Clown was in third position at this time.

Heading for the stretch, Circus Clown shot up almost on even terms with Natchez as Meetmenow faltered and Turbine began to move. In the stretch, Jockey Lee Hansman tried to keep Natchez going but Circus Clown had the punch and took command.

Turbine then rallied and came on but failed to seriously menace Circus Clown. However, the move was enough to shunt Natchez, making his first start of the year, into third position.

The victory was the fifth of the season for Circus Clown in seven tries. He picked up $8,820 in earnings to bring his 1948 total to $27,070.

The handle today was $390,436.

Long Disallows Romney Protest

Deffenbaugh Chosen Barrelville Manager

President John J. Long of the Interstate Baseball League last night disallowed the protest filed by the Romney Rockets in their losing game with Moorefield on June 6.

The umpires ruled a Romney batter out for stepping across the plate and hitting the ball when the Moorefield pitcher was issuing an intentional pass. The hit produced two runs and would have won the game for Romney.

Long upheld the decision of the arbiters, declaring they had acted according to the rules in declaring the batter out for stepping out of the box.

Bob Whip, secretary of the league, announced last night that Barrelville has released Manager George Drew and replaced him with John Deffenbaugh. Drew was named pilot of the team two weeks ago.

The veteran Ocie Raines broke the 10-game winning streak of Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, on Monday when he pitched Moorefield to a 6-5 victory over Manager Art Garbark's team at Moorefield. It was the local Legion's first defeat of the season in the circuit and Pat Creegan was the loser. The Legion (10-1) now leads Moorefield (8-1) by a single game.

In other holiday games the Moose upset the Eagles, 9-6 in a tilt featured by Gary Moler's homer with the bases full; Hyndman V.F.W. trimmed Barrelville 5-1 and Romney downed the Centerville Reds, 10-5.

Henry "Snow" Flakes Is Back On Ice Truck

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—Henry "Snow" Flakes, a few weeks ago one of boxing's most promising young heavyweights, is back on an ice truck today in Buffalo's East Side.

Flakes, 21-year old conqueror of Pat Comiskey and Lee Oma, is on the ineligible list due to a cataract in his left eye. But he hopes to be back in harness in a year or so.

He is awaiting the word to go to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for an operation, and doctors tell him he will be fit to fight about a year later.

Henry isn't suffering too much however. He owns his own truck and is in business for himself.

City Of Philadelphia Sues Fight Promoter

PHILADELPHIA, July 6 (AP)—The City of Philadelphia today sued Herman Taylor, fight promoter, for $102,164.11 in amusement taxes it alleges is still due from him for a period from 1942 through the first two months of 1948.

In its complaint, the city admits Taylor has perforated receipts from the tax office to indicate that the tax was paid. It claims, however, that $147,870.26 in taxes were due during the period but the city actually received only $45,706.15.

Tutwiler Cops Title

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., July 6 (AP)—Ed Tutwiler of Mount Hope regained the state men's amateur golf championship he last held in 1940 by defeating defending champion Fred G. Bannerot, Jr., of Charleston 4 and 3 on a hot, wind-swept course today.

SADDLE STARS—Willie Nertney, a veteran of the Second World War, will accept mounts during the ten-day race meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association which gets underway at Fairgo, Tuesday, July 20. Prior to the war, Nertney was first string rider for Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt. He staged a fine comeback last year. Married, Nertney resides with his family at Wilmington, Del.

Cincinnati Beats Pirates In Ninth

PITTSBURGH, July 6—(AP)—Ted Kluszewski's ninth inning two-run double with the bases loaded and two out tonight led the Cincinnati Reds to a 6 to 4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

It was the second time in two days that the Red first baseman has pulled victory from defeat in the final inning.

In the second game yesterday, his ninth inning home run tied the contest 4-4 and the Reds went on to win. Score:

CINCINNATI	000	030	003	6	8 0

All-American Loop Will Give Tryouts To Female Tossers

Attention, girls!

The All-American Girls' Baseball League is sponsoring tryouts in McKeesport, Pa., tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The tryouts are for all girls who aspire to play baseball professionally and will be held at Renziehausen Park.

Any girl who shows promise will be sent to the Middle West and will be assigned to one of the ten league teams playing in Chicago, Rockford, Peoria and Springfield, Ill., Fort Wayne and South Bend, Ind., Muskegon and Grand Rapids, Mich., Racine and Kenosha, Wis.

Salaries range from $55 to $125 per week. Players range in age from 15 to 35.

Max Carey, former Pittsburgh Pirates' star, is president of the league.

The tryouts will be conducted by Scout Shirley Jameson, who played centerfield for the Kenosha team for four years and has been scouting for the league for the past two years. During the winter months Miss Jameson teaches physical education at Kenosha senior high school.

Keller Is Transferred

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 6—(AP) —The Charlotte Hornets of the Tri-State League today announced the transfer of Outfielder Hal Keller to Hagerstown, Md., of the Interstate League.

Both are Class B circuits. Hal is a brother of Charlie Keller of the Yankees. At Hagerstown he joins former Hornets Cal Ermer and Jack Netcher.

Team Wants Games

BRETZ, W. Va., July 6 — The Bretz (Preston County) Baseball Club would like to book home games August 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29 on a 50-50 guarantee of the gate receipts. Teams are requested to write at once to E. J. House, manager of Bretz Cardinals Baseball Club, Box 76, Bretz, W. Va. Games are sought with teams around Cumberland or the George's Creek section.

East Nine Out To Avenge 8-5 Loss Of 1947

50 Players Are Named; Game To Start At 5:15

It's West versus East today as tossers of the ten teams in the Bi-State Baseball League meet in the annual All-Star game today at 5:15 o'clock at Memorial Park, Westernport.

The Eastern team comprising players of the Frostburg VFW, Lonaconing Republican Club, Queen City Brewers, Mt. Savage and the Cumberland Amvets, piloted by Charley Walters of Mt. Savage, will be striving to gain revenge for the 8-5 defeat suffered at the hands of the West in the 1947 contest at Hyndman.

Larry McKenzie of Lonaconing will head the Western aggregation whose personnel comprises players from Westvaco, Hyndman Firemen, Midland, Barton and Keyser.

Four Umpires Chosen

Ed Thompson, Cecil Warnick, Eddie Martin and Stanley Davis will officiate.

League officials are hopeful that the game will be a big improvement over the 1947 nightmare in which teams committed 13 errors in the presence of two major league scouts —Johnny Maher of the Browns and Nick Shimkoff of the New York Giants. Six hundred and twenty-five persons saw the 1947 tilt. A three-run rally in the ninth broke a 5-5 tie and decided the contest. Thirty-eight players participated.

Fifty Players Named

Fifty players have been named for today's game.

Pitchers named by the East include Lease Zembower, Bob Cook, Claude Steele, W. E. "Junior" Woodson, Francis "Mac" Stowell and Lefty Bob Crump. Henry Salyan, Bobby Blair, Jim Noonan and "Lefty" Bill are the pitchers on the West team.

The personnel of the teams is as follows:

WEST

"Bud" Mosser, Pete Deremer, Charles Tysinger, Harold Robertson and George Patterson of Westvaco; Henry Salyan, Andy Loner, Jack Dante, Pat Tuscano and Bobby Miller of the Hyndman Firemen; George Marble, Bobby Blair, Harry Sallada, Frank Hawkins and Jim Murray of Midland; Joe Inskeep, Tommy Warnick, Tommy Donnelly, Jim Noonan and Claude Ravenscroft of Barton; Bill Ward, Forrest High, "Bub" Bill, Bill Barnhouse and Vernon Rotruck of Keyser.

EAST

Joe Langan, Harold Scott, Bob Cook, Bobby Shaffer and Frank Urbas of Frostburg; Norman Gerdeman, Kenneth Clark, William Scarpelli, Danny Drew and Lease Zembower of the Cumberland Amvets; Francis Stowell, Bob Crump, Buck Winfield, Elmer Lashley and Alton Nave of Mt. Savage; Harry Minnicks, W. E. Woodson, Ronnie Cage, Mickey Clark and Bill Stevenson, Queen City Brewers; Charlie Cooke, "Mace" Cameron, Charlie Genevie, Jim Shockey and Claude Steele of the Lonaconing Republican Club.

Elks Top Eagles By Score Of 2-1

Jim Wilkinson Wins Duel With Knieriem

Jim Wilkinson yielded only four hits, fanned three and issued only one pass yesterday as the B.P.O. Elks smashed the 11-game winning streak of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in a Rocking Chair Softball League game at Fort Hill Field. The score was 2-1.

Don Knieriem, who opposed Wilkinson in the mound duel, gave up seven hits and struck out five.

The Elks played errorless ball for the third straight game.

In addition to pitching a nice article of ball, Wilkinson larruped a homer in the 4th, added a single in the 6th and scored both of the Elks' runs. R. Aman led the losers at bat with two singles in three tries.

Other league games were postponed on account of rain.

The Moose-Potomac Edison game has been rescheduled for Friday at 6:15 at Stitcher Field. Score:

ELKS	000	101	0	2	7 0
EAGLES	001	000	0	1	4 2

J. Wilkinson and Nonneman. Knieriem and Hawse.

Here's Minor Problem That Seems Major Tragedy To Young Man

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

What is a person to do who has a physical handicap which seems to cast a shadow on his whole life?

Curiously enough, this problem sometimes becomes harder to solve when the handicap is a minor one instead of a big one. For a person who has a very serious physical difficulty at least has the sympathy of his friends, whereas the minor difficulty may be something which excites teasing, or even derision, instead of sympathy.

One of my correspondents, a 20-year-old boy, writes me of this latter type of problem. His trouble, which is one that practically everybody except those who have it considers something to laugh at, has got him down so seriously that he feels all fun is over for him.

Here is what he writes:

"Things are changing for me a bit too suddenly, for at my age I have lost almost all my hair. Now the girls I know, instead of stopping to talk as they used to, merely say hello and give me the well-known brush-off. I'll never know the feeling of having fun, such as dancing, going to the movies, and having dates as I used to when I was 16 to 19 years old.

"I am sure you must know what kind of life mine is at the age of 20. Loss of my hair has made me step aside from the ordinary things in life."

And then he adds the one cheery note in his entire letter:

"I have music in my heart."

Now if, Johnny, as this correspondent signs himself, has music in his heart, then he has a great asset which should go far toward offsetting any handicap he may have. For the person who has a sunny disposition is always popular, and can make those about him entirely forget the thing about which he himself is self-conscious.

The first thing Johnny will have to do is to stop being so sensitive about the loss of his hair. It is a distressing thing for a boy of 20 to have happen to him, of course, but it is by no means as serious as he has made himself believe. Of course it hurts when he gets the brush-off from some of the girls. But if he could learn to make a joke of his misfortune, instead of doing so much worrying about it, he would almost certainly find that it matters less to everybody else as well as to himself.

He has it in his power to make himself so interesting, so friendly, so pleasant to be with, that no one will be aware of his looks. Perhaps he has some special talent or skill that he could cultivate which will make him outstanding in his circle of acquaintances and make people want to know him. If he hasn't some such particular ability, perhaps he could develop one.

Doesn't Johnny know that Bing Crosby's head is almost as bare as a billiard ball? That movie actor Charles Boyer has the same thing to cope with? That any number of other successful men have suffered as he suffers when their hair began to fall out but after a while discovered that if they didn't consider it an insurmountable obstacle to popularity and success, nobody else did.

Cheer up, Johnny! Life hasn't by any means been ruined for you. If you feel that having hair is so important, you can do as Bing and Charles did, as well as hundreds of others in similar plight, and get yourself a toupe. But I think you'll do just as well if you simply make yourself a loveable and interesting person who enjoys life so much himself that everybody else will want to be his friend.

Religious Census Conducted Among Area Students

Frostburg Pastors Sponsor Survey

FROSTBURG—Five public elementary schools and one high school took part in a religious education census conducted in May by a committee of the Frostburg Ministerial Union to determine the denominational preference of the students.

Participating elementary schools were Beall, State Teachers' College, Hill Street, Midland and Eckhart. Beall High School also took part.

Rev. John Cameron Taylor, pastor of First Presbyterian Church and secretary-treasurer of the committee, reported that the cards were tabulated yesterday with the following results:

Methodist, 908; Roman Catholic, 243; Baptist, 174; Evangelical and Reformed, 148; Lutheran, 110; Pentacostal, 95; Congregational, 90; Presbyterian; 76; Nazarene, 71; Protestant Episcopal, 57; The Church of the Brethren, 29; Assembly of God, 19; Gospel Hall, 18; Kingdom Hall, 4; Latter Day Saints, 4; Church of God, 2; Mennonite, 2; Christian Science, 2; Evangelical United Brethren, 1; and Seventh Day Adventists, 1.

Seventy four pupils stated that they had no preference.

Besides Rev. Taylor, the committee included Rev. Watson E. Holley, pastor of First Methodist Church, and Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Miss Poland To Become Bride Of Michael O'Rourke

MT. SAVAGE — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Poland announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Peggie, to Michael J. O'Rourke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Rourke.

The ceremony will be solemnized at a nuptial mass Monday morning, July 12, at 9:30 o'clock in St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Rev. George Larkins, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower, Baltimore, will officiate. Father Larkins is a former resident of this community.

Miss Poland, a graduate of Allegany High School, Cumberland, received her bachelor of arts degree in June from West Virginia University, Morgantown, where she majored in psychology.

Mr. O'Rourke is a veteran of seven years of Army service, including 32 months overseas in the European theater during the war. Since receiving his discharge, he has been employed in a civilian position at Fort George G. Meade with the 98th Machine Records Unit.

A graduate of Mt. Savage High School in 1938, he was employed in a clerical capacity in connection with the Savage River dam project prior to entering the Army.

He was commissioned recently as a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve Corps.

Ross Point, Id., was dedicated by one of her descendants to the memory of Betsy Ross, who made the first United States flag.

Midland Soldier To Be Reburied

MIDLAND—Reburial services for Pfc. Thomas A. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Taylor, will be held Thursday, July 8, at 2 p. m. at Arlington National Cemetery. After military services, Rev. Raymond C. Crowe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church will officiate.

Pfc. Taylor was a graduate of Central High School, Lonaconing, and worked at Ort Brothers Bakery prior to entering the Army October 6, 1941. After receiving training at Camp Wheeler, Ga. and Fort Bragg, N. C., as a Browning automatic rifle gunner in the 47th Infantry, 9th Division, he was sent to Africa where he took part in the invasion of North Africa, Nov. 8, 1942.

After participating in the North African and Tunisian campaigns and the invasion of Sicily, he took part in the invasion of Normandy, where he was killed in action by artillery fire on Cape de la Hague peninsula, north of Cherbourg France, at 9:45 p. m. June 29, 1944.

He was a member of Grace Methodist Church and the Epworth League, and belonged to the Improved Order of Red Men and the Knights of Pythias.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Bettie Brasure, Wilmington, Del.; Mrs. Julia Morton, Midland, and Miss Hazel Taylor, at home, and one brother, Charles F. Taylor, Lonaconing.

Work Nears Completion On Moorefield Streets

MOOREFIELD — The ditching machine operated by the State Road Commission will complete the storm sewer on Main street from Winchester Avenue to Town Run this week. When that stretch is completed, the ditcher will complete the half block from Kuykendall's Lane to Jefferson Street on North Main street.

Only the cross storm sewers from the east side of the street to the main sewer on the west side of the street remains to be installed.

All this work should be finished by the end of next week including a few unfinished sections of curb. After that time the Potomac Construction Company, a Martinsburg firm, will begin the actual work on putting in the pavement in Moorefield.

Keyser Youths To Visit Park

KEYSER — Approximately 130 youths of Keyser, under the age of 17, will visit Lost River State Park today as one of the recreational activities planned for the youth by the Keyser Youth Recreation Program.

Two trucks, secured for transportation, will leave this morning at 10:30 and return tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Plans for the trip were made last year by the recreation group but were abandoned because of finances, Coach Frederick Clark, director of the activities, said, adding that the boys and girls will not be disappointed this year if the weather is favorable.

Facilities for swimming, playing tennis, horse-back riding and everything needed to make the life of a visitor or guest a pleasant day is available at the park, which is one of the finest in the State of West Virginia, the director said.

Those planning to make the trip are requested by Coach Clark to pack a picnic lunch and take enough money to buy refreshments and to pay their way into the swimming pool.

Barton Wedding Is Announced

BARTON — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dye, Barton, announce the marriage of their niece, Norma Jean Symons, daughter of Edgar Symons and the late Delma Mae Symons, to Ernest Luther Metz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Metz, Barton.

The double ring ceremony was performed at the home of the bridegroom's parents by Rev. L. J. Moore, pastor of Bedford Circuit and former pastor of Barton Methodist Church.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Metz, Jr., brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride was attired in a white street length dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Metz wore a pink street-length dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The bride is a graduate of Barton High School, class of '48.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Barton High School, class of '47, and is now employed by the Board of Education.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The table was adorned by a three-tiered wedding cake. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Downey, Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. William P. Cooper, Lonaconing; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thivaltes, Mr. and Mrs. Connie A. Dye, Cumberland; and Mrs. Gladys Eaton, Westernport.

The couple will reside at their home on Railroad Street, Lonaconing.

First Presbyterian Plans Improvements

FROSTBURG—Rev. John Cameron Taylor, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Broadway, announced that the congregation, at a recent special meeting, voted approval for a number of improvements to the church property.

The improvements, estimated at $3,000, will include redecorating the sanctuary, relocation of the organ bellows, and building a modern kitchen and two rest rooms.

Ground was broken on the building project last week by Enoch B. Prichard, an elder of the church, who also broke ground in 1925 for the church annex, the building now used for Sunday School rooms and church socials.

Excavating on the present project was completed last week by the men of the church and work on the foundation is progressing rapidly.

Religious Census Conducted Among Area Students

Frostburg Pastors Sponsor Survey

FROSTBURG—Five public elementary schools and one high school took part in a religious education census conducted in May by a committee of the Frostburg Ministerial Union to determine the denominational preference of the students.

Participating elementary schools were Beall, State Teachers' College, Hill Street, Midland and Eckhart. Beall High School also took part.

Rev. John Cameron Taylor, pastor of First Presbyterian Church and secretary-treasurer of the committee, reported that the cards were tabulated yesterday with the following results:

Methodist, 908; Roman Catholic, 243; Baptist, 174; Evangelical and Reformed, 148; Lutheran, 110; Pentacostal, 95; Congregational, 90; Presbyterian; 76; Nazarene, 71; Protestant Episcopal, 57; The Church of the Brethren, 29; Assembly of God, 19; Gospel Hall, 18; Kingdom Hall, 4; Latter Day Saints, 4; Church of God, 2; Mennonite, 2; Christian Science, 2; Evangelical United Brethren, 1; and Seventh Day Adventists, 1.

Seventy four pupils stated that they had no preference.

Besides Rev. Taylor, the committee included Rev. Watson E. Holley, pastor of First Methodist Church, and Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Miss Poland To Become Bride Of Michael O'Rourke

MT. SAVAGE — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Poland announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Peggie, to Michael J. O'Rourke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Rourke.

The ceremony will be solemnized at a nuptial mass Monday morning, July 12, at 9:30 o'clock in St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Rev. George Larkins, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower, Baltimore, will officiate. Father Larkins is a former resident of this community.

Miss Poland, a graduate of Allegany High School, Cumberland, received her bachelor of arts degree in June from West Virginia University, Morgantown, where she majored in psychology.

Mr. O'Rourke is a veteran of seven years of Army service, including 32 months overseas in the European theater during the war. Since receiving his discharge, he has been employed in a civilian position at Fort George G. Meade with the 98th Machine Records Unit.

A graduate of Mt. Savage High School in 1938, he was employed in a clerical capacity in connection with the Savage River dam project prior to entering the Army.

He was commissioned recently as a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve Corps.

Ross Point, Id., was dedicated by one of her descendants to the memory of Betsy Ross, who made the first United States flag.

Midland Soldier To Be Reburied

MIDLAND—Reburial services for Pfc. Thomas A. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Taylor, will be held Thursday, July 8, at 2 p. m. at Arlington National Cemetery. After military services, Rev. Raymond C. Crowe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church will officiate.

Pfc. Taylor was a graduate of Central High School, Lonaconing, and worked at Ort Brothers Bakery prior to entering the Army October 6, 1941. After receiving training at Camp Wheeler, Ga. and Fort Bragg, N. C., as a Browning automatic rifle gunner in the 47th Infantry, 9th Division, he was sent to Africa where he took part in the invasion of North Africa, Nov. 8, 1942.

After participating in the North African and Tunisian campaigns and the invasion of Sicily, he took part in the invasion of Normandy, where he was killed in action by artillery fire on Cape de la Hague peninsula, north of Cherbourg France, at 9:45 p. m. June 29, 1944.

He was a member of Grace Methodist Church and the Epworth League, and belonged to the Improved Order of Red Men and the Knights of Pythias.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Bettie Brasure, Wilmington, Del.; Mrs. Julia Morton, Midland, and Miss Hazel Taylor, at home, and one brother, Charles F. Taylor, Lonaconing.

William Pratt Weds Betty Jane Nealis

WESTERNPORT — Miss Betty Jane Nealis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Nealis, Sr., 109 Cromer Street, Westernport, and William Pratt, son of Mrs. Dorothy Pratt, West Fairview Street, Piedmont, were married Sunday afternoon at the Evangelical United Brethren Church here.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Franklin G. Senger, pastor.

Mrs. Clarence Biggs, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's matron of honor and Seymour Nealis, Jr., brother of the bride, was Mr. Pratt's best man.

The bride was attired in a pink street length dress, white accessories and wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Biggs wore a gray street length dress, white accessories and corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Bruce High School, this place, and is employed at the G. C. Murphy Company Store, Ashfield Street, Piedmont.

Mr. Pratt is a graduate of Piedmont High School and served for 26 months in the South Pacific in the Navy during World War II. He is employed at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

When they return from their wedding trip from Virginia Beach today they will reside at the home of the bridegroom on West Fairview Street, Piedmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Nealis entertained with a miscellaneous shower last Friday evening in honor of her daughter with 30 guests attending. She received many gifts.

Work Nears Completion On Moorefield Streets

MOOREFIELD — The ditching machine operated by the State Road Commission will complete the storm sewer on Main street from Winchester Avenue to Town Run this week. When that stretch is completed, the ditcher will complete the half block from Kuykendall's Lane to Jefferson Street on North Main street.

Only the cross storm sewers from the east side of the street to the main sewer on the west side of the street remains to be installed.

All this work should be finished by the end of next week including a few unfinished sections of curb. After that time the Potomac Construction Company, a Martinsburg firm, will begin the actual work on putting in the pavement in Moorefield.

Keyser Youths To Visit Park

KEYSER — Approximately 130 youths of Keyser, under the age of 17, will visit Lost River State Park today as one of the recreational activities planned for the youth by the Keyser Youth Recreation Program.

Two trucks, secured for transportation, will leave this morning at 10:30 and return tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Plans for the trip were made last year by the recreation group but were abandoned because of finances, Coach Frederick Clark, director of the activities, said, adding that the boys and girls will not be disappointed this year if the weather is favorable.

Facilities for swimming, playing tennis, horse-back riding and everything needed to make the life of a visitor or guest a pleasant day is available at the park, which is one of the finest in the State of West Virginia, the director said.

Those planning to make the trip are requested by Coach Clark to pack a picnic lunch and take enough money to buy refreshments and to pay their way into the swimming pool.

Barton Wedding Is Announced

BARTON — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dye, Barton, announce the mariage of their niece, Norma Jean Symons, daughter of Edgar Symons and the late Delma Mae Symons, to Ernest Luther Metz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Metz, Barton.

The double ring ceremony was performed at the home of the bridegroom's parents by Rev. L. J. Moore, pastor of Bedford Circuit and former pastor of Barton Methodist Church.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Metz, Jr., brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride was attired in a white street length dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Metz wore a pink street-length dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The bride is a graduate of Barton High School, class of '48.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Barton High School, class of '47, and is now employed by the Board of Education.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The table was adorned by a three-tiered wedding cake. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Downey, Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. William P. Cooper, Lonaconing; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thivaites, Mr. and Mrs. Connie A. Dye, Cumberland; and Mrs. Gladys Eaton, Westernport.

The couple will reside at their home on Railroad Street, Lonaconing.

All Negro Musical Variety Program Takes Day's Spot

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, July 6 — Eight o'clock Wednesday night is the time for some more summer showing on two networks.

Stopping first on NBC at this hour will be found the National Minstrels, cavorting for Dennis Day. The listing describes it as an "all Negro musical variety show with Lucky Millinder's orchestra. There will be the songs of Annisteen Allen, Bullmoose Jackson, Paul Breckenridge, the Four Tunes and the Hall sisters. Also some comedy from Comedienne Jacke Mabley.

The other vacationing program is Mayor of the Town, Lionel Barrymore, on ABC. In its stead, at least for the first four weeks, will be Xavier Cugat's orchestra.

Currently the Opinionaire of MBS at 10 is conducting a three-party discussion of issues in the forthcoming campaign for president. To come up this time will be domestic questions. Speakers talk for the Democrats, Republicans and Wallace supporters.

In the third of its You and Politics CBS at 6:15 expects to have John D. M. Hamilton as guest. He is former Republican national chairman. Topics is "Campaigning for the Party Nomination."

Genevieve Rowe is to do soprano guest singing for the James Melton concert on CBS at 9:30. At this same time on NBC comes the District Attorney in his scripted "Case of the Golden Bell Mountain."

Coffee And Rice Blighted

SAO PAULO, Brazil—(AP)—Two of Brazil's main crops—coffee and rice—are being attacked heavily by insect plagues. The coffee "broca" disease which was bad last year is growing steadily worse, according to coffee exporters. Meanwhile a new plague is reported turning rice grains into something like charcoal.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"Why don't you fill your tires with this bracing mountain air?"

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

This Is The Army

Every summer the charms of the U. S. Army are trumpeted about the air almost as persistently as the special quanities of soap during the regular season. This doesn't mean the War Department throws its money around like Proctor & Gamble. The talent—and very well-known talent—usually comes free and the air time is usually on the cuff too.

Marlene Dietrich

This year the Army has come up with the Armed Forces Review (NBC 8 p. m., EDT, Thursdays) which promises to offer an impressive rollcall of talent as the summer unfurls. On the opening show the Army produced Irving Berlin, Marlene Deitrich and the comedian Joey Faye along with Burgess Meredith, the regular master of ceremonies. It was a luminous gathering, all right, but I'm afraid the entertainment didn't add up to the sum of its names. In an attempt to be as nice as possible to my former employer (who may decide to employ me again), I'd say the Army show was tuneful, sometimes pleasant and frequently irritating.

●—●—●

Miss Dietrich sang "Falling In Love Again" and "See What the Boys in the Back Room Will Have" in her nasal, scratchy voice, whose charm eludes me. Her singing, I realize, drives certain elegant young cultists into transports of rapture, a phenomenon which to me at least defies rational explanation.

In deference to Mr. Berlin's presence, the producers dipped heavily into his large reservoir of more or less military tunes. An organization known as the Smoothies performed gracefully on "This Is the Army" and also on one of the most lilting airs Berlin ever wrote, "Mandy," which was heard both in "Yip Yip Yaphank" and "This Is the Army." Berlin himself lifted what is left of his voice in his own "Kitchen Police"—a song I'd never heard—and his perennial "Oh How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning."

While those melodies are certainly appropriate to an Army show, the messages contained in their lyrics are hardly inducements to enlist. With Congressional approval of the draft, I expect the Army feels it doesn't have to gloss over the grimmer facts of Army existence. Incidentally, Army commercials, which for some darn reason always enchant me, are stressing this year the line: "An Army man is one of America's most important men." I don't intend to dispute that statement, but it seems to me somebody in the Pentagon has been staring wistfully at the Lord Calvert ads.

The Army always succeeds in gathering together some of the brighter performers but the writers either remain aloof or are not asked. The comedy on this show had a resolute, determined air about it like the outthrust chin of a colonel reviewing his troops. It was characterized, in short, by missionary zeal rather than humor, which isn't exactly the idea. Among other things, Miss Dietrich engaged in a long, excruciating game of post-office with Joey Faye which represented radio comedy at its worst. This seems as good a time as any to register my protest against these kissing games between movie stars and radio comedians. They provoke a certain amount of embarrassed laughter from the studio audience; at home we get only the embassassment.

One more thing. As summer lays its scented mantle on the air waves, it is the custom for non-radio talent to come out of the night clubs, the theaters and the movie lots and try their luck in the rich, elusive field of radio. By early fall they crawl back to the nightclubs, the theaters and the movie lots to lick their wounds. In their own defense, all I can say is that these entertainers are quite skillful in their own fields and that their radio efforts should be viewed with a certain amount of charity.

Gold Found In Siam

BANGKOK, Siam—(AP)—Gold has been discovered near the Siam-Burma frontier by a 20-year-old Siamese. The youth was hunting in the Kanchanaburi jungles. He saw some yellow metal glinting out of the slime of a pool. He scooped up as much of the metal as he could carry and brought it to Bangkok. The Department of Mines confirmed it was gold. It withheld the youth's name until he can get back to the jungle and stake a claim.

All Negro Musical Variety Program Takes Day's Spot

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, July 6 — Eight o'clock Wednesday night is the time for some more summer showing on two networks.

Stopping first on NBC at this hour will be found the National Minstrels, cavorting for Dennis Day. The listing describes it as an "all Negro musical variety show with Lucky Millinder's orchestra. There will be the songs of Annisteen Allen, Bullmoose Jackson, Paul Breckenridge, the Four Tunes and the Hall sisters. Also some comedy from Comedienne Jacke Mabley.

The other vacationing program is Mayor of the Town, Lionel Barrymore, on ABC. In its stead, at least for the first four weeks, will be Xavier Cugat's orchestra.

Currently the Opinionaire of MBS at 10 is conducting a three-party discussion of issues in the forthcoming campaign for president. To come up this time will be domestic questipns. Speakers talk for the Democrats, Republicans and Wallace supporters.

In the third of its You and Politics CBS at 6:15 expects to have John D. M. Hamilton as guest. He is former Republican national chairman. Topics is "Campaigning for the Party Nomination."

Genevieve Rowe is to do soprano guest singing for the James Melton concert on CBS at 9:30. At this same time on NBC comes the District Attorney in his scripted "Case of the Golden Bell Mountain."

Coffee And Rice Blighted

SAO PAULO, Brazil—(AP)—Two of Brazil's main crops—coffee and rice—are being attacked heavily by insect plagues. The coffee "broca" disease which was bad last year is growing steadily worse, according to coffee exporters. Meanwhile a new plague is reported turning rice grains into something like charcoal.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"Why don't you fill your tires with this bracing mountain air?"

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

This Is The Army

Every summer the charms of the U. S. Army are trumpeted about the air almost as persistently as the special quanities of soap during the regular season. This doesn't mean the War Department throws its money around like Proctor & Gamble. The talent—and very well-known talent—usually comes free and the air time is usually on the cuff too.

Marlene Dietrich

This year the Army has come up with the Armed Forces Review (NBC 8 p. m., EDT, Thursdays) which promises to offer an impressive rollcall of talent as the summer unfurls. On the opening show the Army produced Irving Berlin, Marlene Deitrich and the comedian Joey Faye along with Burgess Meredith, the regular master of ceremonies. It was a luminous gathering, all right, but I'm afraid the entertainment didn't add up to the sum of its names. In an attempt to be as nice as possible to my former employer (who may decide to employ me again), I'd say the Army show was tuneful, sometimes pleasant and frequently irritating.

●—●—●

Miss Dietrich sang "Falling In Love Again" and "See What the Boys in the Back Room Will Have" in her nasal, scratchy voice, whose charm eludes me. Her singing, I realize, drives certain elegant young cultists into transports of rapture, a phenomenon which to me at least defies rational explanation.

In deference to Mr. Berlin's presence, the producers dipped heavily into his large reservoir of more or less military tunes. An organization known as the Smoothies performed gracefully on "This Is the Army" and also on one of the most lilting airs Berlin ever wrote, "Mandy," which was heard both in "Yip Yip Yaphank" and "This Is the Army." Berlin himself lifted what is left of his voice in his own "Kitchen Police"—a song I'd never heard—and his perennial "Oh How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning."

While those melodies are certainly appropriate to an Army show, the messages contained in their lyrics are hardly inducements to enlist. With Congressional approval of the draft, I expect the Army feels it doesn't have to gloss over the grimmer facts of Army existence. Incidentally, Army commercials, which for some darn reason always enchant me, are stressing this year the line: "An Army man is one of America's most important men." I don't intend to dispute that statement, but it seems to me somebody in the Pentagon has been staring wistfully at the Lord Calvert ads.

The Army always succeeds in gathering together some of the brighter performers but the writers either remain aloof or are not asked. The comedy on this show had a resolute, determined air about it like the outthrust chin of a colonel reviewing his troops. It was characterized, in short, by missionary zeal rather than humor, which isn't exactly the idea. Among other things, Miss Dietrich engaged in a long, excruciating game of post-office with Joey Faye which represented radio comedy at its worst. This seems as good a time as any to register my protest against these kissing games between movie stars and radio comedians. They provoke a certain amount of embarrassed laughter from the studio audience; at home we get only the embassassment.

One more thing. As summer lays its scented mantle on the air waves, it is the custom for non-radio talent to come out of the night clubs, the theaters and the movie lots and try their luck in the rich, elusive field of radio. By early fall they crawl back to the nightclubs, the theaters and the movie lots to lick their wounds. In their own defense, all I can say is that these entertainers are quite skillful in their own fields and that their radio efforts should be viewed with a certain amount of charity.

Gold Found In Siam

BANGKOK, Siam—(AP)—Gold has been discovered near the Siam-Burma frontier by a 20-year-old Siamese. The youth was hunting in the Kanchanaburi jungles. He saw some yellow metal glinting out of the slime of a pool. He scooped up as much of the metal as he could carry and brought it to Bangkok. The Department of Mines confirmed it was gold. It withheld the youth's name until he can get back to the jungle and stake a claim.

Yipes! We are in for a cycle of women gambler stories. Last year it was women barflys with "Smash Up" and Joan Crawford in "Humoresque."

Latest to announce a gambling lady yarn is Enterprise coming up with Virginia Kellogg's original based on the 29-year-old blonde, Elaine Townsend, who owns the Grande Casino National in Havana. The chi chi joint brings in millions a year and is subsidized by the Cuban government.

Add to this that Havana is one of the most important international spy centers in the world, and you got yourself a movie plot, Bub. So far, no star.

Rumbles are that once Clark Gable and Tyrone Power get to Europe they will stay there for a while. Tyrone wants to follow "Prince of Foxes" in Italy with Don Byrne's "Handman's House" in Ireland. John Ford produced the same story in 1928 as a silent, and Ty has his heart set on the remake in its natural locale.

As for Mr. Gable, he is perfectly willing to be a lamb about starring in "Angel's Flight" if MGM gives in about shooting most of it in Germany, England and France.

In keeping with LOP's "play fair" policy for both sides of a squabble, we give you Oscar Cummins' reply to several statements attributed to Robert Cummings last week.

Oscar says none of the three suits he has pending to collect attorney's fees for services rendered Robert has been dismissed.

"The judge requested clarification on minor points in one instance," explains Oscar, "and the case is coming up."

As for that wedding breakfast bill, supposedly presented by him to the actor at the time of Robert's mariage, Oscar insists: "It was a press agent party arranged for by Actor Cummings and his ex-press agent."

Keyser Council Holds Initial Meet Of Year

New Solons Grant Several Requests

KEYSER—The first meeting of the fiscal year of the City Council and Mayor John C. Freeland held yesterday afternoon proved to be a busy one with six persons appearing before the group with numerous requests. In addition, the usual business was transacted.

Chief of Police Claude A. Martin appeared before the Council and requested the replacement and purchase of equipment and clothing for members of the Police Department. Approval for the necessary articles was granted by the council.

William Waller, Mineral County senior health officer, requested the city to spray all catch basins and other places where water stands to prevent the breeding of mosquitos. The request was granted. It was pointed out that such steps are taken every year by the city to prevent the breeding of insects.

Clarence Crawford, Keyser, requested the city to pay for the necessary repairs to his car after striking a water plug at the corner of Main and Center Streets one day last week. The mishap occurred as Crawford pulled to the curb of the street to let another vehicle pass. The plug was hit by the fender of his car. In view of the fact that the water plug is flush with the curb, not leaving room for the vehicles to occupy full street space without hitting the plug, Crawford was requested by the Council to submit three estimates of the needed repairs to his car.

T. Warner Lowry, of the Potomac Light and Power Company, submitted a list of suggested improvements in the street lights for the City of Keyser. Lowry was requested to submit a list by Mayor Freeland. The list, which calls for an increase in wattage in some lights and for additional lights in some sections of the city, will be considered when the budget is discussed, it was agreed by the council members.

A report of unsanitary conditions existing in the city made by Stanley Yost was accepted, and A. A. Jordan, city clerk, was requested to refer the condition to the senior health officer.

A representative of the Quonset Hut Company, Romney, appeared before the council with several plans for such a structure for the City of Keyser. It would be used by the city to store city owned equipment. The council requested that the representative forward to them price quotations on the different size huts.

L. O. Brotemarkle was granted permission to enlarge the rear porch of his dwelling at 33 C Street, the enlargement to be of frame, 12x14 feet at an approximate cost of $50.

Minstrel Scores Hit At Hyndman

HYNDMAN, Pa.—The Hyndman Lions Club proved conclusively that the people of the community prefer home talent by the success of their "Black and Tan Follies of 1948" minstrel which was presented Monday night on an outdoor stage at the local playground.

The show, an annual affair, was written and directed by C. P. Gaster and included many special features.

Mrs. Fred Porter was piano accompanist and the Ladies P-TA Choral Club sang two numbers. Miss Rosalee Femmi, Ellerslie, Md., the only outside talent, was outstanding in her interpretation of "Feudin' and Fightin'."

Other vocalists included Fred Porter and Robert A. Miller, Miss Jeanne Emerick, Miss Betty Ann Twigg. Dance numbers were given by Kay Mangus, Sandra Cook, Beverly Ann Diehl and Wendy Thomas. Patricia Owens and Dorothy Holler gave a specialty number, "Alexander's Ragtime Band," and Ronald Sneathen played three numbers on the piano accordion.

Music was furnished by the Hyndman Philharmonic Group.

Items Of Interest From Hyndman

The W.C.T.U. met recently in the Evangelical Church with the president, Mrs. Albert Bruck, presiding. The group participated in the program by reading articles furnished by the president. The next meeting will be on the evening of July 20 at the home of Misses Anna and Regina McGregor.

Those from here who attended the recent Lions Club picnic for District 14-E at Idlewilde Park, near Ligionier, were Mr. and Mrs. James Owens, sons, Jack and James, and daughter, Patricia, Rev. and Mrs. John H. Buffenmyer, daughter, Martha, and son, Johnny Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Hyre and son, Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burkett, daughter, Paulette, and son, Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Beal and daughters, Janet and Lynne, Mrs. Edward Crabtree, son, Dale, and daughter, Carol, and Zane Babley.

Tri-Towns Personals

Mrs. Victor Knapp and daughter Jean Louise, Arlington, Va., spent the weekend with the former's brother-in-law and sister. Mr. and Mrs. Smith Whitworth, Philos Avenue, Westernport.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim O'Brien, Martinsburg, W. Va., announce the birth of a daughter Monday morning in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser. Mrs. O'Brien is the former Miss Ann Peters, Parsons, W. Va. Mr. O'Brien is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Brien, Luke.

Keyser Council Holds Initial Meet Of Year

New Solons Grant Several Requests

KEYSER—The first meeting of the fiscal year of the City Council and Mayor John C. Freeland held yesterday afternoon proved to be a busy one with six persons appearing before the group with numerous requests. In addition, the usual business was transacted.

Chief of Police Claude A. Martin appeared before the Council and requested the replacement and purchase of equipment and clothing for members of the Police Department. Approval for the necessary articles was granted by the council.

William Waller, Mineral County senior health officer, requested the city to spray all catch basins and other places where water stands to prevent the breeding of mosquitos. The request was granted. It was pointed out that such steps are taken every year by the city to prevent the breeding of insects.

Clarence Crawford, Keyser, requested the city to pay for the necessary repairs to his car after striking a water plug at the corner of Main and Center Streets one day last week. The mishap occurred as Crawford pulled to the curb of the street to let another vehicle pass. The plug was hit by the fender of his car. In view of the fact that the water plug is flush with the curb, not leaving room for the vehicles to occupy full street space without hitting the plug, Crawford was requested by the Council to submit three estimates of the needed repairs to his car.

T. Warner Lowry, of the Potomac Light and Power Company, submitted a list of suggested improvements in the street lights for the City of Keyser. Lowry was requested to submit a list by Mayor Freeland. The list, which calls for an increase in wattage in some lights and for additional lights in some sections of the city, will be considered when the budget is discussed, it was agreed by the council members.

A report of unsanitary conditions existing in the city made by Stanley Yost was accepted, and A. A. Jordan, city clerk, was requested to refer the condition to the senior health officer.

A representative of the Quonset Hut Company, Romney, appeared before the council with several plans for such a structure for the City of Keyser. It would be used by the city to store city owned equipment. The council requested that the representative forward to them price quotations on the different size huts.

L. O. Brotemarkle was granted permission to enlarge the rear porch of his dwelling at 33 C Street, the enlargement to be of frame, 12x14 feet at an approximate cost of $50.

Minstrel Scores Hit At Hyndman

HYNDMAN, Pa.—The Hyndman Lions Club proved conclusively that the people of the community prefer home talent by the success of their "Black and Tan Follies of 1948" minstrel which was presented Monday night on an outdoor stage at the local playground.

The show, an annual affair, was written and directed by C. P. Gaster and included many special features.

Mrs. Fred Porter was piano accompanist and the Ladies P-TA Choral Club sang two numbers. Miss Rosalee Femmi, Ellerslie, Md., the only outside talent, was outstanding in her interpretation of "Feudin' and Fightin'."

Other vocalists included Fred Porter and Robert A. Miller, Miss Jeanne Emerick, Miss Betty Ann Twigg. Dance numbers were given by Kay Mangus, Sandra Cook, Beverly Ann Diehl and Wendy Thomas. Patricia Owens and Dorothy Holler gave a specialty number, "Alexander's Ragtime Band," and Ronald Sneathen played three numbers on the piano accordion.

Music was furnished by the Hyndman Philharmonic Group.

Items Of Interest From Hyndman

The W.C.T.U. met recently in the Evangelical Church with the president, Mrs. Albert Bruck, presiding. The group participated in the program by reading articles furnished by the president. The next meeting will be on the evening of July 20 at the home of Misses Anna and Regina McGregor.

Those from here who attended the recent Lions Club picnic for District 14-E at Idlewilde Park, near Ligionier, were Mr. and Mrs. James Owens, sons, Jack and James, and daughter, Patricia, Rev. and Mrs. John H. Buffenmyer, daughter, Martha, and son, Johnny Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Hyre and son, Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burkett, daughter, Paulette, and son, Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Beal and daughters, Janet and Lynne, Mrs. Edward Crabtree, son, Dale, and daughter, Carol, and Zane Babley.

Tri-Towns Personals

Mrs. Victor Knapp and daughter Jean Louise, Arlington, Va., spent the weekend with the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Whitworth, Philos Avenue, Westernport.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim O'Brien, Martinsburg, W. Va., announce the birth of a daughter Monday morning in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser. Mrs. O'Brien is the former Miss Ann Peters, Parsons, W. Va. Mr. O'Brien is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Brien, Luke.

Small Gains Raise General Level In Stock Market To 22-Month High

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Small gains in the stock market today were enough to raise the general price level to a new 22-month high.

Railroad issues called the tune at the start and numerous industrial stocks responded with advances of fractions to more than a point. The rails themselves, and some others, lost their balance in late trading and closed under the top marks of the day.

Turnover of 950,000 shares was a shade above Friday's 920,000, but about on a par with last week's comparatively quiet trading.

Immediate news developments were more or less ignored, including the failure of soft coal miners to return to work at captive mines after their holiday, and the refusal of Gen. Eisenhower to accept the Democratic presidential nomination.

Some brokers suggested that the international argument over the Berlin blockade had braked market interest.

Zenith Radio hit a new 1948 high with a 3⅜-point advance to 32¾ following issuance of a highly favorable earnings report for the fiscal year ended April 30.

Also higher were St. Paul 12, Erie 15⅞, Southern Pacific 60, Chesapeake and Ohio 38¾, Katy preferred 26⅛ (a new high), United States Steel 81¼, General Motors 64½, Caterpillar Tractor 62¼, Westinghouse Electric 30½, American Woolen 53⅜, Sinclair Oil 29⅝, Richfield Oil 43, and Twentieth Century-Fox 21⅜.

Nickel Plate Railroad backed away from its 1948 peak with a 1¾ point loss at 88¼, when profit taking sales interrupted a long advance.

Steel shares were little bothered by the possibility that a prolonged stoppage of coal output in the captive mines, or mines owned by steel mills, could have a serious effect on steel output. Most of the metal manufacturers are pretty well supplied with coal now but they can't live on their inventories indefinitely.

Small declines were posted for Studebaker, Electric Power and Light, Commonwealth Edison, American Smelting, General Electric, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (NJ), and American Airlines.

A couple of long-term United States governments dipped in the over-the-counter market. The bank-eligible 2½s of September 1967-72 lost 1/32 at 101 30/32 bid. Listed corporate issues were irregular.

A handful of railroad and utility loans advanced in the bond market as demand spread thinly across all groups.

Small Gains Raise General Level In Stock Market To 22-Month High

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Small gains in the stock market today were enough to raise the general price level to a new 22-month high.

Railroad issues called the tune at the start and numerous industrial stocks responded with advances of fractions to more than a point. The rails themselves, and some others, lost their balance in late trading and closed under the top marks of the day.

Turnover of 950,000 shares was a shade above Friday's 920,000, but about on a par with last week's comparatively quiet trading.

Immediate news developments were more or less ignored, including the failure of soft coal miners to return to work at captive mines after their holiday, and the refusal of Gen. Eisenhower to accept the Democratic presidential nomination.

Some brokers suggested that the international argument over the Berlin blockade had braked market interest.

Zenith Radio hit a new 1948 high with a 3¾-point advance to 32¾ following issuance of a highly favorable earnings report for the fiscal year ended April 30.

Also higher were St. Paul 12, Erie 15⅞, Southern Pacific 60, Chesapeake and Ohio 38¾, Katy preferred 26⅛ (a new high), United States Steel 81¼, General Motors 64½, Caterpillar Tractor 62¼, Westinghouse Electric 30½, American Woolen 53⅜, Sinclair Oil 29⅝, Richfield Oil 43, and Twentieth Century-Fox 21⅜.

Nickel Plate Railroad backed away from its 1948 peak with a 1¾ point loss at 88¼, when profit taking sales interrupted a long advance.

Steel shares were little bothered by the possibility that a prolonged stoppage of coal output in the captive mines, or mines owned by steel mills, could have a serious effect on steel output. Most of the metal manufacturers are pretty well supplied with coal now but they can't live on their inventories indefinitely.

Small declines were posted for Studebaker, Electric Power and Light, Commonwealth Edison, American Smelting, General Electric, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (NJ), and American Airlines.

A couple of long-term United States governments dipped in the over-the-counter market. The bank-eligible 2½s of September 1967-72 lost 1/32 at 101 30/32 bid. Listed corporate issues were irregular.

A handful of railroad and utility loans advanced in the bond market as demand spread thinly across all groups.

LaVale Water Shortage Is Still Problem

Resident May Air Question Next Week

While numerous residents of LaVale complained of a shortage of water, and a large number of consumers contacted last night said they have been without water for two and three days "despite the heavy rainfall," leaders in the campaign to form a sanitary district pondered their next move.

The sanitary district proposal to enable the suburb to establish a community - owned and financed water system, was put to referendum at a special election. Last week, however, the Circuit Court here, on petition, ruled the election null and void.

It was explained in the Court's opinion that the election was illegal because the Board of Election Supervisors failed to comply with the law, and committed several discrepancies.

The Court's opinion, throwing out the lection as illegal, put a damper on any possibility of action toward an adequate water system for LaVale, and it appeared that residents of that suburb will continue to suffer for want of water, spokesmen said.

May Meet Next Week

No definite plans have been made for any renewed action, but proponents of the sanitary district plan, and other interested residents said last night a meeting has been suggested for next week at which time the subject is to be aired.

It was pointed out that the Court did not declare the Sanitary District Act unconstitutional, and indicated that any action on another election would be up to the Board of Election Supervisors or General Assembly.

Members of the Election Board had no comment on the situation last night. One member said the LaVale people have no request for another special election.

It was pointed out that probably nothing along this line can be attempted until after another Sanitary District Act is passed by the State Legislature next January. There is a clause in the present act providing that the special election on the question must be held within 90 days of date of passage. More than 90 days have passed since tne Act became law, and some attorneys say no further referendum is now possible because of this 90 - day clause.

Early Solution Sought

The LaVale Civic Improvement Association expects to consider the problem further and members of the LaVale Fire Company are also expressing interest in an early solution.

Residents reported last night that complaints to the LaVale Water Company about shortages of water are useless and sometimes result in "discourteous" answers and verbal mistreatment.

This was all a repetition of the situation last summer and in previous summers. People are hauling water in bottles and other containers from Cumberland. Several men wait until they reach their offices in Cumberland to shave each morning. Women report insufficient water for ordinary cooking and none at all for scrubbing, laundry, bathing, etc.

Many new homes have been constructed in LaVale, and it was reported here by contractors that most of these are installing their own water systems and having wells drilled under the houses. Neighbors tapped on to the private water company's lines who are without water, are, in many instances, borrowing from neighbors with pumps and wells.

Housewives say the water is shut off without warning. Water will be running steadily and with good pressure, and suddenly it stops, one woman explained. She said water in her home was shut off yesterday morning at 8:30 and remained off all day.

Celanese-Union Will Meet Today

Contract negotiations between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America are scheduled to resume this morning at 10 o'clock at the Celanese.

James A. Holden, federal conciliator who arranged the meeting, was scheduled to arrive here late last night.

Top officers of the local and representatives from the Negotiating committee will leave here tonight to attend a meeting of the TWUA's Rayon Advisory Council to be held Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Park Central Hotel, New York.

Representing Local 1874 will be Playford Aldridge, president, and John G. Thomas, business manager, with additional representatives of the negotiating committee to be chosen by that group.

The local, at meetings held last Friday and Saturday, authorized the committee to continue talks here until the outcome of that conference is made known.

Cape Cod Sloop Wins Deep Creek Race

The Deep Creek Yacht Club featured race of the day on Monday at the Garrett County lake was won by Harold H. Muma's Cape Cod sloop sailed by his two sons, Robert and Harold, Jr.

The winning margin of the race was only eight seconds, with the winner closely followed by Commodore Richard Holben's snipe and Henry K. Duke's Cape Cod.

Qualifying runs Saturday were taken by the David T. Davis snipe sailed by the owner and Mrs. Donald Grove and Commodore Richard Holben's snipe sailed by the owner and James O'Connell.

Races were run for the first time since before World War II. Harold H. Muma, chairman of the racing committee was assisted by Robert Knipe, timer and John F. Schaidt, starter. Races are being planned every weekend during the season.

Local Man Charged With Watch Larceny

Raymond G. Everett, 18, Christie Road, is being held in city jail after being apprehended Monday night by Detective Thomas J. See and Officer John Snyder.

Everett is charged with larceny of a watch from the Brunswick Hotel, where he had taken a room for the night.

"Learn To Swim" Class To Commence Today

Miss Ann Nagle, a qualified physical education instructor, will begin a "Learn to Swim" program at the Constitution Park pool this morning at 10 o'clock.

The classes are being sponsored by the Cumberland Red Cross Chapter in co-operation with the City of Cumberland.

"Y" Day Camp Opens

Only two girls are among the 23 youngsters enrolled for the annual day camp program of Central YMCA, which got underway yesterday, according to Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary.

The program is being held Tuesday through Friday of each week until the camp closes July 30. Clifton Van Roby is director. Counselors are George Leyh and James Alderton. Those attending the day camp range in age from nine to 13.

Two Men Jailed

Howard Iser, Short Gap, W. Va., and Louis Donius, Wineow Street, pleaded guilty in Trial Magistrates Court Friday to the theft of 52 tie plates from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Iser was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and Donius to three months.

Local Briefs

Local 307, Electrical Workers Union, AFL, will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. in Allegany Trades Council Hall.

Collier Child Still Missing Near Somerset

A fresh footprint early yesterday spurred the party, but it was later identified as that of a small deer.

Over 500 volunteers, including police, with bloodhounds, searchlights and planes have covered the area, but have come on no traces of the child.

Fear that the child may have been kidnaped have been largely dispelled by police, who point out that the Colliers are not wealthy and do not seem to have any enemies.

Except for short rest periods, the entire party, which gains a few new members daily, has worked unceasingly since Friday, with hopes that someone of the huge group would come upon something that may lead to finding the youngster.

Mayor Opposes Tax Exemption

Mayor Thomas S. Post declared yesterday every industry in Cumberland should be compelled to pay taxes or all industries should be exempted from taxes.

He made the statement in casting the sole negative vote of the Mayor and Council on a request of the National Jet Company for exemption of its taxes this year.

"The only time I'll favor tax exemption," the mayor said, "is when a new industry is coming in."

However, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan declared if city officials refuse to exempt taxes of legitimate industries already here, the city will lose industries instead of gaining new ones.

Later, Commissioner Keegan accused Mayor Post of appearing before Mayor and Council several years ago to argue for exemption of taxes for the Taylor Company, which was in business here until 1937. Mayor Post was not a city official at the time. Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds supported the statement by Commissioner Keegan.

This is the second year in succession council has granted an exemption of taxes to the National Jet Company. Last year, John M. Robb, local attorney, applied for a 10-year exemption. This was refused, but an exemption for last year was granted. The request this year also was for a 10-year exemption.

Commissioner Keegan said the taxes this year total approximately $369.

Elks Will Hold Lodge Of Sorrow

A lodge of sorrow in memory of the late Henry J. Conway and Samuel E. Griminger will be held at the Elks Home tonight at 8 o'clock by Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks.

Eulogies will be delivered by Frank A. Wolfhope and Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr.

The meeting will mark the beginning of the summer schedule of the Elks lodge, which will hold only one session a month in July and August. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, August 4.

Optimists To Hear Smoke Engineer

George Hitchcock, smoke abatement engineer for the City of Cumberland, will be guest speaker tonight at the Cumberland Optimist Club meeting in Central YMCA at 6:15 o'clock.

The Opti-Mrs. has announced plans for a picnic supper for the men Saturday at Klinger's Cottage. The club will assemble at Nicholson's service station, Mapleside, at 6:45 p. m. The annual club picnic and family outing is planned for July 21, according to Robert S. Arrington, president.

Jenkins Will Head Mountain Radio Club

L. R. Jenkins, 708 Louisiana Avenue, has been elected president of the Mountain Radio Club, Cumberland.

Permit Sought To Build Home

William R. King, 450 Columbia Street, filed an appeal yesterday with the Board of Zoning Appeals for an occupancy permit to use Lot 12, Holland Street, as the site for a residence he plans to construct.

His application was denied by City Engineer Ralph R. Rizer because only five feet and seven feet four inches, respectively, will be allowed for side yards, whereas the building code requires at least 10 feet.

King said the one and one-half story concrete block structure would have a roof of asphalt or asbestos shingles.

A permit was granted to Philip Kester, 900 Oldtown Road, to build a one-story concrete block house on part of Lot 1, Block 27 on Ridgewood Avenue, facing Brookfield Avenue.

The structure, which will measure 40 by 28 feet, will have a composition shingle roof. Work is estimated to cost $4,000.

B. J. Sunderlin, 1 Mary Street, secured a permit to build a two-car garage and accessory building at the rear of 5-7 Mary Street, at a cost of $500.

The one-story structure, 30 by 24 feet, will be of concrete block construction with a ruberoid roof. Work will be done by H. P. Hinkle, Wiley Ford, W. Va.

Roy Owens, 426 Central Avenue, obtained a permit to build an open rear porch at his home and to replace a rear window with a door. The porch will measure 24 by 6 feet, with a foundation of concrete block posts, frame walls and a ruberoid roof. Cost is estimated at $75.

Presidential Special Stops In Keyser

A crowd of from 200 to 300 spectators gathered at the Baltimore and Ohio station in Keyser, W. Va., early last night as the special train carrying President Truman and his party back to Washington from Bolivar, Mo., stopped for a few minutes to change crews.

The train, which was about 20 minutes behind schedule, arrived in Keyser at 6:30 p. m. President Truman appeared on the rear platform and waved to the spectators.

He was returning from dedication exercises held Monday of a statue to Simon Bolivar, South American liberator, for whom the small Missouri town was named.

Observers noted that Mr. Truman "had a good sun tan."

George Wallace Hurt When Jeep Overturns

George Wallace, 40, Narrows Park, escaped serious injury early last night when the Jeep he was driving overturned near Klosterman's Addition, Memorial Hospital attaches report.

Wallace was treated for rib injuries, lacerations and abrasions and released from the hospital.

Lightning Strikes Smith Residence

South End Fire Company was colled to the W. L. Smith residence, 870 Maryland Avenue, yesterday afternoon after a bolt of lightning struck the light circuit.

Firemen said the circuit and fuse box were destroyed, with no other damage reported.

Officials Reach Agreement On Flood Protection

Formal Commitments To Be Exchanged

Plans for a detailed working agreement for co-operation between Cumberland and Ridgeley as the flash flood control progresses were discussed yesterday at a conference of officials of both communities, held in the office of Mayor Thomas S. Post.

A tentative agreement was reached whereby substantially the same flood protection will be afforded citizens of both communities while the work is in progress.

Formal commitments will be exchanged in the near future by Cumberland and Ridgeley officials.

D. V. C. Birrell, chief of the flood control and power branch of the Washington district office, Corps of Engineers, attended the conference.

Cumberland officials present, besides Mayor Post, were Commissioners Edgar Reynolds, William J. Edwards, William V. Keegan and William H. Buchholtz; City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer.

Ridgeley was represented by Mayor Frank Magruder; Recorder Robert Zimmerman and Councilman Homer Borror; and by members of the Ridgeley Flood Control Committee, including J. H. Simmons, chairman; former Mayors Paul Morgan and Odbert Poling, and George Edenhart, a former councilman.

The Senate and House have both approved $500,000 for initial work on the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project, as well as $500,000 for the Savage River Dam project.

Last November, city officials of Cumberland authorized a $700,000 bond issue as the city's share in the project. The county authorized a bond issue for $1,000,000 at the same time.

VFW Hears Reports On State Conclave

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars membership heard reports on the annual encampment held at Hagerstown last month, at their regular meeting last night. Reports were made by Lester Mull, chairman of the post's deelgation, Thomas K. Whalley and Roy F. Everstine.

Mull presided at last night's session in the absence of James Kloran, post commander, who is vacationing in Canada.

Plans were outlined for the post's annual picnic to be held Sunday at Smouse's beach. Buses will leave the post home at 11 a. m., 12 noon and 1 p. m. The post and auxiliary picnic committees will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 at the post home to complete arrangements.

Announcement was made that the post drum and bugle corps was judged for first place in the Oakland Fourth of July parade, and has accepted invitations to appear at Johnstown, Pa., and Barton for parades.

Mull appointed Kloran to represent the post on the city's Industrial Promotion Committee.

Mines Resume Work As Holiday Ends

Railroad officials, coal operators and union spokesmen said last night that practically all deep mines in the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac Coal Regions resumed work yesterday after the miner's annual holiday, and production is nearing normal.

Contracts have been signed by all operators in this district, it was reported, and men returned to work as usual.

Only strip mines were reported idle, but this was attributed largely to the extreme wet weather, making it next to impossible for trucks and other equipment to move in the mud.

Railroad officials here said they expect the movement of coal to be back to normal by tomorrow.

Chairman Gets Quick Results

Monday morning it was announced that William J. Gunter, Cumberland attorney, had been named chairman of the special events committee of the Junior Association of Commerce.

The first special event happened yesterday afternoon at Memorial Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Gunter became the parents of a nine-pound son. They reside in LaVale.

Solicitions Group Will Meet Today

A general discussion of the problems of solicitation control in this city will be held at a meeting of the recently selected solicitations control committee of the Mercantile Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce planned today at 10 a. m. in the C. of C. offices.

The committee includes Irving Rosenbaum, chairman, Mrs. Cara Ebert and Milton Bernstein.

Body Of Man Found In New York May Be That Of Former Resident

A man who may be James Arthur Welsh, 45, a former Cumberland resident, died suddenly at a busy street intersection in New York on June 30, the LaVale barracks of the State Police reported yesterday.

A teletype report from New York authorities advised that a man had been found on the street with two Social Security cards in his possession, one bearing the name of James Arthur Welsh and the other that of James O'Hara.

Welsh's death was prematurely announced on April 29, when local relatives were notified that he had died in a New York Hospital. When the undertaker went to prepare the body for the journey to Cumberland, he found the supposedly dead man sitting up in bed writing a letter home. It was a case of "mistaken identity." The funeral arrangements had been made and a grave already dug in a local cemetery.

Mrs. Carl Hammersmith, 624 Columbia Avenue, sister of Welsh, was notified yesterday afternoon by city police of the teletype message.

Last night when contacted, Mrs. Hammersmith said the body had not been identified by relatives, but someone would probably go to New York for the positive identification.

A post card written by Welsh from New York on June 29, revealed that he was being taken from St. Joseph's Hospital to Bellevue Hospital. The body is in the morgue at the Bellevue institution.

Officials Ponder Habit Of Old People In Hiding Their Savings

Recent Deaths Reveal Large Cash Hoards

While banking institutions in this county continue to show steady gains in banking deposits and bank clearings in their periodical financial statements, there seems to be considerable money which never gets to the bank.

In recent months, persons who have died in this county have left large sums of money about the premises of their homes or places of business. Observers express the opinion that these people remember bank failures of a decade ago, and do not understand that all bank deposits up to $5,000 are now insured against loss by Uncle Sam.

But whatever the reason, old people who die often leave sums of money behind them. Probably many more cases than actually come to light occur, and some officials here believe that the practice of hoarding large sums of cash is hazardous for many reasons.

Kept Money In Desk

After the death of Robert Jackson, former clerk of court of Allegany County, it was discovered that he left more than $10,000 in accumulated personal savings in his desk and a small cabinet safe at the Court House. The money was found wrapped neatly in three bundles and identified as Jackson's personal savings. After Jackson died suddenly, clerks at the Court House discovered the money, much of which had been carefully accumulated over a long period of time.

Jackson, a native of Lonaconing, was generally known for his thrift, and it was also reliably reported that a large sum of money was found in his hotel room after his death. His estate has not yet been settled.

Money In Coffee Tin

The register of wills office shows the settlement of an estate of another Lonaconing resident, John Newton Morgan, a blacksmith who lived on Scotch Hill. Morgan died last November 21 and a brother, Charles K. Morgan, was named administrator of the estate.

John Newton Morgan was also known as a thrifty man and one who saved his money. Relatives said last night he had lost heavily when Lonaconing banks had financial reverses a number of years ago and did not believe in keeping all his money in banks.

After his death, relatives found a large sum of money in a coffee tin in his house. The amount has been variously reported as between $4,000 and $5,000.

Court records show that Morgan left an estate of $9,907.40 in cash. This included $4,840 deposited in checking account in a local bank, and court attaches said they believed this was the sum found in Morgan's house after his death. The account also shows he had a savings account in the same local bank of $1,211.36 and another deposit of $3,655.70 in a county bank. His estate received $200.34 as Social Security death benefits.

New Industrial Committee Plans Meeting Friday

26 Representatives Invited To Serve

Letters have been sent to 23 business, industrial, veterans and labor representatives, inviting them to serve on the new "Industrial Promotion Committee," Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz announced yesterday.

In addition, three local veterans' groups have been asked to appoint one member each to serve on the committee.

Buchholtz was instrumental in having a fund of $3,500 set up in the current city budget for use in encouraging new industries to locate in Cumberland.

He announced that the first meeting of the committee is scheduled for Friday at 8 p. m. in City Hall auditorium.

The fund will be used for such purposes as publicity and travel expenses in the event out-of-town firms wish to send representatives here to survey Cumberland as a possible location for their industries.

"I believe we all realize the growing need for such a project and I am sure we understand that it will be necessary to have the wholehearted co-operation of all people concerned in order for us to make headway in this respect," Buchholtz said.

Veterans' groups invited to name representatives are J. Louis Wolford Post No. 1, Amvets; Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion; and Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Others invited to serve, some of whom have already accepted, are: Edgar D. Vandegrift of the John I. Vandegrift Contracting Company; Owen E. Hitchins, president of the Tri-State Mine and Mill Supply Company; Henry W. Price, district manager of the Potomac Edison Company.

Carl C. Robbins, manager of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company; Howard M. Smith, manager of the Cumberland office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company; Frank A. Martin, president of Martin's, Inc.; F. Patrick Allender, business agent of Carpenters Local No. 1024.

Playford Aldridge, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America; C. N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the Allegany County Board of County Commissioners; James Alfred Avirett, local attorney and chairman of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

George M. Hitchcock, city smoke abatement engineer and superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company; City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer; C. E. Gehr, division freight agent for the Western Maryland Railway Company; William Claus, general manager of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

G. M. Gemmill, division freight agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company; Earl Chaney of the Chaney Transportation Company; James B. Reinhart, president of the Cumberland Real Estate Board.

Patrick J. Carroll, manager of the local office of the Maryland State Employment Service; Maurice Milberg, secretary-treasurer of the Cumberland Undergarment Company; and Thomas E. Gilchrist, Sr., president of the Wilson Hardware Company.

Pollution Control Group To Meet Here August 13

The state water pollution control commission will hold its August meeting in Cumberland, Paul W. McKee, executive secretary, notified Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday.

McKee said the meeting is scheduled for Friday, August 13, and inquired whether the council chamber would be available for the meeting.

The mayor said he plans to suggest, however, that the meeting be held in his office, since only 10 or 12 persons are expected to attend.

Joseph H. McLain is chairman of the committee. McKee's letter did not state what the topic of discussion would be.

Funeral Service Is Planned For Pfc. James Cuff

Cresaptown Soldier To Be Reburied

The body of Pfc. James Patrick Cuff, 30, Cresaptown, who lost his life in France September 16, 1944, will arrive here early this afternoon and will be taken to the Stein Funeral Home.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Ambrose Catholic Church and reburial will be in the church cemetery.

Pfc. Cuff was a son of Patrick H. and Mrs. Delphia M. Luzader Cuff, Winchester Road, Cresaptown.

Pfc. James Cuff

He was employed at the Celanese plant before he entered service April 16, 1941 and was shipped overseas in October, 1942.

Pfc. Cuff was twice wounded in France before he was killed in action while serving with Company I, 175th Infantry, 29th Division. He was buried in St. James Cemetery, France.

He was born August 21, 1917, in Benbush, W. Va.

Also surviving are two brothers, Paul E. and Martin D. Cuff, both of Cresaptown, and two sisters, Mrs. Dale Broadwater, Cresaptown, and Mrs. Eugene Bergman, Wilmont Avenue here.

84 Receive YMCA Swimming Awards

Eighty-four of the 165 boys and girls between the ages of nine and 12 who enrolled in the annual "learn to swim" program at Central YMCA received certificates last night from Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary.

The certificates signified that the 84 had passed the YMCA "advanced beginners" swimming test. Of the 84, 44 swam 60 feet free style, and all demonstrated diving off the board at the YMCA pool, where the closing exercises were held.

Adam said 228 persons attended the "parents' night" event, which opened with a demonstration of teaching methods by the three instructors in charge of the course, James E. Kelley, Jr., W. Elmo Chanell and William P. Linn.

After swimming and diving exhibitions by the youngsters and presentation of the certificates, an entertainment program of swimming, lobby games and movies was held for the parents and children.

Park Pool Use Shows Increase

The average last month was 348 persons daily, while in June of 1947 the daily average attendance was 289.

Both the Celanese and Constitution Park pools had overflow crowds on Sunday and Monday, with more than 4,000 persons using the facilities.

Two-day attendance at the Celanese pool totaled 2,190, with 1,922 at Constitution Park. Hundreds of others used the Minke pool on Christie Road.

Meidum lambs 24-25; good stock ewes $16.50 a head. Good young chickens 35-38; old hens 28-32 cents.

Kelly Contract Talks Slated To Resume Monday

Union "Astonished" At Vacation Stand

Contract negotiations between Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO, and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company will be resumed Monday at the Kelly plant.

A. E. Johnson, union president, who announced the meeting, said the URCLPWA has been informed of the issues in dispute when negotiations became deadlocked last Friday.

The company on Friday withdrew an 11 cent increase offer made early last week after the union negotiators declined a company offer of a vacation plan providing a maximum of two weeks vacation.

The company listed issues in dispute as hours of work and overtime, wage differentials and wage levels and vacation pay.

Johnson yesterday said he "was astonished" at the company's stand on the vacation period since the firm, in previous years, has recognized employes' service prior to August, 1935, when the present Kelly firm was organized, for vacations and seniority.

Full recognition of service since the plant began here has been recognized for all purposes with one exception, that of severance pay in the 1947 contract, he added.

The company refused to grant a third week of vacation after 15 years of service on the grounds that the present firm has not been in existence that long.

The union said the firm offered the 11 cent increase granted at Goodyear plants but refused to give other concessions involving money which are as much a part of the pattern as the flat wage boost.

Johnson said Local 26 expects help from the URCLPWA on the issues in dispute here.

The union Saturday authorized the negotiating committee and executive board to terminate the contract unless a satisfactory agreement is reached in a reasonable time, Johnson said.

Frederick Jaycees Offer Conservation Prize

FREDERICK, Md., July 6. (AP)—The Frederick Junior Chamber of Commerce today offered $100 worth of prizes for the best soil conservation essays written by Maryland junior high and high school pupils.

The contest is in connection with Maryland Conservation Field Day on August 18. That's the day some 500 volunteer workers will do four or five years of conservation work on Mrs. Nellie V. Thrasher's farm in just one day.

William R. Sell, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee, said the contest is open to all pupils in the seventh through twelfth grades, including those who graduated from high school this spring.

The 10 prizes start at a $50 security bond and go down to $5 in United States saving stamps. The essays are to be not longer than 500 words on "What the Conservation of Natural Resources Means to Me" and they must be mailed to Frederick by July 25.

Two Accidents Reported On Penna. Turnpike

A Los Angeles, Cal., motorist fell asleep on the Pennsylvania Turnpike yesterday and collided with a truck operated by Lloyd Shull, Akron, Ohio.

The driver, who was not injured, was identified as James Carson, 27. Damage to the Carson car was estimated at $500, while the Shull truck was damaged to the extent of approximately $200.

In another accident reported earlier, State Police said Paul Zofchak, Morrisville, Pa., lost control of his car and ran against an enbankment. Damage was estimated at $600.

The Carson mishap occurred in Cumberland County, while the Zofchak accident happened near Somerset.

Jaycees Entertain Two Guests Tonight

Miss Juanita Lookabaugh, "Miss Cumberland," and Lowell Coats, city marbles champion, will be guests of honor at the dinner meeting of the Junior Association of Commerce at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

C. S. Catherman, Jr., president, said last night, reports will be given on the Miss Cumberland pageant, the Air Show and other recent activities of the organization.

Police Apprehend Soldier For Army

Vincent J. Fazzalore, Company B, Third Infantry Regiment, Fort Myer, Va., is being held in the City Jail after being picked up here yesterday by city police.

Military police from the camp are expected today to return him to the base.

BIRTHS

Memorial Hospital reported the following births last night:

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Goodman, 811 Elmwood Lane, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milliron, Route 5, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Gunter, LaVale, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. James Symons, Potomac Park, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Flora, 321 Maryland Avenue, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. William Elfritz, 721 Sylvan Avenue, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palumbo, Boulevard Apartments, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Broll, 327 Arch Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hayman, 635 N. Mechanic Street, a son, born in Miners' Hospital, Frostburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mellon, Bowman's Addition, a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Teets, 1316 Virginia Avenue.

The Weather

The hot humid spell may be over for a while, the weatherman reported last night as he nonchalantly wet his finger to see which way the wind was blowing. "It's coming from the East, son," he said, "and I reckon that means colder weather, and by gosh, it will be welcome, as far as I'm concerned." Seriously, he believes the Cumberland area will be generally fair today and not so warm. The high temperature for yesterday was 89 degrees in mid-afternoon, falling to 72 at 10:30 o'clock last night. No rain is forecast, but may come up from nowhere as a surprise, the forecaster warned last night.

CIO Asks Italy Rebuilt In Democratic Image

NEW YORK — The American Government must encourage and support economic as well as political democracy in Italy, if the Italian people are to resist Communism successfully and rebuild their nation in the democratic image, the Italian-American Trade Union Committee of the Congress of Industrial Organizations declared in a letter addressed to President Truman on June 28, and released today.

In its letter, the Committee, the official liaison between the CIO and the Italian Confederation of Labor, declared the Italian people voted democratic because they believed that with American aid the campaign promises made to them by the democratic parties of Italy would be carried out.

"The Italian people", the Committee said, "like the people of all Europe, envision an economic order in which production is carried on for the benefit of all the people, not the profit of a few . . ."

If America tries to revive the old order in Italy, the Committee said, the battle of Democracy will be lost. "The Communists," it warned, "will have only to bide their time while the democratic parties of Italy, and our Western democracies, prove that they do not understand the heart and mind of the common man in Italy, and that they cannot act even to save themselves in this all-too-desperate situation."

LaVale Water Shortage Is Still Problem

Resident May Air Question Next Week

While numerous residents of LaVale complained of a shortage of water, and a large number of consumers contacted last night said they have been without water for two and three days "despite the heavy rainfall," leaders in the campaign to form a sanitary district pondered their next move.

The sanitary district proposal to enable the suburb to establish a community - owned and financed water system, was put to referendum at a special election. Last week, however, the Circuit Court here, on petition, ruled the election null and void.

It was explained in the Court's opinion that the election was illegal because the Board of Election Supervisors failed to comply with the law, and committed several discrepancies.

The Court's opinion, throwing out the lection as illegal, put a damper on any possibility of action toward an adequate water system for LaVale, and it appeared that residents of that suburb will continue to suffer for want of water, spokesmen said.

May Meet Next Week

No definite plans have been made for any renewed action, but proponents of the sanitary district plan, and other interested residents said last night a meeting has been suggested for next week at which time the subject is to be aired.

It was pointed out that the Court did not declare the Sanitary District Act unconstitutional, and indicated that any action on another election would be up to the Board of Election Supervisors or General Assembly.

Members of the Election Board had no comment on the situation last night. One member said the LaVale people have no request for another special election.

It was pointed out that probably nothing along this line can be attempted until after another Sanitary District Act is passed by the State Legislature next January. There is a clause in the present act providing that the special election on the question must be held within 90 days of date of passage. More than 90 days have passed since tne Act became law, and some attorneys say no further referendum is now possible because of this 90 - day clause.

Early Solution Sought

The LaVale Civic Improvement Association expects to consider the problem further and members of the LaVale Fire Company are also expressing interest in an early solution.

Residents reported last night that complaints to the LaVale Water Company about shortages of water are useless and sometimes result in "discourteous" answers and verbal mistreatment.

This was all a repetition of the situation last summer and in previous summers. People are hauling water in bottles and other containers from Cumberland. Several men wait until they reach their offices in Cumberland to shave each morning. Women report insufficient water for ordinary cooking and none at all for scrubbing, laundry, bathing, etc.

Many new homes have been constructed in LaVale, and it was reported here by contractors that most of these are installing their own water systems and having wells drilled under the houses. Neighbors tapped on to the private water company's lines who are without water, are, in many instances, borrowing from neighbors with pumps and wells.

Housewives say the water is shut off without warning. Water will be running steadily and with good pressure, and suddenly it stops, one woman explained. She said water in her home was shut off yesterday morning at 8:30 and remained off all day.

Celanese-Union Will Meet Today

Contract negotiations between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America are scheduled to resume this morning at 10 o'clock at the Celanese.

James A. Holden, federal conciliator who arranged the meeting, was scheduled to arrive here late last night.

Top officers of the local and representatives from the Negotiating committee will leave here tonight to attend a meeting of the TWUA's Rayon Advisory Council to be held Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Park Central Hotel, New York.

Representing Local 1874 will be Playford Aldridge, president, and John G. Thomas, business manager, with additional representatives of the negotiating committee to be chosen by that group.

The local, at meetings held last Friday and Saturday, authorized the committee to continue talks here until the outcome of that conference is made known.

Cape Cod Sloop Wins Deep Creek Race

The Deep Creek Yacht Club featured race of the day on Monday at the Garrett County lake was won by Harold H. Muma's Cape Cod sloop sailed by his two sons, Robert and Harold, Jr.

The winning margin of the race was only eight seconds, with the winner closely followed by Commodore Richard Holben's snipe and Henry K. Duke's Cape Cod.

John F. Schaidt's "Penguin," handled by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hutson, Jr., practically stole the show, with the little catboat piling up a commanding lead over the larger boats during the first lap around the course.

Qualifying runs Saturday were taken by the David T. Davis snipe sailed by the owner and Mrs. Donald Grove and Commodore Richard Holben's snipe sailed by the owner and James O'Connell.

Races were run for the first time since before World War II. Harold H. Muma, chairman of the racing committee was assisted by Robert Knipe, timer and John F. Schaidt, starter. Races are being planned every weekend during the season.

Local Man Charged With Watch Larceny

Raymond G. Everett, 18, Christie Road, is being held in city jail after being apprehended Monday night by Detective Thomas J. See and Officer John Snyder.

Everett is charged with larceny of a watch from the Brunswick Hotel, where he had taken a room for the night.

"Learn To Swim" Class To Commence Today

Miss Ann Nagle, a qualified physical education instructor, will begin a "Learn to Swim" program at the Constitution Park pool this morning at 10 o'clock.

The classes are being sponsored by the Cumberland Red Cross Chapter in co-operation with the City of Cumberland.

"Y" Day Camp Opens

Only two girls are among the 23 youngsters enrolled for the annual day camp program of Central YMCA, which got underway yesterday, according to Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary.

The program is being held Tuesday through Friday of each week until the camp closes July 30. Clifton Van Roby is director. Counselors are George Leyh and James Alderton. Those attending the day camp range in age from nine to 13.

Two Men Jailed

Howard Iser, Short Gap, W. Va., and Louis Donius, Wineow Street, pleaded guilty in Trial Magistrates Court Friday to the theft of 52 tie plates from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Iser was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and Donius to three months.

Local Briefs

Local 307, Electrical Workers Union, AFL, will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. in Allegany Trades Council Hall.

Collier Child Still Missing Near Somerset

Weary searchers continued combing the Somerset County area last night in search for 23-month-old Donald Collier, who has been missing from his parents' summer cottage since last Friday.

A fresh footprint early yesterday spurred the party, but it was later identified as that of a small deer.

Over 500 volunteers, including police, with bloodhounds, searchlights and planes have covered the area, but have come on no traces of the child.

Fear that the child may have been kidnaped have been largely dispelled by police, who point out that the Colliers are not wealthy and do not seem to have any enemies.

Except for short rest periods, the entire party, which gains a few new members daily, has worked unceasingly since Friday, with hopes that someone of the huge group would come upon something that may lead to finding the youngster.

Mayor Opposes Tax Exemption

Mayor Thomas S. Post declared yesterday every industry in Cumberland should be compelled to pay taxes or all industries should be exempted from taxes.

He made the statement in casting the sole negative vote of the Mayor and Council on a request of the National Jet Company for exemption of its taxes this year.

"The only time I'll favor tax exemption," the mayor said, "is when a new industry is coming in."

However, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan declared if city officials refuse to exempt taxes of legitimate industries already here, the city will lose industries instead of gaining new ones.

Later, Commissioner Keegan accused Mayor Post of appearing before Mayor and Council several years ago to argue for exemption of taxes for the Taylor Company, which was in business here until 1937. Mayor Post was not a city official at the time. Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds supported the statement by Commissioner Keegan.

This is the second year in succession council has granted an exemption of taxes to the National Jet Company. Last year, John M. Robb, local attorney, applied for a 10-year exemption. This was refused, but an exemption for last year was granted. The request this year also was for a 10-year exemption.

Commissioner Keegan said the taxes this year total approximately $369.

Elks Will Hold Lodge Of Sorrow

A lodge of sorrow in memory of the late Henry J. Conway and Samuel E. Griminger will be held at the Elks Home tonight at 8 o'clock by Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks.

Eulogies will be delivered by Frank A. Wolfhope and Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr.

The meeting will mark the beginning of the summer schedule of the Elks lodge, which will hold only one session a month in July and August. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, August 4.

Optimists To Hear Smoke Engineer

George Hitchcock, smoke abatement engineer for the City of Cumberland, will be guest speaker tonight at the Cumberland Optimist Club meeting in Central YMCA at 6:15 o'clock.

The Opti-Mrs. has announced plans for a picnic supper for the men Saturday at Klinger's Cottage. The club will assemble at Nicholson's service station, Mapleside, at 6:45 p. m. The annual club picnic and family outing is planned for July 21, according to Robert S. Arrington, president.

Jenkins Will Head Mountain Radio Club

L. R. Jenkins, 708 Louisiana Avenue, has been elected president of the Mountain Radio Club, Cumberland.

Permit Sought To Build Home

William R. King, 450 Columbia Street, filed an appeal yesterday with the Board of Zoning Appeals for an occupancy permit to use Lot 12, Holland Street, as the site for a residence he plans to construct.

His application was denied by City Engineer Ralph R. Rizer because only five feet and seven feet four inches, respectively, will be allowed for side yards, whereas the building code requires at least 10 feet.

King said the one and one-half story concrete block structure would have a roof of asphalt or asbestos shingles.

A permit was granted to Philip Kester, 900 Oldtown Road, to build a one-story concrete block house on part of Lot 1, Block 27 on Ridgewood Avenue, facing Brookfield Avenue.

The structure, which will measure 40 by 28 feet, will have a composition shingle roof. Work is estimated to cost $4,000.

B. J. Sunderlin, 1 Mary Street, secured a permit to build a two-car garage and accessory building at the rear of 5-7 Mary Street, at a cost of $500.

The one-story structure, 30 by 24 feet, will be of concrete block construction with a ruberoid roof. Work will be done by H. P. Hinkle, Wiley Ford, W. Va.

Roy Owens, 426 Central Avenue, obtained a permit to build an open rear porch at his home and to replace a rear window with a door. The porch will measure 24 by 6 feet, with a foundation of concrete block posts, frame walls and a rubberoid roof. Cost is estimated at $75.

Presidential Special Stops In Keyser

A crowd of from 200 to 300 spectators gathered at the Baltimore and Ohio station in Keyser, W. Va., early last night as the special train carrying President Truman and his party back to Washington from Bolivar, Mo., stopped for a few minutes to change crews.

The train, which was about 20 minutes behind schedule, arrived in Keyser at 6:30 p. m. President Truman appeared on the rear platform and waved to the spectators.

He was returning from dedication exercises held Monday of a statue to Simon Bolivar, South American liberator, for whom the small Missouri town was named.

Observers noted that Mr. Truman "had a good sun tan."

George Wallace Hurt When Jeep Overturns

George Wallace, 40, Narrows Park, escaped serious injury early last night when the Jeep he was driving overturned near Klosterman's Addition, Memorial Hospital attaches report.

Wallace was treated for rib injuries, lacerations and abrasions and released from the hospital.

Lightning Strikes Smith Residence

South End Fire Company was called to the W. L. Smith residence, 870 Maryland Avenue, yesterday afternoon after a bolt of lightning struck the light circuit.

Firemen said the circuit and fuse box were destroyed, with no other damage reported.

Officials Reach Agreement On Flood Protection

Formal Commitments To Be Exchanged

Plans for a detailed working agreement for co-operation between Cumberland and Ridgeley as the flash flood control progresses were discussed yesterday at a conference of officials of both communities, held in the office of Mayor Thomas S. Post.

A tentative agreement was reached whereby substantially the same flood protection will be afforded citizens of both communities while the work is in progress.

Formal commitments will be exchanged in the near future by Cumberland and Ridgeley officials.

D. V. C. Birrell, chief of the flood control and power branch of the Washington district office, Corps of Engineers, attended the conference.

Cumberland officials present, besides Mayor Post, were Commissioners Edgar Reynolds, William J. Edwards, William V. Keegan and William H. Buchholtz; City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer.

Ridgeley was represented by Mayor Frank Magruder; Recorder Robert Zimmerman and Councilman Homer Borror; and by members of the Ridgeley Flood Control Committee, including J. H. Simmons, chairman; former Mayors Paul Morgan and Odbert Poling, and George Edenhart, a former councilman.

The Senate and House have both approved $500,000 for initial work on the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project, as well as $500,000 for the Savage River Dam project.

Last November, city officials of Cumberland authorized a $700,000 bond issue as the city's share in the project. The county authorized a bond issue for $1,000,000 at the same time.

VFW Hears Reports On State Conclave

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars membership heard reports on the annual encampment held at Hagerstown last month, at their regular meeting last night. Reports were made by Lester Mull, chairman of the post's deelgation, Thomas K. Whalley and Roy F. Everstine.

Mull presided at last night's session in the absence of James Kloran, post commander, who is vacationing in Canada.

Plans were outlined for the post's annual picnic to be held Sunday at Smouse's beach. Buses will leave the post home at 11 a. m., 12 noon and 1 p. m. The post and auxiliary picnic committees will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 at the post home to complete arrangements.

Announcement was made that the post drum and bugle corps was judged for first place in the Oakland Fourth of July parade, and has accepted invitations to appear at Johnstown, Pa., and Barton for parades.

Mull appointed Kloran to represent the post on the city's Industrial Promotion Committee.

Mines Resume Work As Holiday Ends

Railroad officials, coal operators and union spokesmen said last night that practically all deep mines in the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac Coal Regions resumed work yesterday after the miner's annual holiday, and production is nearing normal.

Contracts have been signed by all operators in this district, it was reported, and men returned to work as usual.

Only strip mines were reported idle, but this was attributed largely to the extreme wet weather, making it next to impossible for trucks and other equipment to move in the mud.

Railroad officials here said they expect the movement of coal to be back to normal by tomorrow.

Chairman Gets Quick Results

Monday morning it was announced that William J. Gunter, Cumberland attorney, had been named chairman of the special events committee of the Junior Association of Commerce.

The first special event happened yesterday afternoon at Memorial Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Gunter became the parents of a nine-pound son. They reside in LaVale.

Solicitions Group Will Meet Today

A general discussion of the problems of solicitation control in this city will be held at a meeting of the recently selected solicitations control committee of the Mercantile Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce planned today at 10 a. m. in the C. of C. offices.

The committee includes Irving Rosenbaum, chairman, Mrs. Cara Ebert and Milton Bernstein.

Body Of Man Found In New York May Be That Of Former Resident

A man who may be James Arthur Welsh, 45, a former Cumberland resident, died suddenly at a busy street intersection in New York on June 30, the LaVale barracks of the State Police reported yesterday.

A teletype report from New York authorities advised that a man had been found on the street with two Social Security cards in his possession, one bearing the name of James Arthur Welsh and the other that of James O'Hara.

Welsh's death was prematurely announced on April 29, when local relatives were notified that he had died in a New York Hospital. When the undertaker went to prepare the body for the journey to Cumberland, he found the supposedly dead man sitting up in bed writing a letter home. It was a case of "mistaken identity." The funeral arrangements had been made and a grave already dug in a local cemetery.

Mrs. Carl Hammersmith, 624 Columbia Avenue, sister of Welsh, was notified yesterday afternoon by city police of the teletype message.

Last night when contacted, Mrs. Hammersmith said the body had not been identified by relatives, but someone would probably go to New York for the positive identification.

A post card written by Welsh from New York on June 29, revealed that he was being taken from St. Joseph's Hospital to Bellevue Hospital. The body is in the morgue at the Bellevue institution.

Officials Ponder Habit Of Old People In Hiding Their Savings

Recent Deaths Reveal Large Cash Hoards

While banking institutions in this county continue to show steady gains in banking deposits and bank clearings in their periodical financial statements, there seems to be considerable money which never gets to the bank.

In recent months, persons who have died in this county have left large sums of money about the premises of their homes or places of business. Observers express the opinion that these people remember bank failures of a decade ago, and do not understand that all bank deposits up to $5,000 are now insured against loss by Uncle Sam.

But whatever the reason, old people who die often leave sums of money behind them. Probably many more cases than actually come to light occur, and some officials here believe that the practice of hoarding large sums of cash is hazardous for many reasons.

Kept Money In Desk

After the death of Robert Jackson, former clerk of court of Allegany County, it was discovered that he left more than $10,000 in accumulated personal savings in his desk and a small cabinet safe at the Court House. The money was found wrapped neatly in three bundles and identified as Jackson's personal savings. After Jackson died suddenly, clerks at the Court House discovered the money, much of which had been carefully accumulated over a long period of time.

Jackson, a native of Lonaconing, was generally known for his thrift, and it was also reliably reported that a large sum of money was found in his hotel room after his death. His estate has not yet been settled.

Money In Coffee Tin

The register of wills office shows the settlement of an estate of another Lonaconing resident, John Newton Morgan, a blacksmith who lived on Scotch Hill. Morgan died last November 21 and a brother, Charles K. Morgan, was named administrator of the estate.

John Newton Morgan was also known as a thrifty man and one who saved his money. Relatives said last night he had lost heavily when Lonaconing banks had financial reverses a number of years ago and did not believe in keeping all his money in banks.

After his death, relatives found a large sum of money in a coffee tin in his house. The amount has been variously reported as between $4,000 and $5,000.

Court records show that Morgan left an estate of $9,907.40 in cash. This included $4,840 deposited in checking account in a local bank, and court attaches said they believed this was the sum found in Morgan's house after his death. The account also shows he had a savings account in the same local bank of $1,211.36 and another deposit of $3,655.70 in a county bank. His estate received $200.34 as Social Security death benefits.

New Industrial Committee Plans Meeting Friday

26 Representatives Invited To Serve

Letters have been sent to 23 business, industrial, veterans and labor representatives, inviting them to serve on the new "Industrial Promotion Committee," Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz announced yesterday.

In addition, three local veterans' groups have been asked to appoint one member each to serve on the committee.

Buchholtz was instrumental in having a fund of $3,500 set up in the current city budget for use in encouraging new industries to locate in Cumberland.

He announced that the first meeting of the committee is scheduled for Friday at 8 p. m. in City Hall auditorium.

The fund will be used for such purposes as publicity and travel expenses in the event out-of-town firms wish to send representatives here to survey Cumberland as a possible location for their industries.

"I believe we all realize the growing need for such a project and I am sure we understand that it will be necessary to have the wholehearted co-operation of all people concerned in order for us to make headway in this respect," Buchholtz said.

Veterans' groups invited to name representatives are J. Louis Wolford Post No. 1, Amvets; Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion; and Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Others invited to serve, some of whom have already accepted, are:

Edgar D. Vandegrift of the John I. Vandegrift Contracting Company; Owen E. Hitchins, president of the Tri-State Mine and Mill Supply Company; Henry W. Price, district manager of the Potomac Edison Company.

Carl C. Robbins, manager of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company; Howard M. Smith, manager of the Cumberland office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company; Frank A. Martin, president of Martin's, Inc.; F. Patrick Allender, business agent of Carpenters Local No. 1024.

Playford Aldridge, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America; C. N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the Allegany County Board of County Commissioners; James Alfred Avirett, local attorney and chairman of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

John H. Mosner, vice president of the Second National Bank; George L. Buchanan, vice president and general manager of the Buchanan Lumber Company; David Moreland, assistant purchasing agent for the George F. Hazelwood Company.

George M. Hitchcock, city smoke abatement engineer and superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company; City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer; C. E. Gehr, division freight agent for the Western Maryland Railway Company; William Claus, general manager of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

G. M. Gemmill, division freight agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company; Earl Chaney of the Chaney Transportation Company; James B. Reinhart, president of the Cumberland Real Estate Board.

Patrick J. Carroll, manager of the local office of the Maryland State Employment Service; Maurice Milberg, secretary-treasurer of the Cumberland Undergarment Company; and Thomas E. Gilchrist, Sr., president of the Wilson Hardware Company.

Pollution Control Group To Meet Here August 13

The state water pollution control commission will hold its August meeting in Cumberland, Paul W. McKee, executive secretary, notified Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday.

McKee said the meeting is scheduled for Friday, August 13, and inquired whether the council chamber would be available for the meeting.

The mayor said he plans to suggest, however, that the meeting be held in his office, since only 10 or 12 persons are expected to attend.

Joseph H. McLain is chairman of the committee. McKee's letter did not state what the topic of discussion would be.

Funeral Service Is Planned For Pfc. James Cuff

Cresaptown Soldier To Be Reburied

The body of Pfc. James Patrick Cuff, 30, Cresaptown, who lost his life in France September 16, 1944, will arrive here early this afternoon and will be taken to the Stein Funeral Home.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Ambrose Catholic Church and reburial will be in the church cemetery.

Pfc. Cuff was a son of Patrick H. and Mrs. Delphia M. Luzader Cuff, Winchester Road, Cresaptown.

Pfc. James Cuff

He was employed at the Celanese plant before he entered service April 16, 1941 and was shipped overseas in October, 1942.

Pfc. Cuff was twice wounded in France before he was killed in action while serving with Company I, 175th Infantry, 29th Division. He was buried in St. James Cemetery, France.

He was born August 21, 1917, in Benbush, W. Va.

Also surviving are two brothers, Paul E. and Martin D. Cuff, both of Cresaptown, and two sisters, Mrs. Dale Broadwater, Cresaptown, and Mrs. Eugene Bergman, Wilmont Avenue here.

84 Receive YMCA Swimming Awards

Eighty-four of the 165 boys and girls between the ages of nine and 12 who enrolled in the annual "learn to swim" program at Central YMCA received certificates last night from Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary.

The certificates signified that the 84 had passed the YMCA "advanced beginners" swimming test. Of the 84, 44 swam 60 feet free style, and all demonstrated diving off the board at the YMCA pool, where the closing exercises were held.

Adam said 228 persons attended the "parents' night" event, which opened with a demonstration of teaching methods by the three instructors in charge of the course, James E. Kelley, Jr., W. Elmo Chanell and William P. Linn.

After swimming and diving exhibitions by the youngsters and presentation of the certificates, an entertainment program of swimming, lobby games and movies was held for the parents and children.

Park Pool Use Shows Increase

Daily average attendance at the Constitution Park swimming pool last month showed an increase over the average in June of last year, according to a report from A. H. Gehauf, pool manager.

The average last month was 348 persons daily, while in June of 1947 the daily average attendance was 289.

Both the Celanese and Constitution Park pools had overflow crowds on Sunday and Monday, with more than 4,000 persons using the facilities.

Two-day attendance at the Celanese pool totaled 2,190, with 1,922 at Constitution Park. Hundreds of others used the Minke pool on Christie Road.

Kelly Contract Talks Slated To Resume Monday

Union "Astonished" At Vacation Stand

Contract negotiations between Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO, and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company will be resumed Monday at the Kelly plant.

A. E. Johnson, union president, who announced the meeting, said the URCLPWA has been informed of the issues in dispute when negotiations became deadlocked last Friday.

The company on Friday withdrew an 11 cent increase offer made early last week after the union negotiators declined a company offer of a vacation plan providing a maximum of two weeks vacation.

The company listed issues in dispute as hours of work and overtime, wage differentials and wage levels and vacation pay.

Johnson yesterday said he "was astonished" at the company's stand on the vacation period since the firm, in previous years, has recognized employes' service prior to August, 1935, when the present Kelly firm was organized, for vacations and seniority.

Full recognition of service since the plant began here has been recognized for all purposes with one exception, that of severance pay in the 1947 contract, he added.

The company refused to grant a third week of vacation after 15 years of service on the grounds that the present firm has not been in existence that long.

The union said the firm offered the 11 cent increase granted at Goodyear plants but refused to give other concessions involving money which are as much a part of the pattern as the flat wage boost.

Johnson said Local 26 expects help from the URCLPWA on the issues in dispute here.

The union Saturday authorized the negotiating committee and executive board to terminate the contract unless a satisfactory agreement is reached in a reasonable time, Johnson said.

Frederick Jaycees Offer Conservation Prize

FREDERICK, Md., July 6. (AP)— The Frederick Junior Chamber of Commerce today offered $100 worth of prizes for the best soil conservation essays written by Maryland junior high and high school pupils.

The contest is in connection with Maryland Conservation Field Day on August 18. That's the day some 500 volunteer workers will do four or five years of conservation work on Mrs. Nellie V. Thrasher's farm in just one day.

William R. Sell, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee, said the contest is open to all pupils in the seventh through twelfth grades, including those who graduated from high school this spring.

The 10 prizes start at a $50 security bond and go down to $5 in United States saving stamps. The essays are to be not longer than 500 words on "What the Conservation of Natural Resources Means to Me" and they must be mailed to Frederick by July 25.

Two Accidents Reported On Penna. Turnpike

A Los Angeles, Cal., motorist fell asleep on the Pennsylvania Turnpike yesterday and collided with a truck operated by Lloyd Shull, Akron, Ohio.

The driver, who was not injured, was identified as James Carson, 27. Damage to the Carson car was estimated at $500, while the Shull truck was damaged to the extent of approximately $200.

In another accident reported earlier, State Police said Paul Zofchak, Morrisville, Pa., lost control of his car and ran against an enbankment. Damage was estimated at $600.

The Carson mishap occurred in Cumberland County, while the Zofchak accident happened near Somerset.

Jaycees Entertain Two Guests Tonight

Miss Juanita Lookabaugh, "Miss Cumberland," and Lowell Coats, city marbles champion, will be guests of honor at the dinner meeting of the Junior Association of Commerce at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

C. S. Catherman, Jr., president, said last night, reports will be given on the Miss Cumberland pageant, the Air Show and other recent activities of the organization.

Police Apprehend Soldier For Army

Vincent J. Fazzalore, Company B, Third Infantry Regiment, Fort Myer, Va., is being held in the City Jail after being picked up here yesterday by city police.

Military police from the camp are expected today to return him to the base.
